ing in favor of, and Trustees Lovell the ward boiler The North ward bailer matter, came up again in a latter from Mr. Flett, the sub-contractor offering to give house for the bollers satisfactory performance or to put in another one. The question was discussed at length, and then a motion was made by Trustee Yates that the matter be not again considered. This was lost and the question being that again opened up the Board adjourned without taking any fur-ther action, it being past eleven o'clock and Trustee Yates threatening to have the whole voluminous reports read over again.

of last month's blizzard. The snowfall, which began at an early hoar this morning, continued all day and seriously interfered with traffic. About four inches fell and the 40 miles an hoar wind drifted it badly. Early to night the snow stopped falling, but the temperature began to work its way toward the jzero mark. Along the route of the drainage cansi the storm reged furionaly, compelling the abandonment of work on every section. The mow was swept down several feet in the bottom of the artificial water hed. The revival of winter was not confined to this region, the storm helt extending from St. Paul to Springfield, III.

LONDON, March 28.—The pooling confer-ence with representatives of the trans-stlantic steamship lines, will begin in Bremen on Friday. The result of the con-ference cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty, but local opinion is that the rates of pessege will be notably increased, to take effect early in May.

LONDON, March 28.—The British ship Yesso, which sailed from Baltimore for Bris-tol, was sunk near Hiracombe by colliding with the schooner Lizzie B. Wilce last even-ing. The captain, two of the crew and a stowaway are missing. The remainder, 23 in all, succeeded in reaching shore.
