Kruger Has Been Blowing in the Boer Millions While His Compatriots Perished on the Veldt.

The Hague, Sept. 24.—The Associated Press representative here learns that the announcement made in the Soir that Mr. Kruger had decided to send a special mission to President Roosevelt is not correct. The expense incurred since President Kruger came to Europe has reached the Transvaal fund considerably. In fact some of the Boers are destitute, and all of them agree that Mr. Kruger has scarcely enough for himself. The fact that before the week was out the Transvaal White will be instructed to approach the United States Government.

Theatrical

It is to be hoped that patrons of the Grand will not mistake the quality of the attraction announced for next Saturday evening, the 28th inst. Two years ago Mr. Reeves-Smith came to America for a very brief tour, and among other cities visited Toronto, where his performance was seen at the Grand Opera House.

He came to Toronto entirely unknown, and for the first two nights of the week played to very poor houses. The newspapers, however, commended the performance so highly that before the week was out the capacity of the theatre was taxed at every performance.

Last week Mr. Reeves-Smith played at the Princess theatre, the high priced theatre in Toronto, one of the best engagements that theatre has ever known, and the papers have been unanimous in the statement that he is one of the very best comedians ever presented in that city.

Last season Mr. Reeves-Smith was leading man with Miss Ethel Barrymore in the great New York success, "Captain Jenks of the Horse Marines," and in this play, which ran the entire season through in New York city, he is credited even by the author himself, Clyde Fitch, with having "saved the piece."
Mr. Reeves-Smith resembles very much both in appearance and methods Mr. John Hare, the great English actor, and it will be many a long day before Chathamites will have an opportunity again of seeing such a splendid comedy presented by strictly first class company.

It speaks volumes for Chatham as a theatre-going town that Mr. Reeves-Smith has cancelled nearly all the other Canada one night stands and will play Chatham as originally contracted.

ENGLISH DESIGNER WATSON GOT BETTER OF HERRESHOFF

Shamrock Will Allow Columbia Only Forty-three Seconds—Lipton Delighted—Ready for To-morrow's Race.

New York, Sept. 24.—The official measurements of the cup challenger Shamrock II. and the cup defender Columbia were made public to-night at the N. Y. Y. C. The result was in the nature of a surprise for it showed that the Shamrock, which is the larger boat, so far as sail area and displacement are concerned, allows only 43 seconds to the Columbia over the 30-mile course on which the contest for the America's cup are to be sailed.

The Shamrock has a shorter water line length. She has a longer spinnaker boom, a longer gaff, a longer topmast and carries more canvas. Mr. Watson, the designer of the Shamrock II., by keeping down the load water line length of his yacht has got the better of his rival, Mr. Herreshoff. The sail area of the Shamrock is larger and by judicious handling of its spars Mr. Watson is only penalized 43 seconds.

The measurements follow:

Length of topmast, 64.64 feet, minus one-fifth, 51.71 feet.
Upper side of main boom to the topsail halyard block, 134.74.
Square foot of the sail area, 114.94 square feet.
Sailing length as per rule, 102.555 feet.

SHAMROCK II.
Length of load water line, 89.25 feet.
Length from after end of the main boom to the end of the point of measurement or the end of the bowsprit where the jib topsail halyard block is fastened, 184.03 feet.
The fore side of mast to the end of point of measurement or end of bowsprit as above, 78.28 feet.
Length of spinnaker boom, 78.28 feet.
Length of main gaff, 66.17 feet.
Length of topmast, 68.13 feet, minus one-fifth, 54.54 feet.
Upper side of main boom to the topsail halyard block, 143.39 feet.
Square foot of sail area, 118.33 square feet.
Sailing length as per rule, 103.79 feet.

Both boats were measured with 52 men on board.

The difference in the sailing length of the two boats is 1.435.

When the approximate results of the measurement of the Columbia and Shamrock II. were told to Sir Thomas Lipton in the Erie basin he could scarcely conceal his joy.

"We thought," he said, "that the Shamrock would have to concede far more time. All hands now believe that our chances are getting better all the time for lifting that cup."

COLUMBIA.
Length of load water line, 89.77 feet.
Length from the after end of the main boom to the end of the point of measurement or the end of the bowsprit where the jib topsail halyard block is fastened, 182.87 feet.
The fore side of the mast to the end of point of measurement or end of bowsprit as above, 73.85 feet.
Length of spinnaker boom, 73.30 feet.
Length of main gaff, 64.94 feet.

ASSASSIN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF M'KINLEY

Sentence Will be Passed Upon Him To-morrow Afternoon—There was no Attempt at Defense.

Buffalo, N. Y., September 24.—Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Neiman, was found guilty to-day of murder in the first degree by a jury in part 3 of the Supreme Court, in having the sixth day of September shot President William McKinley, the wounds inflicted afterwards resulting in the death of the President.

The wheels of justice moved swiftly. The trial of the assassin consumed eight hours and 26 minutes and covered a period of only two days. Practically all of this time was occupied by the prosecution in presenting a case so clear, so conclusive that even had the prisoner entered the plea of insanity it is doubtful if the jury would have returned a verdict different from the one rendered to-day. The announcement made this afternoon by the attorneys for Czolgosz that the eminent alienists summoned by the Erie county bar association and by the district attorney to examine Czolgosz and to determine his exact mental condition had declared him to be perfectly sane, destroyed the only stage of a defense that Judges Lewis and Titus could have put together.

Before adjournment Justice White announced he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The prisoner was taken through the tunnel under Delaware avenue, back to the jail. To all appearances he was in no way affected by the result of the trial.

The crowd gathered at city hall to-day was the largest which has been seen since his arraignment. People were lined up on both sides of the big rotunda on the second floor where court convened, and fringed the stairs leading from the floor above. There was no demonstration except that of curiosity. A large number of women witnessed to-day's proceedings.

At 2:44 this afternoon District Attorney Penney abruptly announced that the case of the prosecution was ended. Judge Lewis arose slowly and addressing the court said the sudden close of the case against Czolgosz was a surprise to him and his colleagues. They had no witness to call for the defense. He asked the court that he be allowed to address the jury at once. The court consented and the jurist began an address that will long be remembered by those who heard it.

Others took seats to the left and right and many "plain clothes" men were seen mingling among the crowd surging about the room closely watching everyone whose face was not a familiar one to them.

There was no disposition to crowd about the prisoner, although the one object seemed to get in a position to have a full view of his face. Czolgosz had been seated in his chair all afternoon, his hands clasped on the arms of the chair and his head bent forward and a little to the left. The room was not warm, but he frequently took his handkerchief from his pocket and mopped the perspiration from his forehead and cheeks. At no time during the absence of the jury did he raise his eyes or lift his head or seem to know that he was the object of interest of several hundred men and women.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.
Every time the door was opened all eyes were turned in that direction, the evident thought in every mind being that the jury would take only a few minutes to agree on a verdict.

It was 4:25 when the gavel rapped for order and the jury filed into the room. The clerk read their names, each juror responding "present" as his name was called.

No time was wasted. The jurors did not sit down. Addressing them Justice White said:

"Gentlemen, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have," responded Foreman Wendt.

"What is your verdict?"

"That the defendant is guilty of murder in the first degree."

There was a moment of silence and then a murmur arose from the lips of the crowd. It ended there. There was no handclapping; no cheers. Justice White's voice could be clearly heard in every part of the room when he thanked the jurors for their work and allowed them to go until 11 o'clock to-morrow.

Court was at once adjourned.

Czolgosz was immediately handcuffed to his guards and hurried from the court room down stairs to the basement and through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to the jail. He appeared to be in no way affected by the result of the trial.
