Indigestion or Dyspepsia

Always become Chronic in Time?

The blood becomes bad and finally weak, pale and diseased. Medicines that HELP dyspepsia only give temporary relief, and do not cure the root of the trouble, which, like all chronic ailments depend upon the state of the blood.

Cure Your Indigestion by Enriching the Blood.

The only Natural Blood-maker is CAPSULOIDS. They contain the Natural Iron extracted from Fresh Bullcock's Blood.

Take ONE or even TWO with each meal three times daily, if you are very bad, and stick to them till the red blood which they make has made your stomach strong and well. Within a few Capsuloids, taken from time to time, will keep you perfectly well.

WEALTH COULDN'T SAVE HIM.

Deadly Kidney Disease Had Him in the Clutch. South American Kidney Cure Stopped the Cord and Made Him Whole Again. A young man, a son of one of Canada's wealthiest citizens, two years ago contracted kidney disease by taking a cold plunge in the lake when the body was overheated. Specialists could not diagnose but could not cure the malady, and when all the globe had been traversed in hope of help and a cure he returned to his home apparently with but a short time to live, but the printed testimony of the cure of a school boy acquaintance attracted him to South American Kidney Cure. He procured it and persisted in its use, and although it was a stubborn case, today he is well and healthy. Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

A funny man, in illustration of the tenacity with which a cat clings to its life, which is the best life a cat knows anything about, says: "A North-west couple who had a pet cat that had grown helpless from age put it out of its misery by the agency of chloroform. They buried it in the garden and planted a rose bush over the remains. The next morning it appeared at the door to be let in, and had the rose bush under its arm."

Messrs. W. Steacy and Geo. Mitchell of Warburton visited friends in Athens on Sunday.

The run of pike at Charlton Lake this spring is said to be unprecedentedly large.

Miss Madge Ferguson and Miss Mary Price of East Corners visited friends in Athens last week.

Those of our readers who may be interested in spraying their fruit trees this season may consult reports and bulletins bearing on the subject at this office.

Miss Alma Derbyshire has been engaged to teach a department of the King street school, Gananoque. The reporter of that town says young Derbyshire is an exceedingly young lady with high legal qualifications and it is expected that she will prove an efficient teacher.

A certain editor in an obituary of a man who had died in the community, said: "A long procession followed the remains to their last resting place and other companies in the newspaper office to have the error corrected. The editor explained that he could not do it till seven years back subscription the deceased owed had been paid."

With a view to preventing the hole and corner method of selling cheese, the following rule is adopted by the Board of trade of the Board without having first obtained permission from the Board to do so, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for each offence.

At a certain time, his third wife, Miss Burnett of Maitland, survives him. He was in many respects a prominent man in South Crosby, where his ability and sterling worth were fully appreciated, and his death is deeply regretted throughout the wide circle of his acquaintances.

Smith's Falls News: The case against Nelson Holmes of Kitley charged with forgery, as related in the News a couple of weeks ago, came up at Perth last Friday (21st).

The trial took place before his Honor Judge Senkler. Mr. Balderson identified the prisoner as the man who had presented himself as John Holmes, and had signed the forged documents. Connor O'Dea, for the Crown, testified that several genuine signatures of the prisoner were undoubtedly in the same handwriting as the forged names. The defence set up an alibi, and made out a strong case for the prisoner's presence in different parts of the country on all the days on which he was said to have been in Perth. Mr. Thorpe, Bengough was also called on as an expert for the defence, and denied the conclusions reached by Mr. O'Dea. The trial judge, after a most patient hearing of the evidence of 36 witnesses, discharged the prisoner, who left the court room amid the congratulations of a large number of friends. Mr. E. G. Malloch, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the Crown, while Mr. J. A. Allan conducted the defence. In the meantime the firm is out of pocket $1,000.

The bullpout fishing has commenced, but no large catches have yet been reported.

The hotels at Charlton Lake have both been placed in readiness for the accommodation of the early salmon anglers.

Miss May Berney, who has been visiting friends in Ottawa for a few weeks, returned home on Monday evening.

Mr. Alf. Hanton of Ottawa, visiting at the home of his parents near Frankville, was in Athens on Sunday last.

Miss Maggie McEwan, who recently graduated from Brockville Business College, has a good situation as stenographer. A course in this institution means success in business.

The Reporter has pleasure in congratulating Mr. J. H. Mills, M. A., principal of Athens High school, on his election to membership in the University Council of Queen's College, Kingston.

A section of 600 acres on Indian Lake at Chaffey's looks, belonging to Mr. J. B. Miller of Toronto, has been fenced for pasturage. Parties desiring to place cattle on this range should write Mr. J. C. Judd of Morton for particulars.

Sacramental services will be conducted in the Athens Methodist church on Sabbath, May 7th, at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. Topic for morning, "Isaiah's Wonderful Vision of God"; for the evening, "The Curse of Indecision and Instability."

Trustees, parents, and all interested in the education of children in the village are requested to be present at the Public School on Thursday from 2 to 4, when Dr. Kinney, P.S.I. will address them on matters pertaining to education.

A few days ago a farmer had for sale on the Smith's Falls market a dozen chickens which were raised in the fall of '98 and fed for market this spring. The News says that the few sold readily at 30c each and were just as tender as spring chickens.

A smart little boy in Toronto is—was rather ambitious to be a post-man. A short time ago he wrote his father a bundle of old love letters that his mother had treasured since her courtship days and distributed them from house to house throughout the neighborhood.

Mr. A. A. Davis of Brockville who has just returned home from a trip across the Atlantic, says the cheese market in Great Britain is not so good. He is also of the opinion there will be a good demand for Canadian bacon.

The report current in this section that the Caldwell brothers who were killed in North Dakota a few days ago were sons of Mrs. J. Caldwell of P. S.—is entirely without foundation. On learning of the report, Mr. Caldwell wired her sons and received a prompt reply stating that both were well.

This will be welcome news to the friends of the Caldwell family in this district who were naturally anxious over the report.

The trustees of the Episcopal cemetery at Seely's Bay refused internment to the body of William Moranhang, who committed suicide by hanging three weeks ago. The church authorities there have been consulted, and the following rule is adopted by the trustees to compel the legal to allow burial to take place. The trustees claim that Moranhang, being a suicide, is not entitled to burial in consecrated ground.—Record.

The police authorities believe they now have a clue to the murderer of old Wm. Gray, the well-known blacksmith, who was so brutally murdered there on the night of July 6th last. A gang of burglars who have been operating in Ottawa for the past month are thought to be connected with the crime, and the police authorities are doing everything possible to run them down, though their whereabouts at the present time is unknown.

The annual meeting and opening of the Brockville Dairyman's Board of Trade for the season of 1899, will take place at the Hotel Hamilton, on Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Business of importance will be placed before the board for consideration concerning sales of cheese and butter—the inspection, delivery and payment. A strong committee was appointed to look into the matter with a view to the importance of all parties interested and will, it is expected, be able to report concerning the success of their mission.

Escape of Pare and Holden.

Pare and Holden, the Nanjane bank robbers, escaped from the jail at that place on Monday night, and were seen in Perth. It is believed that Pare gained his liberty by means of a skeleton key and released his companion. Cordwood was then piled against the 20-ft. stone wall and by means of this a rope made of hair and cotton was thrown over the outside. The trial of "Billy" Ponton for complicity in the robbery was to have taken place at Toronto on the 15th inst., but the escape of Pare, the principal crown witness, will probably render a postponement necessary.

A Serious Runaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Steacy met with a serious mishap on Monday afternoon last. It commenced in rain about the time they reached the village, and as they were riding in an open buggy they drove under the Methodist church doors to wait until it ceased. Mr. Steacy was out of the rig when the horse, taking fright at a clap of thunder, bolted out of the shed. Mr. Steacy made a futile effort to control it, and on reaching the street it made a sharp turn and threw Mr. Steacy from the horse. Mr. Steacy started to get another, when the horse again took fright and ran away, throwing him out and completely wrecking the rig. Mr. Steacy was considerably bruised and was rendered unconscious. He was conveyed to the surgery of Dr. Harte, where his injuries were dressed and he was taken to his home. Mrs. Steacy declined to ride home after this horse and Mr. Steacy started to get another, when the horse again took fright and ran away, throwing him out and completely wrecking the rig. Mr. Steacy was considerably bruised and was rendered unconscious. He was conveyed to the surgery of Dr. Harte, where his injuries were dressed and he was taken to his home.
