BRUTAL CRIME

Found Buried Under a Blacksmith's Steps.

Menominee, Michigan, Oct. 2.-The mystery surrounding the disappear-ance of little Julia Kachincy, the 10-year-old adopted daughter of Inas Kachincy has been cleared bp by the finding of her body buried under the back steps of Joseph Beck's blacksmith shop. Beck is in jail and an en-raged -populace are threatening to lynch him if they get the chance, The child started for church last Sunday morning and stopped in the blacksmith shop to get a knife which her father had left there to be sharpened. This was the last seen of her alive. Beck has told the story that she left his place for church in the company of a young boy, but a search of the surrounding country failed to show any trace of her.

While searching for evidence, Chief English discovered some fresh sand on the black muck at the back of the blacksmith shop. He determined to push his investigation and made a visit to the shop at nine o'clock last night. On forcing their way in they were surprised to find Beck there. He seemed badly frightened, and said he thought they were burglars. He gave no reason for being in the shop at that hour, however.

On digging beneath the steps the offocers soon came upon the body of the child. It was doubled up and the head was down at least two and a half The child had been choked to death after being assaulted. Beck is held on a charge of murder in the first

The coroner's jury adjourned until this afternoon when they will investigate further.

BURNED HER FEET

Barbarously Scorched a Clerk's Wife to Make her Give up Husband's Money.

Toledo, O., Oct. 2 .- While Edward R. Leonard, a telephone inspector, went to the grocery Tuesday night, two masked burglars entered his house and finding Mrs. Leonard alone, demanded money. She declared she had none, but the robbers reminded her that her husband had drawn his pay during the afternoon, and as he made a habit of turning his pay over to her on reaching home she must have it. She denied having it and at that the thugs bound her with ropes and bed clothes, placed a gag in her mouth and threw her on the floor.

They then took the coal oil lamp from the table and searched the house but found nothing. They next pulled off the woman's shoes and stockings, poured kerosene oil from a can over her to tell where the money was. When that did not bring forth the desired information the robbers took rags and soaked them with oil and placed them against the soles of the She could not yell on account of the gag being in her mouth. When asked if she would tell where the money 925,945, a trade which represented 17 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of the villain had been accused of murder, 18 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of the villain had been accused of murder, 18 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of murder, 18 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of murder, 18 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of the villain had been accused of murder, 18 to 200 are relative to the child had on earth and through the machinations of the villain had been accused of murder, 18 to 200 are relative up, saturated it and gave the woman the choice of telling where the money was or burning to death.

She still refused to yeidl; and they fired the room and skipped out. As they went out the back door Leonard came in at the front door. The flames were extinguished and the woman re-leased by her husband. She is in a critical condition and may die. The woman could not give a very accurate description of the men.

The Leonard home is located in a sparsely settled part of the city. Neighbors saw the two men leaving the house. The whole thing took place inside of an hour,

UP AGAINST IT

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 2.-Charles Windsor detective who came here after "Dad" McDonald, wanted for an alleged robbery, is up against a hard proposition in securing his man. He failed to get the necessary papers before leaving Windsor, and McDonald has employed attorneys to secure his freedom by means of a writ of habeas corpus. The application has been made before the circuit court here, but if Mahoney can get the necessary pa-pers in time he will apply to the United States authorities for extradition papers, thus taking the matter out of the hands of the local authori-

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

New York, Oct. 2 .- The body of Jennie Larsen, a young Danish wo-man, 20 years old, was found in the apartment of Louis Appleord on the third floor of a tenement in Harlem yesterday. She had been dead for days, according to a medical expert; the body was mutilated and much decomposed, and gas filled the room was found.

Despite the gas and stench which first revealed the tragedy, Appleord, in a diseased mental condition, was in the room when it was entered by woman's abdomen had been gashed in several places. Appleord was arrested. He said the young woman was his niece. He had caused her to come from Denmark 10 days ago, he said, to be his housekeeper. Appleord is 53 years old, and a conductor on a line of horse cars.

Coroner Scholer's opinion is that the girl was strangled to death. He did not believe a criminal operation had been performed. Appleard, when questioned by the police, would say little except that he had turned on the gas in the room for the purpose of committing suicide.

A girl is as liable to sow her affections in bad soil as a young man is to sow his wild oats.

OUR - NEIGHBORS - TO - THE - NORTH

Body of a 10-Year-Old Girl Was ONE VIEW OF CANADA WITH SIDE REMARKS ON AMERICA'S NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES.

> The following, from the pen of A. | propo T. Macdonald, formerly editor of the Banner, appears in the Washington Times of Sept. 28:

There is no doubt whatever as to the appalling ignorance of our people generally regarding the extent and resources of the great Dominion to the north of us. We are so apt, in our own self-complacency, to forget that Canada is not fairly entitled to the libelous statements of the ex-tremists who speak of "the frozen north," and we are too prone to believe that Rudyard Kipling knew what he was talking about when he alluded to the colonial empire's mis-tress as "Our Lady of the Snows." But let us not forget that to the great northwest of that marvelous country thousands upon thousands of our people are "trekking," as Cy Warman calls this migration, to the Canadian farm lands. Let us not forget, too, that Canada's waterways are superior to ours, that Canadian men are crowding the lakes with Canadian-made boats, and that in the new Ontario there is now in progress a development such as no section of this country has ever And so when we speak of Canada let us remember that the tide has

Only a few weeks ago a cabinet minister was criticised for spending $40,000 in a search for murderers of two Americans in the Yukon. His answer was: "This government will spend $40,000, and $400,000, if necessary, in enforcing the laws of this land. Americans are entitled to the protection of our laws if they obey

The make-up and tastes of the people, together with emigration from Canada to the United States, and then back to the newer lands in western Canada or to the mines of British Columbia and the Klondike, are the factors which are potent in preserving and building up its trade. In these trust-ridden days it be booves us to cast our eyes abroad for markets-but, above all, it is our bounden duty to study our neighbors' actual condition, so that we may not only know that New Brunswick is not "adjoining" British Columbia, but know, too, that Canada is a lusty country filled with indomitable sons loyal to their King, and eager for a battle royal in the industrial markets of the world.
