"My visit to England is purely a social and scientific one. I have come here to lecture before the Royal' Geographical Society on the subject of my discoveries and adventures in Brazil, and also to meet friends. I will not discuss politics-either American, English or French.'

One of the Colonel's first visitor was Dr John Scott Keltie, secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, who brought with him a number of maps for the use of the Colonel i his lecture. This is to be delivered in a small lecture hall so that the a provisional president. A man audience will be composed entirely of those Fellows of the society who made early application. There is to be no discussion, and while it has not been disclosed whether Collonel Roosevelt will make any reply to A. Henry Savage Lander, the British! explorer and others who have ques tioned his discovery, it is understood that this is not considered necessary here, where there has been no tende ency to attempt to discredit the sincerity and the usefulness of the colonel's exploratory work.

After being the guest at luncheon of Ambassador Page were Earl Grey proceeded in a motor car to Chequers Court, the country residence in Buckinghamshire of Lieutenant-Colonel velvn, the historian.
