YBERRY IS GIVING AWAY WEIGHT IN O'DOWD MINGLE

Columbus Scrapper Sizes Up Like Bad Medicine For Champion.

IS YEAR YOUNGER

Howard Mayberry, new bantamweight champion of Canada, will not only be giving away weight when he takes on Phil O'Dowd, rugged Columnight, but a little edge on youth as well. Mayberry, despite the fact that O'Dowd has been closer to where the world's championship rests than the Canadian champion, however, has a year's longer experience in the ring, it develops when their records are conned. Why Mayberry chose London to work in Friday night is clear enough. He wanted work certainly, and probably a fight out of his system before he settles into the big task of sweeping Carl Tremaine out of his path in Toronto next month. But why he chose to put no bars up against anything in the division is a little bit puzzling. Champions, no matter how new they are, generally become very cautious about whom they'll meet.

Was Champ Careless? bus, Ohio, boxer, at the Arena Friday Was Champ Careless?

Was Champ Careless?

Mayberry is a champion without question, but it looks as if he had a careless moment when he agreed to O'Dowd. The Columbus boy, judging by his past bouts, has had everything in the past except the opportunity to become a champion, and sizes up like bad medicine for the Canadian chambar to tackle.

pion to tackle.
O'Dowd is not only a stiff puncher, but he's clever, and, without official records to prove it, has met more topnotchers than Mayberry. However, it's Mayberry's crown, and he has to pay his own board bill this winter, so it looks like his lookout. to tackle looks like his lookout

Judges Chosen.

Because Friday night's main bout involves a title, and because it will probably be a points decision. Tom Cook and Sergt. Tommy Wallace have been chosen as judges. Cook has had a good deal of judging experience, and Wallace, as a former army champion and a veteran trainer, knows the game thoroughly.

and a veteran trainer, knows the game thoroughly.

A. T. Taylor will be the third man in the ring. Taylor has handled bouts in London for a good many years, and his decisions have always given satisfaction, which is more than can be said of some refereeing which London has been subjected to in the past. He will see that the home club gets riat action, but he'll probably have to do more prying apart than prodding this trib.

Terms Easy.

The new clubs desirous of securing these players have only to accept the terms laid down, which are not very stiff, in order to transfer the pair to their salary list.

The consensus of local opinion regarding the entry of the two new teams is that the league will go bigger than ever before. There is plenty of room for two clubs in Montreal, where hockey is a major sport, and the Boston entry will start with possibly more financial backing than any other team in the league. start with possibly more financial backing than any other team in the league. Charles Adams, the owner of the Beaneaters, is the proprietor of a chain of grocery stores in the Hub, and is well able to go the limit for his hobby. No expense will be spared to give the Americans a real team.

Last year the first string amateur team in Boston drew down over $150,-600 in grate receipts for its home games.

000 in gate receipts for its home games. This is assurance that the game has a firm grasp on the fans, and as long as firm grasp on the fans, and as long as the pros do business at this rate the steep expense incurred by other teams through the long jump to that city will make no material difference. The new schedule calling for three games a week at home means that the fans will be able to have all the hockey they want, but the short season and the love of the game should be plenty to keep the arena filled.

are at fault. The Corinthians under estimated the playing strength of the Canadian teams, and the dominion body is to be blamed for not insisting on only first-class players being on the touring team. Mowrey and Savage Back Lineup For St. Michaels Game.

EVEN IN WEIGH

Mowrey and Savage will be back in the game for Western's great effort against St. Michaels, scheduled for Tecumseh park Saturday afterhoon. These two additions and the way the Western players tackle their daily toll with the oval augur a billous tinge to the green on Saturday.

The Purple and White will be fighting with their backs to the wall Saturday, and no team wearing the colors in several seasons has seemed to display the aggressive spirit that Fickley's men are showing this season. Before this year St. Mikes have generally been outweighed by Western teams, but they've made speed, trickiness and the results of splendid drilling tell. This year Western will be about even on poundage and, by casual observation of their drilling, even in strategy, and it should develop into one of the finest and closest rugby battles seen here in the intercollegiate campaigns.

Coach Fickley has apparently not made the mistake of trying to give his young charges too much football to digest in one season. He has relied on instilling the principles of straight football, with enough new plays to give his team the element of surprise and to instil in their play plenty of variety. What happens after the whistle blows is often as much of a discouraging surprise to the coach as it is to the fans. Teams get a wrong start, somebody has an off day, and there are the breaks in rugby just as well as there are in other sports, even if in less degree. The Westerners, however, showed plenty of poise last Saturday, and there is no reason to believe that the unexpected will disorganize them the day after tomorrow.

A band, parade and a raucous-voiced, peppy cheer section has heen drilling all. Mowrey and Savage will be back in the game for Western's great effort better if it had never taken place. It is a question if the Corinthians will ever again tour Canada.

Tom Muirhead, formerly of Glasgow Rangers, and now manager of the Bethlehem team, writes on what he calls the "American Menace":

"The best and only way to combat it is by revolutionizing the one-sided contract and rules at present in vogue in Scotland. An efficiency clause! Ye gods! What infamy and self-condemnation! The inefficiency commences in the board room. If a club signs a player for one year, they ought to carry their burden—if the matter of $750 or $1,000 can be called that. Yes, scrap this clause and substitute it with one that all players must work wherever it is possible. Does work impair a player's ability? Ask Alan Morton. Would Alan Morton have been any better than he is if he hadn't worked? He wouldn't."

In Muirhead's case there was no efficiency clause to hasten his steps to the United States. He left Scotland because Rangers objected to his taking up a traveller's appointment in a wine merchant's business. John Ballantyne did not find the inefficiency clause a reason for breaking faith with Partick Thistle; nor did William Patterson, the Dunfermline goalkeeper.

After the ball has been hit, however, "swing through" at arm's length in the direction of the line of flight taken by the ball—after that, nothing matters. Montreal on saturday two schedules were submitted, one calling for 15 games at home for each team, with the other calling for 20 home games. If the longer schedule is adopted, it means that the season will open two weeks earlier than usual and each team will have to play three games a week instead of two, as in past seasons. The schedule will be so arranged that the Hamilton and Toronto teams can break the long jump to Boston by playing at Montreal either going or coming. The travelling expenses are going to be much heavier for all concerned than in past years, but with six clubs in the league the games are going to be much eavier for all concerned than in past years, but with six clubs in the league the games are going to emore attractive, and the attendance will naturally be larger.
