Death of Henry J. McQuaid

The Fernie B. C. Free Press says:—It is with regret that we have to chronicle the death of Henry J. McQuaid, which occurred at the Fernie Hospital on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McQuaid came from Pincher Creek about two months ago to take a position in the Coal Creek store of Triggs-woods Co. He returned from a trip to Pincher Creek on Tuesday, August 11th and he then complained of suffering from diarrhoea and stomach complaint. He went to his boarding house at Coal Creek mines and was treated by Dr. Kerr. On Thursday he came from Coal Creek on the 6 o'clock train and while sitting in the Alberta Hotel a few moments later he was attacked by a fainting fit and Dr. Bennett was hastily summoned. The sick man did not fully regain consciousness during the night and the next morning he was removed to Fernie Hospital where he continued to grow worse. He became quite delirious at times, and at other times he was able to note his surroundings and speak of his friends. Finally on Tuesday afternoon he passed away. His relatives living at Charlottetown, P. E. I., were communicated with and word was received to ship the body east which was done last evening. The doctor attributed his death to epilepsy. The deceased was a young man of thirty years of age, and was unmarried. He had been in the west for several years, having lived in the Boundary Country for some time where he was engaged in business. During his short residence in Fernie he earned the respect of a large circle of acquaintances who have been shocked at the suddenness of his death.

Rhodes and Sir John.

On the 1st inst., the London Times published a communication from Cape Town, enclosing an original letter written by Cecil Rhodes to Sir John A. McDonald, congratulating him on the results of the general elections in 1891. Mr. Rhodes wrote as follows:—"I have read your manifesto and can understand the issue. If I might express a wish it would be that we could meet before our stern fate claims us. I might write pages, but I feel that I know you and your politics as if we had been friends for years. The whole thing lies in the question, can we invent home ties with the mother country that will prevent separation? There will be a practical solution, which will be of benefit to generations yet unborn. England's course lies in England's politics, who cannot see into the future, and who think that England will always be the manufacturing centre of the world, but do not understand what a system of protection, coupled with reciprocal relations among the different parts of the empire, means. "I have taken the liberty of writing to you. If you honor me with a reply I will write again." A postscript adds:—"You may not know me. I am prime minister of Cape Colony." The letter was dated May 8, 1891. Sir John died on June 6th.
