Buffalo Had Rochester Beaten 4 to 0 When Rain Stopped the Play.

is an off day with the two teams, the postponed game of yesterday will be played.

On the recent eastern trip Montreal made the best showing of the four western clubs, while Toronto had three wins, eight losses and one tie, although, according to those on the trip, the Leafs were entitled to at least three of the games lost, but bad decisions by the umpires gave the home team a victory.

Pfelfer and Rudolph will likely be the twirlers for the Leafs to-day, while Casey may use Wicker and Keefe.
Only one game was finished in/the big leagues. Philadelphia defeating Washington and moving up into first place in the American. In the National Pittsburg and New York played an eight inning tie, 2 to 2, sensational fielding by the Giants robbing the Piratese of a victory.

PHILADELPHIA WINS ONLY

PHILADELPHIA WINS ONLY

At Washington—Philadelphia defeated Washington handily, thereby again taking the lead in the American League, 6 to 1. Johnson was wild and ineffective in the fourth and fifth innings, when all the visitors' runs were accred. Gray relieved Johnson in the sixth innings, and the Quakers went out in their order of going to the bat in the four final rounds. Krause was very effective, especially in pinches. The feature of the game was a home run drive by Pitcher Johnson. Third-Baseman Baker crashed into the railing in front of the pavillion in trying for a foul fly and was shaken up enough to make him retire from the game, Nicholls taking his place.

The Rugby tans in Toronto are waking up, and the Argonauts are already laying plans for the coming season.

The scullers claim to have Quarterback Corvell and Outside Wing Duncanson, of last year's champion 'Varsity team, and there is a remote chance that Lawson, the heavy-bucking half of last year's 'Varsity team, may not return to college this year, and if he doesn't he will line up with the Argos. The Argos will hold their annual meeting shortly.

COMMENT

AND GOSSIP

AIN YESTERDAY postponed all the games in the Eastern League, although Buffalo had Rochester in the fourth innings 4 to 0, but were forced to quit and yet some people say Rochester isn't lucky. Two games will be played to day at Diamond Park and as an excursion is being run from St. Mary's, a large crowd should be on hand, especially as this is ladies' day. Two games will also be played to-morrow, the Leafs having a post-poned game with the Royals from the last trip, while on Thursday, which is an off day with the two teams, the postponed game of yesterday will be played.

EASTERN LEAGUE AVERAGES.

EASTERN LEAGUE AVERAGES.

Second Baseman Gardner, of the Jersey City team, is the leading swatter of the Eastern League, with an average of 326 for 56 games; then comes Fred Mitchell, the heavy hitting catcher of the Toronto Leafs, with .317 for 70 games. McDoyald, of the Leafs, is hitting the leather with a vengeance, and has an average of .346 for 12 games.

Osborne, the new right fielder secured by Rochester, is breaking in with the goods in Eastern League company, and has collected .333 for 17 games, while Egan, the new twirler secured by Montreal, is hitting at the same clip, but has only played in three games.

Schmidt, the Baltimore pitcher, who is taking Cassidy's place at first base, since old Pete has been canned, it betting his collection of safeties and has contributed .344 for 16 games.

Outside of Gardner and Mitchell, the best of the regulars is Strang, of Baltimore, with .309 for 52 games, followed by Myron (irimshaw, of the Leafs, with .307 for 91 games.

The foregoing are all the Eastern League players over the allotted mark. Kelly, of Newark, leads the others, with Oral betting has been well tested this season. It has been fairly successful, according to both layers and players, but it lacks stability. The inability to make written memoranda of individual transactions has served as a hardship in many instances. It is said that numerous obligations have not been met in a businesslike way and that there have been several defalcations. But on the whole the system in vogue among private bet-

Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—Hamburg Rells, 2.024, and Uhlan, 2.034, the two sensational trotters of the year, may meet in a match race at North Randall track on August 25th. John E. Madden, owner of Hamburg Belle, wired officials of the Racing Association here yesterday his acceptance to race his mare against her own mark on the track on that day and included in his message a challenge to Charles Sanders, owner of Uhlan, for a match race. Madden says he is willing to post $2,500 as a side bet that his mare will beat Uhlan. An effort is being made to get in communication with Sanders, who is in Buffalo, and close the arrangements for the race.

nesslike way and that there have been several defalcations. But on the whole the system in vogue among private bettors is regarded as better than nothing and a makeshift until speculation can proceed on other lines. In spite of the legal restrictions, however, it is a matter of record that not a single arrest has been made this season at any of the tracks for an alleged infraction of the law. This is due to the rigid policy of the track owners to have the law obeyed to the letter and the voluntary support they have received from all classes of racegoers. The race track detectives have been on the alert since the first day of the campaign, with orders to eject persons who might see fit to regard the new law as a joke, but the sleuths, barring a few minor cases, have not been compelled to take action. In view of this clean record, turfmen say that it should be realized that patrons of the sport are law abiding and are anxious to help in the task of rebuilding a once great industry.

There is now every indication of a turf close the arrangements for the race.

Hamburg Belle is still here and will race against her mark on Aug. 25th, when a one-day meeting is to be held at North Randall. The proceeds will go to charity.

BOWLING

The Dominion Bowling Association opened their annual tournament on their magnificent lawn at the Woodbine, Toronto, yesterday. Of the 102 rinks entered to compete for the most valuable prizes ever offered for bowling in Canada 100 appeared, there being but two defaults, T. Card, of Galt, and T. West, of Toronto. The greens are much improved over last year. The game began promptly at 2 o'clock, 32 rinks and 256 players beginning play after Mr. Russell and The Rugby fans in Toronto are waking up, and the Argonauts are already aying plaus for the coming season.

The scullers chaim to have Quarter-sack Coryell and Outside Wing Dunganson, of last year's champion 'Variety team, and there is a remote chance that Lawson, the heavy-bucking half of at year's 'Varsity team, may not resurn to college this year, and if he cosm't he will line up with the Argos. After playing an hour the games were delayed by the heavy rain, but were begun immediately on it ceasing, and the preliminary and first rounds were run off, 64 games in all. Players and rinks with reputations as usual were numbered freely among the slain in the first round. Among them Hon. A. G. McKay, Forbes, last year's winner; Armitage, winner of Labatt trophy at London; Wm. Brown, Westmount, honorary president Ontario Bowling Association; G. M. Begg, the star of the Canadas; J. A. Knox, last year's Ontario Cup winner. Extra ends were frequent, while numerous games were won on last end. The most notable struggle was between Forbes, Kew Beach, last year's winner, and Dr. Moore, winner of Toronto Cup last year. Dr. Moore won by one shot after having two tie ends, a dead end and an extra end. This is a record never known before in bowling in Canada. The best known rinks left are: Cole, Mitchell; Abbott, London; Swabey, Victorias; Hargraft, Granites; Dr. Moore, Canadas, Turnbull, Brantford, lost his game on the last end. He lay three when Clemens with his last bowl cut him out and won by one shot.

Now that the championships are decided, players and fans are beginning to talk about the formation of a new league, to be known as the second series. It was decided some time ago that an independent nine would be formed for the purpose of finding how the league stood with outside teams, but since then certain players have been hustling, and it is now pretty sure that at least four teams will be in the new league. The season is young yet, and there is plenty of time to finish the new schedule which could easily be completed by the end of September, and still give those desirious a chance to prepare for football. There are still many players around who are only too anxious to don their togs again, and some classy ball may yet be played. There is lots of available material.

While the Broadviews got away with the goods on Saturday from the Alerts, there are fans who are not satisfied. The Alerts still claim the Broadviews are not the best team in the league, and are prepared to prove it. It is not likely, however, that the teams will be the best in a second in action again, this care he seem in action again, this are prepared to prove it. Twenty layers operated, and they profited extensively by the defeat of some of the best backed choices. After the fifth race there was a miniature deluge, accompanied by a wind of almost cyclonic velocity, which for a period threatened to cause a pinic. The spectators, now-ever, braved it gamely, and, beyond experiencing inconvenience and a wetting, no damage resulted.

The defeat of Merrick and Centre Shot, by the sudden improved Sir Edward, was one of the surprises of the afternoon. Merrick's defeat was partially due, to J. Reid's poor handling, as he allowed him to lose much ground into the stretch by steering him wide. Centre Shot ran much below previous efforts and ceased to be a serious factor after going a haif. The speedy non-stayer, Smiley Corbett, showed his customary high early speed, but quit after going a half.

In the mile dash, Martin Doyle was high early speed, but duit after going a half.

In the mile dash, Martin Doyle was conceded an excellent chance by the sharps to land the purse. He was in forward pursuit of Emperor William until passing the half-mile post, where Harty began steering him for the outer rail and permitted Michael Angelo to pass him. At the stretch turn Harty again began fumbling with the lines, but the horse came with great courage, daspite the poor handling, and overhauled Michael Angelo for second place. Emperor William had assumed too big a lead in the first three quarters to be seriously menaced, and he won with plenty in reserve.

An added incident to the racing came with the running of the sixth race, in which Golconda, ridden by S. Davis, was the favorite, and Nettie Traverse, the anartly backed good thing, the ultimate winner. Golconda lacked much early speed and was a distant trailer during the carlier period of the race, but after going three quarters he moved up with a run until nearing the final furlong, where Brannon, on Denver Girl, impeded him slightly, and in retaliation Davis made a vicious strike at Brannon with his whip. The judges had both riders before them after the race and suspended Brannon for the remainder of this meeting for his attempted rough riding and fined Davis $25 for striking Brannon, Later they supplemented their ruling against Davis by suspension, pending further investigation of his supposed best betting proposition of the afternoon, contributed to the wees of favorite players by fail ure to get a portion of the purse in the fifth race, Anna L.
