

DRAW GLOOMY PICTURES OF TURKEY'S DOMESTIC OUTLOOK

Reform Movement May End With Military Dictation—Young Turks Lack Self-Sustaining Force—Balkan Irritation Revived

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The English correspondents at Constantinople continue to draw gloomy pictures of the domestic outlook in Turkey.

The correspondent of the Telegraph, while paying a tribute to what the Young Turks have already done, says that nevertheless a lack of self-sustaining force among the leaders constitutes a grave danger. The lack of discipline in the army, if not remedied, may transform it into a broken reed. The lack of cohesiveness among the nationalities within the empire may wreck the whole cause of reform unless efficacious measures are taken to cement their union.

Emancipation has not transformed the national character or supplied the revolutionary movement with the requisite constructive forces. The reactionary movement, although it cannot revive absolutism, may lead to a temporary military dictatorship.

Everything is in flux. Even Abdul Hamid's tenure of power is still liable to be suddenly and violently terminated. The moderation of the Young Turks is allowing him to remain on the throne in the hope of a section of the population which the continuous influx of embittered refugees renders all the more numerous and more influential.

The newspapers accuse the palace of arming the rabble, which is certainly well provided with revolvers, of giving refuge to notorious criminals, and of planning wholesale massacres. Dwelling upon the cabinet's decision to withdraw the 6,000 Albanian palace guards, the Telegraph correspondent says that in addition to bringing from Sainica troops loyal to the constitution the government is having its warships made ready. They will be stationed opposite the Bosphorus quarter, which leads to the Yıldız Kiosk, the Sultan's residence, and very shortly the Albanians may be ordered to leave. They are devoted body and soul to the Sultan and on their obedience or resistance of the government's order the vital interests of the Sultan and possibly a dictatorship depend.

The continual friction between Greeks and Turks over the election suggests that the legislature will not be opened on November 14 as arranged.

Some strong central visible authority is sorely needed and such authority does not exist. According to the Daily Mail's Constantinople correspondent, the reactionaries are encouraged by the difficulties confronting the new government, and continue to spread reactionary ideas, which the growing lawlessness and insecurity assist. People are nightly robbed on the streets. Prudent Europeans do not venture abroad unarm.

Even the newspapers whose existence depends upon the continuance of the new regime impatiently criticize the government. It is declared that the ministers know nothing and do nothing. A state of non-confidence and uncertainty exists in which anything may happen.

HUNDRED COTTAGES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Greater Portion of Summer Colony at Salisbury Beach Wiped Out
LOSS $100,000

SALISBURY, Mass., Oct. 27.—The greater portion of the thickly housed summer colony at Salisbury Beach was wiped out early today by a fire which destroyed more than 100 cottages, situated along the beach front, north of the mouth of the Merrimack River. Practically all of the houses had been abandoned for the season, and the damage was estimated to reach not more than $100,000.

After the flames had raged for three hours the combined fire fighting forces of Amesbury, Salisbury and Newburyport, together with the half-dozen life savers from the Salisbury Beach station, and a little band of volunteers, pulled down a number of cottages standing between the burning area and the larger hotels and dance halls and succeeded in confining the flames to the area already burned.

The fire started in the new cottage owned by Joseph State Treasurer F. B. Shaw. The cause is not known.

JEALOUS UNCLE FIRES ON COUPLE

Enters Bedroom of Husband and Wife and Opens Fire

BRUNSWICK, Me., Oct. 27.—Entering the bedroom of his niece and her husband, Mrs. Eunice Lachapelle, while they were asleep, tonight, Leonas Auletto, who lives in the same tenement, opened fire with a revolver. Mr. and Mrs. Lachapelle jumped out of bed at the first shot and by hiding behind furniture, escaped being hit. Lachapelle grappled with Auletto at the last shot, while his wife ran for the police. Three officers had a hard time to overcome the assailant. He will be given a hearing tomorrow, although it was not decided tonight upon what charge. Jealousy is said to be the cause of the attack.

Charles Clare, aged 70 years, died very suddenly at six o'clock this morning of heart failure. Monday he was apparently in his usual health, but during the afternoon, and that evening along with his wife and daughter took tea with Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery. He leaves one son, Charles of Campbellton, and two daughters.

Losing the fight for the control of her children, Mrs. Haines, whose husband is charged with the murder of William Annie, makes a statement, declaring that her husband and his brother compelled her to sign a statement she had not read.

AMERICAN THOROUGHBREDS ABROAD

MR. AND MRS. THURMAN D. DOWNEY BY SPECIALLY TRAINED HORSEMANSHIP. J. KEENE'S COLTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Pronounced by racing experts as by far the most valuable lot of horses which were ever sent abroad at one time, about sixty thoroughbreds, the property of James R. Keene, Harry Payne Whitney, August Belmont, Herman B. Duryea and Thomas Hildcock, Jr., were loaded on the Atlantic Transport line steamship Minnehaha, which sailed from this port.

Mr. Keene's lot numbered eight and included the unborn Colin, and the hardly less noted Ballot, together with the two-year-olds Esperanto, Wamba, Melisande, Wedding Rolls, Selectman and Suffragette. The last named pair will run in the Derby and Oaks, respectively, in Mr. Keene's name and interest. James R. Keene having transferred them to his employer after having raced them himself for the last few weeks.

Mr. Whitney's lot included sixteen yearlings and two-year-olds Bobbin, Persius, Hillside and Field Daisy, and the older racers, Stamina, Delirium, Baby Wolf, and the almost forgotten Diana Ken, winner of the Realization of 1907. He was a train from St. John by the young Liberals, headed by the 71st Regiment Band, and entering a barouche with R. W. McLean and other prominent Liberals, was escorted to the Arctic Rink. All along the route of procession there was a continuous explosion of rockets and bombs.

At the rink the great throng of the sidewalks were lined with cheering people. It was more like the homecoming of a conqueror than that of a defeated candidate. Brown was visibly touched by the great demonstration in his honor.

At the rink over 1,000 people gathered and cheered Mr. Brown, who in a ten minute spirited address referred to some features of the late contest. He said he would rather be defeated than to have heard last night that Pugsley, or Carvell, or McAlister, or any other of the Liberal leaders had fallen in the fight. He referred to Laurier's great victory and to the Liberal sweep in the near future York would return to the Liberal column. Mr. Brown was given a rousing reception.

Dresses were also made by R. W. McLean, Alex. Gibson, ex-M. P. J. D. Phinney, C. H. Allen, W. H. McGinn, all of whom spoke in the highest terms of the fight put up by the Liberal candidate.

Cheers were given for Laurier, Pugsley and Brown, and after the demonstration Brown was escorted to the hotel amidst scenes of great enthusiasm.

The Goodsell Family Recovered
TRENTON, Ont., Oct. 14.—H. Goodsell, engineer for electric company, and his family, were completely prostrated a few days ago with colds, but recovered through using Catarrhose. This remedy is best for winter ill and catarrh because it goes direct to the source of the trouble and cures quickly. Those who haven't used Catarrhose should get it at once; it gives perfect satisfaction and is sold in all drug stores, complete outfit. Price $1; sample size, 25c. Remember the name, "Catarrhose."

After manœuvring above Lake Constance in full view of the people for some time, the ship made its way towards the Swiss frontier, disappearing in the direction of Tyrol. It returned to its moorings about sunset. Captain Mischke said that the prince was anxious to remain for a few more flights but that he was uncertain whether his arguments would permit. The prince expressed himself as astonished to find that the lengthy body of the airship showed only the slightest vibration. He regarded the vertical steering gear as simply perfect.

Countess Gladys Szechenyi Gives Birth to a Daughter
BUDAPEST, Oct. 27.—The Budapest newspapers announce that the Countess Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, has given birth to a daughter.

Despatches from Budapest and Vienna on September 1 stated that the Countess Szechenyi was seriously ill, following her accouchement of a still-born child. A day or two later, however, the countess denied that she was seriously ill, and on September 11, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, she arrived at Vienna for the purpose of consulting a prominent gynecologist. Her accouchement was expected to take place the latter part of October.

Oil Warehouse Burned;
OTHER PROPERTY IN DANGER
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 27.—Several hundred barrels of oil belonging to the Vacuum Oil Company and stored in a three story stone warehouse on Long Wharf made an unusually stubborn property. Inciting a dangerous fire, the fire caused a damage of nearly $20,000 to the building and its contents before it was extinguished.

Several of the schooners had their top hamper damaged and nearly all property inside was lost. The fire was caused by a defective light in the building. The building was owned by the Long Wharf Building Company.

THOUSANDS WELCOME THE TRIUMPHANT CHIEFTAIN ON HIS ARRIVAL AT OTTAWA
OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 27.—Canada's capital, which elected Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday, tonight welcomed him triumphantly back to his home city. The Prime Minister was given a reception worthy of the man and worthy of his victory. The announcement made this afternoon that Sir Wilfrid would not reach Ottawa until late in the evening proved no discouragement to his fellow citizens.

Long before the hour announced for the arrival of the train from Montreal the Union depot was filled and surrounded by an enthusiastic crowd numbering many thousands, with banners, brooms and horns.

The train was a half-hour late, but the crowd only increased through the delay and during the whole of the time there was singing and cheering. When Sir Wilfrid emerged from the depot at 11.30 with Lady Laurier and took his seat in an open carriage a cheer burst forth which ran from the depot clear across the city of Ottawa to Sir Wilfrid's residence, over two miles away, passing from mouth to mouth along the two lines of people who filled the sidewalks on the route and keeping steady pace with the premier's carriage.

The appearance of the Premier was also a signal for a fiery demonstration by the broom carriers, for every one of them was touched off and five hundred blazing brooms lighted the way of the marching men who formed in the general rejoicing. Among them were H. B. McLean, who was elected with Sir Wilfrid for Ottawa; Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State; Emmanuel Devlin, M. P., and Charles McCool, M. P. As the hour was late there was no speech making, but at Sir Wilfrid's residence there was a demonstration which lasted a half hour and kept Sir Wilfrid bowing acknowledgments.

ANNUAL REUNION
HELD LAST NIGHT
Members of Natural History Society Spend an Enjoyable Evening

A most enjoyable evening was passed last night at the annual reunion of the members of the Natural History Society in the museum on Union Street. There was a large number of the members, both young and old, in attendance. Dr. Matthew gave an interesting opening address, in which he told of the great progress that the society had made during the past year and the many valuable additions to the museum. He also referred to the large attendance of members and hoped that all would spend a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Scovell then rendered an excellent piano selection and Mr. McKean gave a vocal solo and was heartily applauded.

H. A. Powell, K. C., addressed the gathering, telling of the great pleasure he had of being present and wishing the society every success.

The remainder of the programme consisted of: Piano solo, Miss Gilchrist; piano solo, Miss Smith; and solos by Master Chester Bourne and Rev. E. E. Hooper elicited much applause from the large gathering.

During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies. The members also visited the different parts of the museum and were well pleased with the excellent collections, which are a great credit to the province.

EXPECTS TO TAKE MILLIONS OF EGGS

There is great activity at the salmon pond near Croucheville, where Fishery Inspector J. Fred Belyea has had during the past season 1,400 salmon in captivity for the purpose of obtaining their spawn. When the salmon pond was opened in Carleton some years ago experts came here to do the work of stripping the fish of their spawn, but of late years local men under the direction of Inspector Belyea have performed the work and have been very successful. Alexander Movat of Campbellton, who is the superintendent of the Restigouche hatchery, arrived in the city yesterday and will superintend the balance of the work at the pond.

The work of stripping was commenced a week ago last Monday, and already about a million eggs have been taken from the fish and the work is going along very satisfactorily. It is expected that about seven million eggs will be obtained this season.

Last year five million eggs were secured and the prospect for a two million increase this year looks most favorable.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, declared at the annual meeting of the association in the American museum of Natural History today, that audubonists were robbing posterity in permitting an annual crop loss of $800,000,000 due to the destruction of insect-eating birds.
