Henry Clews says the Reading excitement has not materially affected our relations with London market. Some orders for those securities have been received here, but the sales at the high prices a good deal more than offset the purchases. The London market shows more steadiness and more symptoms of returning confidence in the Baring group of investments. The total amount of n w loans and new companies brought out in London since Jan. I falls about $19,000.000 below that for the same period of 1891; a change which would seem favorable to an increased demand for foreign investments: but it may be expected that England will discriminate against American issues until it but it may be expected that England discriminate against American issues unti becomes more apparent what is to be the fut

Wall-Street and the Coalers.

Wall-Street and the Coalers.

The prevailing feeling in Wall-street towards the anthracite stocks is naturally one ofdistrust. The amalgamation is regarded as a dubious experiment. It is viewed as a fresh attempt to galvanize Reading into life, after the failure of one equally sanctioned by great names, bolstered by splendid promises and executed at a cost of some millions four years ago. In fact, after many years' experience of revamped corporations, Wall-street has come to regard all tinkered railroads with severe caution, as not one in five of them realizes the large promises made for them by the highly reputable galvanizers. The formation of this anthracite combination ads $382,500,000 to this experimental list of security issues. Thatffart will in future range these properties among the most fluctuating and uncertain on the market. The majority of operators, while neglecting the coalers, are giving correspondingly more attention to the remainder of the list, and present indications favor the prospect of a healthy tone of business during the spring months.

BREAKFAST. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocon Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the fudicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hunarets of subte maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well critical with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
