

	PAGE
Dearth of native wit	57
A horse-race—Curious mode of betting on the course	58
Detestable practice of boxing	59

LETTER XXVII.

Manners and customs of the Upper Province — Want of hospitality among the Canadians	62
Their Winter visits	66
Their avarice, and various modes of gaining money	68
Barter	72
Dr. Howison's testimony on these topics.	75

LETTER XXVIII.

Manners and customs of Upper Canada—no proper criterion by which to form a judgment of the crimes committed	81
Frequency of cases of seduction	83
An unhappy instance of this, and its fatal termination.	84

LETTER XXIX.

Education of a Canadian	94
Early indulgence and expertness	95
Entrance on active life—his marriage and settlement	99
Log-hut and furniture	101
Independence and providence	103
Their results	107

LETTER XXX.

Manners and customs in Upper Canada — Want of excitements to mental improvement	110
General want of education	114
Anecdote	115
Valuable nature of juvenile labour	119
Legislative enactments for the encouragement of Schools	121

LETTER XXXI.

State of Religion and Morals in Upper Canada	123
Horrid crime of swearing	126
Reasons for the deterioration in the morality of many Settlers	130
Their insulated situation	134