

A Sinking, Hollow, "All-Gone" Sensation at the Pit of the Stomach.

"THAT IS DYSPEPSIA"

A remedy which has rarely failed to give prompt relief and effect permanent cures even in the most obstinate cases, is

BURDOCK

BLOOD BITTERS

It acts by regulating and toning the digestive organs, removing costiveness, and increasing the appetite, and restoring health and vigor to the system.

Mrs. Alice Steeves, Springfield, N.S., writes:—"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and find that few medicines can give such relief in Stomach Troubles and Dyspepsia. I was troubled for years with Dyspepsia and could get no relief until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles and became cured, and now I can eat anything without it hurting me. I will recommend it to all having Stomach Trouble."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

CALVES COUGHING—CEMENT FLOOR.

I bought two Holstein heifer calves in April, and when they arrived one had a cough and the other has taken it since they arrived. As you will see, I have had them for about two months, and they seem to remain the same; it is a dry cough; do not seem to raise anything, but discharge at the nose, yet they are growing well, have good appetites and are very lively. Can you tell what ails them? And what would you recommend?

5. I am thinking of putting down a cement floor in my cow stable. Do you consider it is harder on the cattle standing on a cement floor than on a hardwood floor, and would you think there would be any danger of them going bad on their legs if not kept well bedded?

3. How many hundred of cement would you think it would take for the floor, which is 14 x 41 feet? And would you give me full directions about putting floors down, and length of cow stand?

W. B.
Ans.—1. It is difficult to determine the cause of the cough in this case, or to suggest a remedy. As the calves are evidently thriving, they may outgrow the trouble if given clean and comfortable quarters, a well-bedded darkened shed to lie in on hot days for protection from sun and flies, and liberty to run out on grass in the evening. A little boiled flaxseed, given in their milk, should be helpful for the cough.

2. While there is a degree of tendency for the animals' legs to suffer if the cement floor is not kept fairly well bedded, this need not, and should not, deter anyone from laying a cement floor, although it is an argument for laying plank over the cement on the platform where the cattle stand.

3. We would refer you to article on "Cement Concrete in Building: Its Nature and Uses," in "The Farmer's Advocate" of March 19th, 1908. Allow for about 8 barrels of Portland cement. The platform on which the cows stand should be gauged according to the size of the cows. For the smaller breeds, 4 feet at one end, graded to 4 feet 6 or 8 inches at the other, will be about right; for larger stock, 4 feet 4 inches to 4 feet 10 inches or 5 feet will be about right. In any case the platform should be longer at one end than at the other to allow for different-sized cows.

GOSSIP.

Messrs. John Dryden & Son, Brooklyn, Ont., make a change in their advertisement in this issue, in which they offer for sale high-class Shropshire sheep, of which they write: "The rams are not many, but good, and should be desirable flock-heads. The ewes are well enough bred and good enough individually for any one to buy. We would like to have intending purchasers see them, but if they cannot, we shall be glad to furnish price and description by mail."

FAMILY JARS.

She was a widow with three children and married a widower with four, and three more blessed the union. One day she rushed into the house from the big lawn where all the children were playing (?), shouting, "Brown, come out here, quick. Your children and my children are just giving the mischief to our children!"

Senator Tillman at a banquet in Washington said, in a humorous defence of outspoken and frank methods:

"These people who always keep calm fill me with distrust. Those that never lose their temper I suspect. He who wears under abuse an angelic smile is apt to be a hypocrite."

"An old South Carolina deacon once said to me with a chuckle:

"'Keep yo' tempah, son. Don't yo' quarrel with no angry pusson. A soft ansawah am alus best. Hit's command-ed an', furthermo', hit makes 'em mad-dah'n anything else yo' could say.'"
