SHYSTER LEGISLATION

Frequently items illustrative of the complete subjection of the German people to the Kaiser's government, appear in the public press, the intent of which is to show that autocracy is the negation of the principles of liberty and justice. Presumably these items are circulated by Lord Beaverbrook's propaganda department with a view t convincing us all how necessary it is to make the world safe for democ-

Yet if one reads the newspapers of Ontario carefully one finds almost daily, items which any German propagandist could use to thrust the boot on the other foot. It is becoming more and more clear that the stat-utes under which prohibition was question of temperance or total our Sister teachers.

abstinence is not the issue. The undersigned is in receipt of a main fact is that in order that one letter from a High School teacher main fact is that in order that one class of thinkers might impose their will on another class, every legal check against injustice, oppression and blackmail has been abandoned; the laws of evidence which were supposed to be one of the glories of British jurisprudence have been cast to the winds; the theory that a man is innocent until proven guilty has been cancelled and the principle that a man is guilty until proven innocent substituted therefor. Of the manifold interferences with the innocent exercise of personal liberty which the legislation involves we say nothing. The main tragic fact is that by these justice has been debauched and vio-lated in the name of Religion and Reform. The man who commits even a technical breach of the liquor Perhaps the gravest perversion of Every day throughout this province cases vinced of the absolute innocence of someone who has come under the many fantastic ramifications of the law; but is compelled to convict against his will. Thus, so far as the liquor law is concerned, a magis-trate's court is merely a cash regis-ter for the collection of exorbitant fines; or a trap door through which finement against the presiding dignitary's own will.

A case in point occurred in the York County Magistrate's Court the other day. The premises of a stan-dard hotel keeper at Scarborough were visited by the license inspector as is customary. It was found that he was keeping the law to the letter: but in his private refrigerator was found a bottle of dandelion wine which it was proven had been pre-sented to his wife by a neighboring market gardener. Nobody who had had anything to do with the dandelion wine was aware that it contained an undue percentage of alco-hol. Yet the hotel keeper was haled before the court, and the magistrate. though satisfied that no overt breach of the law had been committed was compelled to fine the victim $200 and costs. To be frank, the Ontario Liquor

Act, in its present form, is shyster reward of the Just. legislation of the lowest order; filled in every section with the kind of traps that shyster lawyers delight in, that they may bleed the pocket books of the unwary. Most of the advo-cates of prohibition rejoice in this very fact; but surely it lies within the power of a country which calls itself enlightened, to frame a reason-able and efficient liquor law which shall not distance the worst efforts of Prussian law makers; and which shall not smell of the shyster in clause.-Toronto Saturday
