Light Travel on Lower River-Leon Carried Half Million in Gold Dust -Sybil Arrives This Morning.

From Wednesday's Daily.)

The sailing dates of steamboats from Dawson remains an uncertain quanitity owing to the annual inspection which each in its turn is subject to. Seattle No. 3 and Bonanza King were each held 24 hours to await their turn. The other boats as they arrive will be subject to the same delay.

The steamer Leon, with barge Lynx, left last night at 10 o'clock. She did not take any through passengers to the mouth of the river and but three to way points. She took on half million dollars in gold dust, shipped by the Bank of B. N. A., Canadian Bank of Commerce and the A. E. Co.

Seattle No. 3 and barge will leave today for St. Michael. It is not expected that many people will go down the river on her, notwithstanding the excellent accommodations to be found on all the S.-Y. T. Co.'s boats, the Nome stampede being practically dead. A large business is looked for, however, on the up-river run, should the quarantine be removed on passengers leaving Nom

The Sybil arrived this morning at 2 fore they returned. o'clock. She brought no passengers and but one sack of way mail. Her cargo consisted of 100 tons of general merchandise. She will be held a number of days for extensive repairs on her boilers and machinery.

The Hannah of the A. C. Co., is billed to sail next Thursday night for St. Michael and way points.

The Nora is due to arrive today. She has a large passenger list and considerable freight. She will sail immediately after inspection.

The Flora is at Whitehorse loading. Upon her return to Dawson she will be dispatched to the head of navigation on the Stewart river, a distance of 220 miles. Passage has been spoken for by a large number of people.

The Bonanza King left up river for Whitehorse at 7 o'clock last night with a large passenger list. Steamer Eldorado of the same company is reported up on the river flat opposite the upper to have left Whitehorse last night. She is billed to leave Dawson on her up river run next Saturday.

W. H. N. Co., is reported by Manager Davies to have arrived at Whitehorse, $12.50 to $15. It is probable that much making the up-river run' in less than more coal will be used as fuel in Dawfour days. In his from opinion, if Barrington had been at the wheel in the first place the Florence S. would have landed her cargo and passengers safely in Dawson.

This morning when those interested in the investigation of the charges made against Sid Barrington in the Florence S. affair gathered in Inspector Starnes' room, that official said that while there was plenty of evidence to show carelessness and neglect of duty on some one's part, he could find nothing in the evidence to sustain the charges against Barrington, which were dismissed.

A Berrying Party.

Librarian Horkan has the wrath of a number of people who made up a berrying party yesterday evening and creeks and what he saw has almost perwent to the mouth of Bonanza creek, on his head. These people read in the Nugget yesterday evening the statement Krober hillside claim, upper half of 7 below Bonanza, left limit. Mr Kinevening they hied themselves hither $1200 steel chute. with enough pails and buckets to hold 75 gallons. By actual count they found 75 gallons. By actual count they found 12 berries. Horkan says they could not expect by stanling on the trail that the to this country in '85, and his genial berries would come out from the brush and drop into their buckets. Frank P. Slavin and Billy Mansen have signed an agreement to meet in The immediate object of the union is the Palace Grand ring next Tuesday night. It is confidently expected that the exhibition will be well worth seeing. Slavin's reputation as a scientific man is national, while Mansen has an enivable record.

No purse has been or will be put up for the contest; the winner of which will take the full door receipts. If Slavin stops Mansen within six rounds, he (Slavin) will have won; but if Mansen stays until the end of the six rounds, he will, according to the agreement, be the winner and as such will take the door receipts.

The Bank of British Columbia was established before confederation, was the pioneer bank on the coast, and controls the largest business in that province. Its head office is in London, England, and it is understood that the directors had concluded 'that more' money could be made under one Canadian management.

By the terms arrranged, which are subject to the approval of the shareholders of both banks, the Canadian Bank of Commerce will assume the liabilities of the selling bank, and give in exchange for the surplus over liabilities shares in the Canadian Bank of Commerce, amounting to $2,000,000, together with the sum of $312,000 in cash. The paid up capital of the Bank of British Columbia 1s £600,000, with a reserve fund of £100,000. Its total liabilities are £3,096,731, including a balance at credit of profit and loss account of £20,040 to equal the assets. When the amalgamation is completed the Bank of Commerce will have deposits amounting to nearly $40,000,000, and nearly seventy offices, of which 20 will be on the Pacific coast between Dawson and San Francisco, inclusive. The capital will be $8,000,000, and the rest or reserve fund at least $2,000,000. An exceptional circumstances in connection with the amalgamation is that the two institutions have at present branches in common in only one place, him. He had seen Redpath walking when the woman went down about ten feet from shore, at which time he thought they were about 30 feet apart. Edward Foskett had heard Barrington call for a volunteer to get the hoat which had been carried overboard when the steamer capsized, and had seen Caribou go after the boat. Regarding the cargo the witness did not believe the steamer to have been overloaded at the time of the accident, as there was only about 25 to 30 tons of freight aboard. He thought the capsizing was due to the turn the steamer had made.

E. P. Burns, the mate, thought the accident was due to the turn the steamer had made. The current had also had something to do with it. Barrington had told him at the time the steamer had listed just previous to capsizing, to have the freight on the hurricane deck thrown over The Florence Spaulding, Reno, Nevada.

S.'s registered carrying capacity was 50 tons net, and at the time she had aboard about 25 tons. Regarding the freight on the hurricane deck, the witness tes-tified that when the steamer had made her trip to the Koyukuk she had carried seven or eight peterboro cances on the hurricane deck, and that their weight would amount to a total of about two tons. During her trip on the last run about 25 tons. Regarding the freight tons. During her trip on 'the last run

Farewell to Dr. Dunn.

A most elaborate farewell banquet was tendered Dr. E. Dacre Dunn at the Hotel McDonald last evening by a host of his brother medicos and admiring friends. The assemblage comprised the leading physicians and business men of Dawson and was by far the most successful and pleasant event of the season; after the menu advanced to the Vancouver, where, in fact, the Bank of Commerce, had not yet built, so that champagne stage, toasts and songs became the order of the evening and the eloquent eulogies that were paid Dr. Dunn left no room for questioning his Columbia are as follows: Sir Robert standing in the hearts of those present,
