B. Vining) read the following report:

To the members of the City Mutual Fire Insurance Company of London:
Your directors regret very much to say that this will probably be their last annual report to the members, and for causes hereinative explained they cannot congratulate you on the guesses of the company, but must present you with a picture just the reverse. On the 6th instruments and for causes hereinative explained they cannot congratulate you on the guesses of the company in voluntary liquidation in order to wind up the business, and with this in view named Mr. J. B. Vining as liquidation, and ordered that the notices required as necessary by statute should be given to the Provincial Treasure and the Inspector of Insurance, also in the Octario Gazette to the public. It only remains for the members, therefore, to either indorse or disalow the action of your Board, with the history of the facts consected with the history of the company will be implace here, and from the financial being place here. And from the financial support of the company will be in place here, and from the financial support of the company will be in place here. Mr. Jas. Armstrong seconded the motion.
He regretted exceedingly to have to take that course. The City Mutual had reduced the rate of insurance, despite the attempts of the combine to keep the rates up, and the rates up, and the combine to keep the rates up, and t that course. The City Mutual had reduced the rate of insurance, despite the attempts of the combine to keep the rates up, and was now needed less than before it began its good work.

Mr. D. C. Macdonald said there were promises made to the City Mutual that were not kept. They had started out with fair prospects until the university fire. Previous to that every month showed a large increase in the volume of business. The confidence of the people had been abused by that, chiefly owing to the clamor made by Toronto papers, the misrepresentations in which were copied broadcast over the land. The strongest company in the world could not liquidate better and pay off its liabilities with as little less to the shareholders as the City Mutual. It could pay 100 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Gilbert Roach, of St. Thomas, asked if in talking of paying 100 cents on the dollar in talking of paying 100 cents on the dollar its as mended that the money was at hand or that it could be raised on premium notes. He thought that policy-holders should be returned their premiums on risks made out in November and December, or since the shareholders knew; they were going into liquidation, Mr. Armstrong explained that the premium notes would be collected.

Mr. Roach said that Mr. Blackstock, while canvassing with him in St. Thomas, had assured the policy-holders that they would not have to pay over 20 per cent. of the premium notes more than 20 per cent. If that was all that could be collected.

Mr. Armstrong wished to know the use of making premiumnotes would be returned their uncarned given as mentioned by Mr. Roach. Mr. Vining said that Mr. Blackstock, while canvassing with him in St. Thomas, had assured the policy-holders that they would not have to pay over 20 per cent. of the premium notes in a new years, and used it in my family with the most satisfactory results, I can with confidence say that in my estimation it is the best remeity in the market for the premium notes in the premiums.

Mr. Armstrong wished to know the use of making p

mously.

It was moved by P. Pocock, seconded by D. Black, that the motion of the president and directors of the City Mutual to liquidate and wind up the City Mutual Insurance Company be passed, and that a special general meeting be called for Friday, Feb. 13, for the purpose of passing an extraordinary resolution required by the act for that purpose. Cartied.

Mr. W. McDonough affirmed that he had been deceived by the company's agant, him of the improvements recently made in the plumbing, and her belief that last quarter's rate would be lower than the previous one on that account.

Martin O'Meara represented that he had only one service for his hotel and livery stable. The Board decided that he should be placed on the same footing with other liverymen.

to settle it definitely. Let us have all the meters tested, and a report on the result. The Board decided to have all the meters that had been objected to tested.

The petition of Mary Godfrey for remission of water rate, owing to destitute circumstances, was referred to the inspector. Similar requests from J. Fox, 570 Pall Mail street, and Mrs. Aldridge, 626 Dufferin avenue, were granted on the inspector's recommendations. Commissioner Davis expressed the opinion that the city, in cases of indigent circumstances, should supply the water and not have the Board remit.

A document signed by a number of liverymen was read, asking the reduction of the water rate from 20 to 15 cents per 100 cubic feet, as the manner in which thinks.

started in to take charge of washing and cleaning. It was a new idea; people didn't know about it; when they did find out, they were afraid of it. But look at it now. Every year has been a big advance on the year before - and 1890 a bigger advance than ever. It's the biggest year, against the biggest opposition—smooth-tongued peddlers to fight against, cheap prices and poor quality, prize packages, imitations of all sorts. But Pearline started ahead and has kept there—and now it's farther ahead than ever.

A poor thing can't grow like this. A dangerous thing can't. Find out for yourself why Pearline grows. Ask about it of some one who is using it. Beware of peddlers and imitations.
