He had never spent a dollar, or twenty-five cents, or five cents, for an unnecessary thing, and kept his money in a bank where it gathered a small interest. I am a great believer in the Bible, you know, and I always kept two placards, in big letters, up in the store. On one was this text: "He that is faithful also in that which is least, is faithful also in that which is much," and on the other: "He that is diligent in business shall stand the content of the sol whatever potash it had abstracted. But if the land be sandy this return is not enough. More potash must be applied or the fruit will suffer and the vine itself will have its vitality weakened—
