GAMES TODAY.
 Detroit at Washington.
 Chicago at Philadelphia.
 St. Louis at Boston.

Washington, Oct. 2.—With Cleveland beating Philadelphia the Tigers practically clinched the American League pennant this afternoon by beating Washington in two games, both of them marked by some of the heaviest hitting of the year. These two splendid victories give the Tigers such a lead now that Philadelphia will have to win all of the five remaining games to win the pennant. If the Athletics do win all five—and this is hardly likely—the Tigers will have to win three of the four games they still have scheduled.

Jennings, however, banks on the Philadelphia club dropping at least one in the five contests remaining, while he is confident his Tigers can take at least two.

Joe Cantillon did his best to beat the Detroiters. He changed pitchers six times in the two games, but could not check the heavy slugging of the Tigers. While the men of Jennings were battling Smith, Falkenberg, Patton and Oberlin all over the lot in the first game and Oberlin and Smith in the second game, George Mullin was holding the Senators at a safe distance all through. Killian opened the first contest, but got into a bad hole in the third inning and retired in favor of Mullin. George continued through the second affair and dazzled the home club by his speed and curves.

Schaefer a Brilliant Star.
 Herman Schaefer was the brilliant star of the day at bat. The great Dutchman made eight hits in the two games, going to bat ten times and only failing to get to first once. He got a base on balls and eight clear hits. Cobb, Crawford and Coughlin were also among the heavy sluggers of the day. All pitchers looked alike to them. Nothing could stop their bats.

The games from the standpoint of a contest amounted to little. The Senators were so overwhelmed by the base-hit shower they could do nothing. In both games the Tigers jumped in early and clinched the victory. In the second game after they had landed a secure lead, they lost interest, their minds being centered on the scoreboard to see the result from Philadelphia. There was some wild-eyed base running that cut off many runs, but the score would have been bigger than the records show.

Well over 5,000 people were on hand to watch the Tigers and from the cheering they did it looked more like a Detroit crowd than that of any other city. When the scoreboard finally announced the Philadelphia results fans flew high in the air and the packed stands shrieked with joy. The Tigers were not their players. In the Detroit club they had no personal interest, but as men they forgot all this. The lads from the city where "life is worth the living" had proven their stamina and fighting powers and everybody was shouting with them.

No more remarkable tribute than that joyous shouting was ever given a ball club on a foreign field.

The double header today meant eight out of nine games for the Detroiters since they took the road to its one of the most remarkable records in the history of the game.

George Mullin Strikes Stride.
 Tonight the Tigers are joyously happy. George Mullin, as was expected, has struck the stride he had this spring. Today he looked as good as he did in bitterly cold weather that marked early summer when he was giving the Tigers their lead that sent them on their way to the top of the ladder.

He had terrific speed, that remarkable curve, ball of his, and splendid control. The Tigers were ahead when he took the box in the first game so victory goes to Killian, but in the second they did not clear a hit off him for four innings. And when they did hit him it was only because he had let up as his team mates had secured such a commanding lead.

Coached by Jennings for hours on the injury done by over confidence, the Tigers went at the Senators with a fury as great as they have displayed against the hardest clubs in the league. Unable to fight them back, but struggling hard, the men of Cantillon slipped back until hopelessly lost. It was then that the near pennant winners took things easy.

Telegrams Pouring In.
 Tonight telegrams poured into Jennings from all points of the country. Wilbur Robinson, Jennings' teammate on the old Baltimore club, led a big band of the Baltimore rovers to Washington today to root for the Tigers at what appeared to be the turning point in the race. Hundreds of Philadelphia and New York baseball followers also attended, while many Detroiters made their presence known. L. E. Johnson, president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, made a trip here in his special car to see the Tigers in action before the world's series.

Jennings was notified by Ban Johnson today that Rossman is fined $100 for his part in that Philadelphia series. But as Claud is not suspended this club will not kick.

The Tigers had their batting eyes with them from the start. Jones and Schaefer. In the very first round of the first game, wasted no time with Fitcher Charley Smith. Jones cracked out a clean single and the Dutchman promptly followed with a rap to right. Joe Cantillon wasted no time, either. He derrickied Smith and sent in Falkenberg, usually his most effective pitcher, against the Detroit club.

Falky started out by fanning Crawford. He then tried to catch Schaefer off first, but the wily Dutchman slid into the bag and in his hurry Blankenship dropped the throw. Jones, who had made third on Schaefer's single, scored. Cobb singled to right and then Schaefer, by a great sprint, went to third. Cobb stole second, opening a star base-stealing day. Coughlin scored Schaefer and Cobb. It was a clean drive over third, after Rossman had fled out. Capt. Bill retired the side by trying to stretch his single into a double, going out on a relayed throw from left.

Senators Find Killian Early.
 The Senators began to get to Killian early. After Jones had been tossed out by Southpaw Eddie, Ganley hit to right. Deleahanty was hit by a pitched ball. He was forced at third on the play. Blankenship singled over second and Ganley forced into a hole home. T. Smith fled to Crawford.

Falkenberg held the Tigers in the second and Killian also had the Senators guessing, but more scores piled in during the third.

Schaefer opened with a single through short and then stole second. Crawford hit to deep center and the Dutchman scored from second. Crawford tried to make second but was thrown out. Cobb was safe on Smith's error and stole second. Rossman walked.

Then followed some futile base work. Ty tried to steal third and was out easily. Rossman made second on the play, but immediately tried to pull off the same trick that Ty failed in. He was out the same way.

In the Washington third Ganley and Deleahanty both fled out, but Killian beat out a punt to third and Killian was gradually forced into a hole from which he was taken to have Mullin do the rescue act. Blankenship followed Mullin's punt with a clean hit to left. T. Smith was walked and the bases were full. Shiple singled to center and Mullin and Blankenship scored. Mullin then got busy. As he went to pitch Cantillon jerked out Block, who had been catching and sent in Warner. Jack retired the side by a fly to O'Leary, who made one of the star catches of the day.

Tigers Reach 'Falky' in Fourth.
 The Tigers had a trail lead of one run, but they got to Falkenberg hard in the fourth. Coughlin opened the inning with a single and made second on Schmidt's sacrifice. O'Leary's grounder to Deleahanty let Capt. Bill run to third. From there he scored on Mullin's hit to secure Jones walking. Schaefer continued his heavy hitting in this round, singling to left. Mullin, by a hard run, scored on the rap. Crawford grounded to short.

George held the Senators in their half and in the fifth the pennant pursuers gleaned another. Falkenberg had a sign of grounding so Cantillon jerked him and sent Case Patton out to the slaughter. Cobb started Case on his troubles by singling to short. He stole second and made man struck out, but Coughlin hit to center and the Georgian crossed the rubber. Schmidt tried to Smith and Coughlin was doubled off first.

The fifth for Washington was again but a futile effort and in the sixth the Tigers went out without gaining any further grounds. But Washington made things look just a little bit uncomfortable in their half by landing two runs. Warner had grounded to Coughlin, but Patton drew a base on balls. Then Ganley hit a long drive to the center field fence for three bases, bringing in Patton. Ganley singled past first and Jones scored. Ganley stole second, but Deleahanty fled to Jones and Miller grounded to O'Leary. The Tigers filled the bases in the seventh, but could not score.

Crawford walked, but Cobb singled to center. Rossman forced Sam at third, grounding to Patton. Coughlin walked and the bases were all lit. Schmidt, however, fouled to Warner and O'Leary popped to Deleahanty. In the eighth they landed on Patton again. Mullin grounded to Deleahanty and Jones fouled to Warner, but Schaefer got his fourth hit. Cobb followed with another to left. Mullin booted the ball and both Schaefer and Crawford scored. Cobb tried to make third, but was out. Mullin to Deleahanty to Shiple. In the ninth Cantillon sent Oberlin in and he retired the Tigers in order. The score:

THIRD GAME.
 The second game was the big slugger. It was so one-sided that neither players nor spectators took any great interest in it. With Mullin pitching almost perfect ball in the first inning and with the Tigers batting every body Cantillon sent to the box, the interest of the day for that time was centered in the actions of a little boy with red hair and a mass of freckles, who took a splendid delight in imitating Jennings, instead of taking care of his scorebook.

Every time he did so work and posted the result of the Philadelphia-Cleveland game. There was either a cheer or a groan. From the first two innings on it was plain to see that Detroit would win two games, and the contest did not arouse any great interest of itself.

Schaefer, as in the first game, was again the heavy hitter, with Crawford, Cobb and Schmidt landing on the ball consistently. Cantillon sent Oberlin right back in to start the second affair. But he lasted only one inning. The Tigers knocked him out of the box. Then Smith was sent back in. They greeted Smith as they did in the first, but Cantillon did not let him out this time, as the game was gone.

After Jones had been tossed out by Smith in the first inning, Schaefer put the Tigers on their way with a drive to left for a base and score. He sent a drive into the center field crowd for two bases, Schaefer being held at third owing to ground rules. But Cobb brought both men in with a smash to left. Cobb took second on Ganley's throw and Shiple advanced on Rossman's single. Coughlin was thrown out by O'Brien and Rossman was caught trying to make third. Blankenship to Shiple.

Mullin forced Mullin to foul to Schmidt. Washington's half. Ganley was an easy out, rolling to Schaefer, and Deleahanty fled to Cobb. Then the Tigers continued their merry march.

Schmidt singled to right and O'Leary smashed one over second, sending Schmidt to third. Schmidt scored when Mullin lined to Mullin. O'Leary reached second on the play and made the plate on a single to left by Jones.

Davy stole the bases full. But Cobb struck out. Schaefer walked. Crawford hit sharply to short and Jones scored. Sam being safe at first. Cobb forced Crawford, grounding to Deleahanty. Del then tried to try for a double play. Cobb swung there ahead of the ball, but Blankenship retired the side anyway by throwing to the plate. Schaefer making a wild attempt to score on the play.

Then until the ninth inning the Tigers did no scoring, although they had many chances. They ran bases without judgment and made more of a frolic of it than a ball game.

In the fourth inning, after Mullin had fanned, Jones made first because his third strike was a passed ball and he beat Warner's throw. Davy stole second and went to third when Schaefer singled to short. The Dutchman himself stole second, Crawford walked and the bases were full. But Cobb struck out and Rossman grounded to the pitcher's box.

Napoleons Trim Philadelphia; Quakers Virtually Out of Race

Opportune Hitting Turns the Trick for the Winners.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—Thielman's steadiness with men on bases proved a stumbling block to the Athletics, and nearly put them out of the race for the pennant.

Philadelphia scored twice in the fourth, but Lajoie's men also got a tally, keeping them in the lead.

Both got a man past third in the seventh, after which the scoring subsided.

Athletics made eleven safeties off Thielman, but could not bunch them. Ed Plank struck out eleven Clevelanders, and held them to seven hits.

Connie Mack must take all of the remaining games to have a show in the much-sought-after pennant, while Detroit must drop two to lose out. The score:

Gans Turns Title Over to Memsic

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Joe Gans has turned over his lightweight championship to George Memsic. The ring of the 122-pound division yesterday made good his promise to quit the ring, and at the same time paid a great compliment to the young Chicago fighter who fought him to a standstill Friday night.

It was at a meeting of the pair, who battled so viciously but a few days ago, that Gans made known his intention of retiring from the ring until the public should demand his reappearance. Meeting Memsic down town, the great colored fighter, offered his hand to the Chicago lad, and said:

"You fought a good fight and surprised me. I think that you can whip any man in the world, harring myself. To prove this, I am going to turn over to you the title of lightweight champion, and I want you to promise me you will never draw the color line. When a good colored boy comes along—a worthy opponent—you are to give him a chance to win the championship."

Memsic promised that he would do this.

"Then that goes," said Joe, and the men shook hands.

"If the public demands it of me, I will fight you again," said Gans. "For the present I want to go back to Baltimore and attend to business. If anybody bothers me for a fight I will send him to you as the holder of the title."

Gans then suggested that Memsic secure a match with either Nelson or Paddy McElver, intimating that he might be induced to return to Los Angeles to meet the winner some time this winter.

Good Rugby at Tecumseh Park Last Night—First Team Wins

In a hotly-contested struggle last night at Tecumseh Park, the first team of the London Rugby Club trimmed the second team by a score of 9 to 0.

The boys went into the battle with a vim, which augurs ill for their opponents during the coming season. Tonight another contest will be played. The first team, which is picked as follows, will meet the pick of the remaining candidates:

Hague, f.b.; Whetter, Bole, Jackson, halves; Wood, q.; Rau, Young, Brown, scrummers; Watson, Rowlands, Moore, Sage, McEwen, Gilmore, wings.

The contest will begin at 8 p.m. sharp, and at its conclusion a captain for the regular team will be elected.

Federation Bars Coley, Longboat, O'Rourke, Welsh and Others

The New York Times says: After the successful meet in Montreal on Saturday and a subsequent conference with James E. Sullivan, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, the Federation of Amateur Athletes of Canada have agreed to recognize the decision of the Amateur Athletic Union, and will not permit men who have been disqualified by the governing body in this country to compete. This list includes such men as Longboat, Coley, O'Rourke, and Welsh, who were placed under the ban for competing at Buffalo on Labor Day. All Canadians who engage in contests against men disqualified by the Amateur Athletic Union will be ineligible to compete at games sanctioned by the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association of the Federation.

As showing its appreciation of the work done by the Amateur Athletes of Canada in co-operation to make the Canadian championship a success, the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association will send a strong team to the indoor championships of the Amateur Athletic Union in New York on Oct. 25 and 26. A large number of Montreal officials will accompany the team.

Former London Horseman Clears Over $2,100 on Trotting Horse

Mr. D. T. Pinkney, of the Royal Hotel, Seaford, and formerly of London, has just sold his well-known trotting mare, Queen of Woodcliffe, to Mr. Geo. Castles, a Chicago millionaire horseman, for $2,500. The deal was completed last week at Grand Rapids, Queen of Woodcliffe is six years old, and a most promising mare. She is a thoroughbred, and was purchased at Grand Rapids a year ago by Mr. Pinkney for $300. This is her first season on the track, and after touring the Michigan circuit, where she was always inside the money, and got a mark of 2:17 1/2. She gives promise of being very fast, and next year will show what is in her.
