IN FASHION'S REALM.

The Newest Thing in Negligee Effects.

LINGERIE SKIRT AND SACK.

Few of the Short Matinee Show Any Waist Line—The New Shoulder Style Seen In These Up to Date Robes—A Pretty Maternity Sack.

Quite the newest thing in negligee effects is the lingerie skirt and short sack combination, and nothing daintier has been offered for a very long time than may be indulged in by those of moderate means as well as those of the very wealthy class.

In design the petticoat follows the conventional, and the jacket is quite short, falling only a little below the waist, something like a pony coat, being quite loose and not defining the figure in the least. The sleeves vary. There are the minked, the wing and the bell all to choose from. Sailor collars, the large star shaped and the short square Dutch neck are all represented.

Sacks come separately as well as in sets, are in dotted swiss, batiste, linen, etc.

IN IVORY CHINA SILK.
gerie and printed lawn, in prices from $1.75 upward. At this price a very pretty sack of white dotted swiss may be bought, and for an advance of 50 cents there is a printed lawn in delicate pink and white, with sleeves in double bell effect, the wide collar falling over the tops of the sleeves and suggesting a third bell.

Few short matinees show any waist line, but just fall straight. This may be said, indeed, of all wash goods models. A few in china silk are tucked or gathered a little, defining rather than emphasizing the waist line.

A pretty little maternity sack seen in a shop is of pale pink accordion plaited china silk, supported by a square yoke of lace. The sleeves are full, edged with lace and accordion plaited; $5.75 will purchase this dainty garment.

A new cut which is the expression of the long shoulder is a loose looking affair which seems to have been a very large circle folded in half, the fold to come on the shoulders. Then a pair of long sleeves, each with a square yoke of lace. The sleeves are full, edged with lace and accordion plaited; $5.75 will purchase this dainty garment.

BABY WASTED TO MEER SKELETON

In Torments a Year and a Half with Terrible Sores on Face and Body—Hands Tied to Stop Scratching and Tearing at Flesh—But

CURE BY CUTICURA COMPLETE AND SPEEDY

"My little son, when about a year and a half old began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come all over his body, and then on his chest; worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the age of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloth at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Cuticura Soap to try and a little Cuticura Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little. I used it for a few days and got a case of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more of any kind since. He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. Mrs. Robert Sheldon, R. F. D. No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."

AN OCEAN BED TRAGEDY

DIVER'S FIGHT FOR LIFE BENEATH THE DEEP SEA.

Heroism Twenty-Five Fathoms Deep—Struggles for Hours to Save His "Pal"—First Man Down Had Life Lines Entangled—Was Saving Sunken Torpedo Boat—Dangers of Submarine Work.

It is difficult to conceive a more dramatic story than that of the rescue of a diver off Torbay, after he had been imprisoned beneath 150 feet of water for five hours and a half.

Walter Trappell, a Government diver, descended in the English Channel outside Torbay from the deck of the gunboat Spanker in connection with the salvage operations of a sunken torpedo boat. He got entangled, and another diver, named Leverett, went to his rescue. In a simple language Leverett told of the events that followed on the ocean bed. "I was supposed to remain down about twenty minutes at a stretch in such a depth as twenty-five fathoms. When Trappell said so long I thought there was something wrong, and I telephoned to him. He told me that he was fouled in the water and could not get clear. 'All right,' I replied, 'I will come down and help you.'"

Almost a Hopeless Task. "I descended immediately, and upon getting down found that Trappell was fixed in such a position that he was absolutely helpless. The wreck lies almost upright. Trappell was standing upon the sea bed, and his air pipe from the davits and other places where they were fouled. It took me three hours to get them clear, and I thought I should never be able to finish the job, as I was getting exhausted. Once, I gave it up and let him, but I pulled myself together again and went back to him.

Nearly Done For. "I was getting nearly done myself; blood poured from my nostrils and I was much exhausted, but I made an effort and stuck to the job until I got Trappell free. This was accomplished only just in time, for about three minutes before he was raised to the surface Trappell became unconscious. Leverett was greatly distressed to hear of the fate of Trappell, whose condition at first raised hopes of his recovery. Trappell, however, died suddenly in a hospital on the following Saturday night soon after his wife and daughter had left his side. The hero of this ocean bed tragedy, a splendidly built, athletic young fellow who is known as a keen footballer. When arranging for the salvage of the torpedo boat the Admiralty asked for volunteers divers, as twenty-five fathoms, the depth in which the wreck lies, is much above that to which service divers are obliged to descend. Trappell and Leverett, the two senior shipwright divers in Portsmouth dockyard, volunteered for the dangerous task.

England and France. It has been playfully observed that the mutual antipathies and attractions of England and France resemble to a curious degree those of man and woman, perhaps one might say of man and woman attached to each other by a marriage of convenience-geographical. "We do all naturally hate the French," Mr. Popsy observed long ago. (Does any nation, by the way, love its neighbor?) France has never ceased to interest us or indeed to inspire part of our ideas and conduct.

Rightly do her historians decant of the glorious role she has played in the general work of civilization, of the "sympathetic genius which has seized and translated for Europe the ideas of reason, justice and all the theory of life, private and public," which has "preserved even in the useful and frivolous the tradition of art," of the idealist perseverance, whose experiments have saved the world so much suffering and "made of her follies the wisdom of other nations."—George H. Powell in Fortnightly Review.

We're All Leather Eaters. "And then," said the arctic explorer, "I ate my leather belt."

"Pooh, what of that? Every mother's son of us eats a pair of shoes a year." The explorer frowned. "This," he began, "is no laughing matter."

But the scientist interrupted him. "I am not jesting, sir. I speak the solemn truth. What is leather? Is it not albumen and tannin? Well, when you add milk to your tea or coffee, the tannin of the one and the albumen of the other unite, and leather results. The leather is in minute particles. Nevertheless it is there. And down it goes. All who drink tea or coffee daily, the scientist concluded, "consume in a year enough leather to make a pair of shoes."

The explorer sneered. "To resume," he said, "I then ate the lining of," etc.—Exchange.

Ahead, Yet Behind. The nervous foreigner got up and went back to the conductor of the street car.

"Pardonez, m'sieur," said he, "but see car, he run so slow, and why, if you please? Ees it not so?"

"Yes," replied the conductor. "We can't help it, though. You see, the car ahead is behind."

The foreigner's eyes opened wider. "Would you mind saying him again?" he asked apologetically.

"I say," replied the conductor, louder than before, "that the car ahead is behind. See?"

The foreigner returned to his seat. "Zee, car-r-r ahead, he ees behind?" said he to himself. "Most wonderful, most astonishing is his country!"

Her First Birth. Black Sarah was busily employed about our northern kitchen, remarked a prominent housekeeper, when I had occasion to go out there and by way of being pleasant said:

"You are from the south, are you not, Sarah?"

"Law, yes, miss!" was the answer. "Born in the south?" I continued.

"Originally bawn in Richmond, miss," was the astonishing reply.

Her First Fear. A little girl remarked to her mother, "I am not afraid in the dark."

"Of course not," said the mother. "I was afraid once, though, when I went into the pantry to get a tart," she added.

"What were you afraid of?"

"I was afraid I would not find the tarts," was the reply.

DOCTORS IN TURN FAILED BUT ZAM-BUK CURED.

Magistrate F. Rasmussen, writing from his residence, 211 Marquette St., Montreal, says: "I take genuine pleasure in informing you of the great good I have derived from Zam-Buk. For many years I was troubled with a serious eruption of the skin, which was both unsightly and painful. Not one, but several doctors in turn were consulted, but I was unable to get any permanent relief. Some time back I noticed a report from a Justice of the Peace who had been cured of a chronic skin disease by Zam-Buk, and I determined to give this balm a trial. After a thoroughly fair test, I can say I am delighted with it. While everything else I tried—salves, embrocations, washes, soaps and doctor's prescriptions failed absolutely to relieve my pain, three boxes of Zam-Buk have worked a complete cure. In my opinion this balm should be even more widely known than it is, and in the hope that my experience will lead other sufferers to try this herbal healer, I have no objection to your publishing this letter. Yours truly, (Signed) F. RASMUSSEN, Justice of the Peace, Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price."

Summer eczema, rashes, sunburn patches, children's heat sores or babies' chafing sores, cuts, burns, bruises, insect bites and stings and all skin injuries and diseases yield to Zam-Buk. All stores and medicine vendors sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 6 boxes for $2.50. (C. E. Fildes, Limited.)
