Armour's Solid Extract of Beef

POTTED IN CANADA)

is the kind that is simply the natural Essence of Prime Beef—concentrated. It is not a manufactured article like many extracts and fluid beefs, made from extract bought on the open market without any knowledge of its purity, and mixed with salt, water and other ingredients. Beef in fluid form offers opportunity for adulteration without detection.

This cannot be said of solid extract.

SAN FRANCISCO'S HARBOR

Perhaps the Most Notable "Bottle"

Perhaps the most "otable "bottle"

Francisco. Here is a vast reach of water fifty-five miles long and in some parts twelve in width. Into this bay the tides of the Pacific flow through the famous Golden Gate. This is a the famous Golden Gate. This is a strait about a mile in width in its narrowest part and very deep. The proud Californians look out over this serene expanse and tell you that here is anchorage for the combined navies of the world, which indeed seems a very mild statement of the case. Aside from the immensity of this harbor facility it is interesting to notice that California's two big rivers after tray-California's two big rivers after traversing the great interior valley flow into this bay. Thus nature has furnished two serviceable water roads, leading from a most notable natural harbor into the very heart of a rict farming, mining and lumbering region. These rivers, the Sacramento and San Joaquin, are of the same commercial significance to California that the Hudson is to New York.

The harbor at San Francisco is the more noteworthy because it is the only one of first magnitude south of Puget sound. Between these points California presents to the orient an inhospi-table cliff coast, only occasionally bro-Vitty will take his place here.

On the left side of a man's forehead a mole denotes a long term in prison; on the left side of a woman's forehead, two husbands and a life of exile.

A man with a mole in the middle of his forehead has a cruel mind. A woman with such a mole is feelish, idle

A mole on the neck in man or woman promises a long and happy life, wealth and fame.

A man with a mole on the left side of the upper lip rarely marries, and such a mole in the case of a woman denotes suffering.

On the right side of the upper lip a mole promises good to both sexes.

The "man in the moon' must surely regard with amused contempt our much vaunted athletic records. A good terrestrial athlete could cover about 120 feet on the moon in a running broad jump, while leaping over the barn would be a very commonplace feat. He would find no difficulty in carrying six times as much and running six times as fast as he could on earth, all because the moon attracts bodies with but one-sixth of the force of the earth.

Not a Barber Shop.

A Connecticut clergyman, says a writer in Lippincott's, while visiting friends once tucked his napkin into his collar to protect his clothing from the juice of the grape fruit at breakfast. He laughed as he did it and said it reminded him of a man he once knew who rushed into a restaurant and, seating himself at a table, proceeded to tuck his napkin under his chin. He then called a walter and said, "Can I get luncheon here?"

"Yes," responded the walter in a dignified manner, "but not a shampoo."

Trust to Nature.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have illivrated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and fasts long. The demand for mutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To issue perfect health every tissue, bose, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the white which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the care of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Evandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with giperine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, had nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy. Although some physicians have been sware of the high medicinal value of t

The sagacity of a dog has brought to justice a man now awaiting execution for murder in Valencia jail. The owner of a dog was killed in a sudden quarrel, and his body was secretly buried by the murderer and his confederates. The dog witnessed the crime and the burial, and succeeded in each of the criminals.

The animal returned to his master's house, and by barking and running to the door induced the dead man's eldest son to follow. The dog made its way straight to the grave, and began scratching up the earth. The police were called and the body was unearthed.

The dog was still unsatisfied, and led
