One Man's Experience

The Carnefac Stock Food Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sirs—I have been using your Stock Food this year on my cattle, and must say I have never had as heavy calves. Previous to this I have had them go about 100 pounds per month, but this year they have gone considerably more, which I do not think I could have done without the use of Carnefac, as I have found it an excellent tonic and appetiser, also particularly useful in helping to digest their food, and always keeps their stomach in good condition and prevents scouring. This testimony I give gratis in order to induce other stockmen and farmers to find the benefit in using Carnefac.—I remain yours truly, (Sgd.) Wm. R. Stewart, Willow Grove Stock Farm, breeder of high-class Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Write for booklet containing full instructions as regards Carnefac preparations, or better still, ask your dealer for it.

THE QUIET HOUR

THE SECRET OF POWER.

In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength.—Isa. xxx:15.

"Last night I fell asleep,
Hushed in a blessed trance of holy peace.
The storm was beating on my window-pane;
But not the wind, nor patter of the rain,
Could make my comfort cease,
Or from its child-like rest its spirit keep.
For, in the evening hour,
One stronger than the storm had talked with me.

His voice was low and gentle as the dove;
His words were sweeter than a mother's love;

And though I might not see
His face, I felt its loveliness and power.
To sleep I almost feared,
Lest I should wake and find it was a dream.

Should find my evening had been spent alone.

That no divine communion I had known
And that it did but seem
As though a Holy Presence was so near.
Now, in the solemn calm
Of early daybreak, I am very glad;
For I awake and find him still with me.
My evening hymn is morning melody;
I know that I have had
A cup of blessing which no time can harm.

I feel that it was He
Who walked upon the waters long ago,
And who their stormy billows holdeth still.

The words He spake to me He will fulfil;

And though the rivers flow,
They cannot wash my Rock from under me.

I will arise ere long;
My duties call me to their daily round;
The voices of my earthly home awake;
I long to meet them bravely for His sake.

I would that in the sound
Of my poor words might echo heavenly song.

I would my friends should see
In my glad eyes the beauty of His face:
Should learn that in his presence there is peace,

Strength, and contentment, that can never cease;

And that His guiding grace
Can lead to patience and humility.

How sweet, as the day wears,
Beneath the current of its eddying wave
To list the secret flowing of the stream
Of living waters, which have proved no dream;

To let its many cares
Float to a quiet haven, strong to save.
I should be glad to think
This precious calm might last my life to come;

But well my spirit knows it may not be.
Yet, though the frail bark toss upon the sea,
Drifting away from home,
A Hand shall hold it firmly, lest it sink.
And cast its anchor safely through the foam.

Yes! and this memory
Shall be a solace in that stormy hour;
A witness of the Father, very true;
A token of His presence, even now,
A word of power,

To keep me close to Him where'er I be.
I hear the robins' hymn;
And, standing at my window, I can see
The flush of sunlight over all around.

I do give thanks to God. In every sound,
In every lovely sight, He speaks to me.
He still is very near—
Evening and morning are alike to Him."

Why is it that for hundreds of years
"The Imitation of Christ" has exerted
a wonderful power of lifting weary souls
into a sanctuary of rest, above the rush and turmoil of everyday life? One might think that it would have no message
for this age of busy, bustling philanthropy;
for it is so evidently the work of a man whose world was a very narrow one,
being bound by the walls of a monastery.
How could such a writer know anything of the difficulties and temptations, the work and sorrows of those who try to hold fast to Christ in the midst of the hurry, worry and numberless distractions of modern life? I suppose the only explanation is that the spirit of
