was a shivery line of people that stood on the market this morning, swathed to the eyes, waiting for purchasers. There were not many of them, but they came fairly well supplied, and as very few purchasers, except the regular merthan buyers, ventured out, there was a very brisk demand for butter and eggs this morning, and the butter and eggs this morning, and the part of sale of such as was offered went-merrily.

There will be rejoicing in the house-exper's heart over the fact that eggs ere down. The drop is becoming fairly perceptible now. One large buyer on the market claims to have bought wholesale quantities of strictly frash eggs at 26c and 27c a dozen. The most cheerful fact about it, however, is that the supply is increasing. One man who sells his eggs the crate lot, states that the supply substantial increase at that, The hens, according to him, are a trifle reluctant to lay in this weather; "but just walt until there is a little warm veather," he remarked, "then there will be a supply." Even now, according to this man, he is getting half a dozen crates of eggs where he formerly only had two. Lent is serving to hold the price up a little, as also the high prices of meat, but the supply will soon be suffmeat, but the supply will soon be seen clear to meet this extra demand easily, firemen and telegraphers demand a genand people will soon be able to eat eggs eral wage increase approximating twenty without feeling as if they were putting per cent.

Butter Market. Butter is fairly plentiful, though the Black Lake, pref. supply on this morning's market was somewhat slim, and the prices show a tendency to be somewhat easier. Quite a Bell Telephone supply of very good quality is being disposed of at 2ic and 25c. With the coming of spring there will, of course, be a osed of at 21c and 25c. With the compared of at 21c and 25c. With the compared of at 21c and 25c. With the compared of a principle of course, be a considerable increase in the supply.

The vegetables offered today were mostof the root variety, turnips, potatoes and carrots being quite in evidence. Caband carrots being quite in evidence. Cab-bages were fairly plentiful, and there was ouste a good demand, as people have a hunger for anything that has a look of green about it. Some celery was offered and sold well at 30c to 40c a dozen.

ing replies from the Government London, Feb. 23. - Affairs political now appear likely to simmer for some weeks until the matter of finance is disposed of, unless the revolt of the advanced radicals spreads. In the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith, replying to a quesment had no intention of introducing a home rule bill for Ireland during the present session. In moving the tariff reform amend ment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne in the House this afternoon, Austin made a plea for a fiscal system that should afford a preference to productions, so as to give employment to the people, and, second, a preference to British productions over-seas, to the end that the empire might be more closely consolidated. "The test of any fiscal system," he said, "is the provision it makes the comfortable subsistence of the largest number." "The situation in the United States is constantly referred to," he continued. "but they have duties out of all comparison with anything suggested here. It is not the American tariff that has preserved the trusts in the United States, but the weakness of the central authority in America, the great complexity of state jurisdiction, and public authority bring the law to bear successfully upor them.
