

IOWA, the French form of an Indian word, signifying "the drowsy" or "the sleepy ones"; a Sioux name of the Pahoja or "Gray snow tribe," (Nat. Stand. Dictionary.)

IGLISMÔNKI, (Abenakis), England, (lit : Englishman's land.)

ILLÔDAKKI, (Abenakis), Ireland, (lit : Irishman's land.)

IGLISMÔN, (Abenakis), Englishman; English people. The English militia, makiwasawat, (lit. signification : who wears a red uniform.)

KAANAWAGI, the name by which the Abenakis designate the Indian Reserve of the Iroquois tribe, known under the name of Caughnawaga.

KAANAWAGIHNONO, (Abenakis), the Iroquois tribe of Caughnawaga.

KAMOURASKA, probably from, ska môraskua (old Abenakis), ska môlaskua, (modern expression), there is some white birch bark, or perhaps for : there are some white birch trees.

KANAS, probably from : Kanosas, which means, willow.

KATAHDIN, (Abenakis), for K'aden, the big or high mountain.

KEARSARGE, probably from : Kesarzet, (old Abenakis), the proud or selfish.