Newcastle Women's Institute

Will Compete at the Annual Convention.—Excellent Paper Read by Mrs. Barry

The Newcastle Women's Institute met Tuesday night, Vice-president Mrs. Bessie Gough in the chair; Mrs. G. G. Stothart, secretary.

Others present: Misses Louise Harley and Annie Reid and Mesdames H. Williston, A. E. Petrie, John McCormack, W. F. Copp and A. L. Barry, members and Mrs. Annie Allingham, visitor.

Yarn was distributed for work for the soldiers.

It was resolved to send an exhibit of canned goods and preserves to the annual meeting at Moncton Oct 2-4. Samples are to be sent to Mrs. G. G. Stothart's up to Sept. 21. From these a dozen bottles will be chosen to be sent to Moncton and the rest donated to the Miramichi Hospital.

A very timely paper was read by Mrs. Barry, a former and very successful school teacher, as follows:

Teacher and Parent Co-Operation

To co-operate means to work together for the same end, and in this short definition do we not see a great deal of what this means to parent and teacher. The end we aim at is the educating of our children.

So often this means but one thing—filling the little heads with book knowledge, showing them how to do a few sums, how to write or how to read. This is beyond a doubt most necessary, but it is not the whole of education.

To educate is to lead, to draw out, to expand, and an all-round education such as we wish our children to acquire in tender years, can best be given to the child by the help and hearty co-operation of the parent.

How, then, have we co-operated with our teachers in the year that is past? And in a truthful answer we will recognize our successes and failures.

First, then, have we helped our teachers as we might by as liberal salary as it was in our power to give? In no other sphere of labor is the laborer more "worthy" of his hire than in the profession of teaching. Have we reached forth a friendly hand, to the man or woman who daily meets our children and is their leader, guide and counselor for five hours at least of every day? What do we really know of the teacher? Often the teacher is a long way from home, among strangers, and a little "cultivating" on our part can never go amiss and can be the means of a great deal of good. Were I speaking to young people about to enter the profession I would advise them to ponder well and know if they are sure they are willing to lead a life of hard, earnest work—a life of self-annihilation where great effort is so often unrecognized, actions misunderstood, and unknown difficulties to be surmounted. Have we helped our teachers then by remembering that our child is only one among many, and in school, as in any other "World," many men, many minds prevail. It is so easy to see our side of the question, so hard to remember that all other children have equal rights and privileges.

Have we helped our teachers again by sending our little ones to school, sound in body, sweet in temper, well fed, comfortably clad, taught to be gentle to all about, respectful to their teacher, obedient to school laws and rules?

And once more, have we helped our teachers by a kind and discreet silence regarding the faults and shortcomings of the teacher? I would that we as parents would be more guarded in what we say before our little ones. So many times our words are repeated (and with what coloring at times) causing misunderstanding and trouble. At the first instance of gossip our little ones should be corrected and made to see the folly of such a course, and by judiciously guiding the conversation in the home circle our children will at least not have the example of

TOOK HER PARCELS FORGOT HER BABY

(Sussex Record)

On Wednesday morning a lady arrived at the I. C. R. station just as the train for Moncton was about ready to pull out. She had a number of parcels with her and a baby carriage which contained an infant. She purchased a ticket for Newcastle and hurried aboard with her parcels, asking a girl that was standing on the platform to hold her baby until she put her parcel up in the car rack. The train started while she was in the car with her parcels and got under good headway before the lady discovered the fact. She ran, intending to jump off, but Baggage Master James Chestnut, sang out to her to stay where she was and tell the conductor her troubles. This she did, and Conductor Coles, who is noted for his generosity to lady passengers, had the train stopped above the crossing and the woman got off. She walked back to the depot and took possession of her infant, much to the delight of the young lady who had charge of the baby.

County Election Causes Some Surprises

Ex Warden F. D. Swim After Many Years Faithful Service Goes Down to Defeat

The County Elections were held on Tuesday and in five of the parishes six members of the old board went down to defeat, much to the surprise of many. Especially is this so in the Parish of Blissfield, where Mr. F. D. Swim, who has represented that parish for upwards of 20 years, met defeat, along with councillor Hurley, at the hands of a ticket headed by Thomas Parker. Dr. Ryan of Boiestown, after two years of faithful service at the board was also defeated as was Councillor Jas. Parks of South Esk, and Councillor M. Chaisson of Rogersville, and Councillor Jimmo of Hardwicke. Ex-Councillor Arthur O'Donnell, who displaced Councillor Ryan in Ludlow, has already given several years good service at the Board, and is an ardent advocate of Tax Reform. Ex-Councillor Frank Lavole displaced Councillor Chaisson in Rogersville.

The returns in the contested parishes are as follows:

Glenelg
Donald Watling*	131
J. W. MacNaughton*	117
James Hackett	75
James Godfrey	41
Hardwicke
Herbert Fowle	179
Adolphe Savoy*	107
Michael Jimmo*	68
Patrick Sullivan	6

Wilbur Somers*	120
Rogersville
John LeBlanc*	203
Frank Lavole	185
Andrew Arseneault	67
M. Chaisson*	60
* Old Councillors
The parishes wherein the councillors were elected by acclamations were as follows:
Derby—Couns. J. W. Vanderbeck and Everett Parker
North Esk—Couns. Alfred Sinclair and M. O'Shaughnessy
Blackville—Couns. D. G. Schofield and George Hayes
Newcastle—Couns. L. Doyle and Mr. Joseph McKnight
Chatham—Couns. A. Harriman and W. H. Baldwin
Nelson—Couns. G. P. Burchill, Richard Gill
Alnwick—Wm. Anderson and D. W. Allain.

ONE SESSION FOR

LITTLE FELLOWS

Moncton School Board last week by a vote of 4 to 3 decided that, on account of lack of school room, two first grades be sent to school half a day instead of two sessions a day. The majority thought that three and a half hours, from 9 to 12.30, would do the little fellows as much good as the four hours instruction they would receive in the two ordinary sessions. The minority wished to open a new department in St. Paul's church, which would cost about $1000 a year extra. They will appeal to the Chief Superintendent to compel the city to provide complete accommodation for all children of school age.

their elders to follow in this matter. Lastly, dear mothers, I have not lost sight of your weary all day and all night work with the restless, fretful children. Soon, oh how soon, these hard years will pass. The little ones will be educated as far as we can do it. They will enter the world to take their place. Happy are we then, if our children call us "blessed" because we have done our part to the very best of our ability. Let us then renew our efforts to co-operate as we never did before.

Pte. Herbert J. Warren Dead

Details of the Last Minutes of One of our Brave Maritime Boys

Mrs. Jeremiah Hanley of South Nelson, has received the following on her heroic brother, Pte. Herbert J. Warren, now numbered among those who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country:

Dressing Station, France,
Aug. 17, 1917

Dear Mrs. Hanley,

I saw your brave brother at the dressing station yesterday just after he was wounded. He had a machine-gun bullet wound in the head, but seemed in excellent spirits. He says he will write to you after he gets settled in the hospital.

Yours very sincerely,
F. S. PORTER, Chaplain,

Aug. 20, 1917

Dear Mrs. Hanley,

I am writing on behalf of your brother, Pte. Warren, who has been a patient in the above hospital for the past three days.

No doubt the war office will have notified you of the fact that he had been wounded, but Canada is so far away, and it takes such a long time for a letter to come through, so that I am sure you must be anxious about him.

His wounds, I regret to say, are of rather a serious nature, a shrapnel wound of the head, but so far he is progressing favorably, and I feel sure that if nothing unforeseen occurs he will be alright. He is quite conscious, but is unable to use his arm, but he wishes me to tell you he is better today, is very comfortable and that he will write you shortly.

I regret I cannot write you a more lengthy letter, but we are very busy, and there are so many to write for, after my day's work amongst them is finished, but I can assure you it is a pleasure to be able to do so much for the boys who all do so much more for us.

May I express my sympathy. I always feel so sorry for the people of the colonial boys. They are so very far away, and these anxious days must be terrible, but I trust you won't worry about your brother. Everything possible will be done for him, and I think he will soon be able to travel to England. I will write you again as soon as possible.

Yours very sincerely,
SISTER M. I. WILSON

Aug. 23, 1917

Dear Mrs. Hanley,

It is with deep regret that I have to inform you of the death of your brother, Pte. Warren of the Canadian Regiment. I wrote you a few days ago in the hope that he would recover, but head wounds are always of a serious and uncertain character, and, unfortunately, your poor brother's was fatal. For the first three days he seemed to slightly improve. He talked to me of his regiment and his friends in Canada, but on the morning of the fourth day I noticed he was not near so bright. He had developed acute meningitis, and died within twenty-four hours. He was unconscious for the last sixteen hours, so his sufferings were unknown to him.

We are burying him today in a dear little cemetery, and a small cross with his name, etc., on will mark the resting place of another of Canada's brave boys.

Please accept my deepest sympathy in this your great sorrow. He was a brave boy who bore his wound with great fortitude.

May I add that everything possible was done for him, but his time was over here, and God called him home. Yours with deepest sympathy,
SISTER MOLLY WILSON,
Sister in charge of K. Ward
