Ottawa, Canada.

My dear Mr. King:

I have finally succeeded in getting a copy of your recent book. I am spending a good deal of time with it, for it is a book that is worthy of study. I want to say that I am enjoying it immensely and want to congratulate you upon the very fair way in which you have dealt with the whole subject.

Splendid results must inevitably follow the circulation of such a book as this.

Very sincerely yours,

Social Service Director.
