

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

HOW TO PRIZE GOOD FORTUNE.

In the year preceding the French revolution, a servant girl in Paris had the good fortune to gain a prize of fifteen hundred pounds in the lottery. She immediately waited on the parish priest, and generously put two hundred louis d'ors into his hands, for the relief of the most indigent and industrious poor in the district; accompanying the donation with this admirable and just observation, "Fortune could only have been kind to me, in order that I might be kind to others."

Cow Bay, Cape Breton, is a charming summer resort, and tourists who are in search of comfortable accommodations and superior attendance, would do well to patronize the Favorite Hotel, Meadow Cottage. Its proprietress sends us the following, which speaks for itself:—

Cow Bay, C. B., May 17, 1887.

MESSRS. BROWN BROS. & CO., HALIFAX, N. S.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been terribly troubled with rheumatic stiffness in the cords of my hands, and for seven years I have not been able to do any needle work or sewing. I spent a great many dollars in trying to find relief, but without success, until six months ago I used a bottle of Simon's Liment, which has acted like magic. My fingers have regained their suppleness, which I despaired of ever returning, and now, after applying the contents of two bottles, I can sew for hours without fatigue to my hands.

Yours truly,

MRS. A. I. ANDERSON.

HOW TO MAKE A SHORT SWORD LONG.—A king of Arabia showing his courtiers a Dama cene sword that had been presented to him, it was the opinion of them all, that the only fault it had, was its being too short. The king's son, who was present, observed, that there was no weapon too short for a brave man, as there needed no more but to advance one step to make it long enough. The sufficiency of the heart supplies whatever is wanting.

PUTTNER EMULSION CO.:

I have frequently prescribed your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, containing Hypophosphites and Pancreatine, for the last two years with good results in all cases where Cod Liver Oil was indicated. It has the advantage over pure oil of being easily taken by the most delicate persons, and rarely fails to give satisfaction.

W. M. CAMERON, M. D.

MASSACRE OF THE HUGENOTS.—When Catherine of Medicis had persuaded Charles IX. to massacre all the protestants in France, orders were sent to the governors of the different provinces to put the Huguenots to death in their respective districts. One Catholic governor, whose memory will ever be dear to humanity, had the courage to disobey the cruel mandate. "Sire," said he, in a letter to his sovereign, "I have too much respect for your majesty, not to persuade myself that the order I have received must be forged; but if, which God forbid, it should be really the order of your majesty, I have too much respect for the personal character of my sovereign to obey it."

After considerable observation of the use of Puttner's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in the wards of the Provincial and City Hospital, I consider it a very excellent preparation, being especially serviceable in scrofulous and wasting diseases of the young.

W. B. MOORE, M. D., C. M.,

Kentville, N. S.

Late House Surgeon Prov. and City Hosp.

GENEROUS HIGHWAYMAN.—Hawke, the noted highwayman, one evening stopped a gentleman, and bade him deliver his money; the latter protested that he had none, but was flying from his creditors in order to avoid a gaol. Hawke, pitying his unhappy situation, inquired how much would relieve his wants? He was answered, thirty guineas. Hawke then directed the gentleman to go to a house not far distant and wait until nine o'clock next morning, and he would bring him something that would relieve him. The gentleman went; and before the time expired, Hawke made his appearance, and presented him with fifty guineas, saying, "Sir, I present this to you with all my heart, wishing you well. Hesitate not, for you are welcome to it." The generous highwayman having done this, immediately took his leave.

TRURO, N. S., Sept. 8, 1879.

The great benefit I have received from your Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Hypophosphites in private practice, induces me to give my testimony in its favor. I consider it the best and most palatable compound of the kind in the market. Truly yours,

W. S. MUIR, M. D.,

C. M., L. R. S. P. and L. R. C. S., Ed.,
Late House Surgeon P. & C. Hospital.

P. S.—I have been giving your Compound to a great many children after Scarlet Fever, and find it just the thing. They can take it when almost everything else will be refused.

W. S. M.

MICHAEL ANGELO.—This great man from his infancy exhibited a strong inclination for painting, and made so rapid a progress in it, that he is said, at the age of fourteen, to have been able to correct the drawings of his master, Dominico Grillandaio. When he was an old man, one of those drawings being shown to him, he modestly said, "In my youth I was a better artist than I am now."

It affords me much pleasure to add my testimony to that already given in favor of your "Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites." I have used it in my practice and with most excellent results, in the cases of Phthisis and in children recovering from acute lung affections. Its agreeable character renders it particularly valuable among children and delicate persons. I am, yours, &c.,

H. F. CUNNINGHAM, M. D.,

Surgeon to the Dartmouth Dispensary.

GALLANT MIDSHIPMAN.—In the year 1757, the Antelope, commanded by Captain Hood, engaged two French men-of-war off Brest. During the engagement, a young gentleman on board the Antelope, only sixteen years of age, while gallantly assisting on the quarter-deck, had both his legs shot off, and was carried below to the surgeon. Hearing the ship's crew cheering, he flourished his hand over his head, and with his latest breath uttered an huzza to the honor of the British Navy.

PUGHASH, Nov. 12, 1884.

PUTTNER EMULSION CO., Halifax:

Gentlemen,—I have used Puttner's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, &c. for a number of years, and have found it a remedy of great use in many forms of disease, especially in pulmonary complaints, Scrofula, Anæmia, and in fact in any state of the system showing a depraved condition of the blood, with lack of tone and deterioration of vital forces. I have also used it with very much satisfaction in wasting diseases of children, and some other complaints incidental to childhood.

R. A. DAKIN, M. D.

BENCH AND BAR—THEIR DUTIES.—In the famous trial of the Deau of St. Asaph, Mr. Erskine put a question to the jury, relative to the meaning of their verdict. Mr. Justice Buller objected to its propriety. The counsel reiterated his question, and demanded an answer. The judge again interposed his authority in these emphatic words: "Sit down, Mr. Erskine, know your duty, or I shall be obliged to make you know it." Mr. Erskine with equal warmth replied, "I know my duty as well as your lordship knows your duty. I stand here as the advocate of a fellow-citizen, and I will not sit down." The judge was silent, and the advocate persisted in his question.

HALIFAX, October 3, 1882.

MESSRS. PUTTNER EMULSION CO., Halifax, N. S.:

Gentlemen,—We have pleasure in stating that our sales of your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil are steadily increasing,—amounting now to about a thousand bottles monthly, and that it seems to give very general satisfaction. During our long experience—over fifty years—in the drug business, we have seldom met with any preparation of similar character which has obtained so large a sale, or so wide a popularity, not only with the general public but also amongst medical men. These results, we believe, are largely due to the merits of your speciality, as well as to the skill with which it is prepared, and the moderate price at which it is supplied to the consumer. Yours respectfully,

BROWN & WEBB.

THE GREAT DUKE OF ARGYLE.—At the siege of Mons, during the glorious career of Marlborough, the Duke of Argyle joined an attacking corps when it was on the point of shrinking from the contest; and pushing among them, open-breasted, he exclaimed, "You see, brothers, I have no concealed armor; I am equally exposed with you; I require none to go where I shall refuse to venture. Remember you fight for the liberties of Europe, and the glory of your nation, which shall never suffer by my behavior; and I hope the character of a Briton is as dear to every one of you." This spirit animated the soldiers; the assault was made, and the work was carried.

H. A. TAYLOR, Esquire, President N. S. Pharmaceutical Society, says:—Taking all in all, I sell more of your Emulsion than all others combined, and have heard very favorable reports of benefits from its use. I consider it the best Cream or Emulsion offered to the public. It being scientifically prepared, it remains permanent and unchanged.

OBEDIENCE OF ORDERS.—A naval commander, in the reign of Queen Anne, was ordered to cruise with a squadron within certain limits on the coast of Spain. Having received information that a Spanish fleet was in Vigo, beyond his limits, he resolved to risk his personal responsibility for the good of his country; he accordingly attacked and defeated the Spanish fleet, with uncommon gallantry. When he joined the Admiral under whom he served, he was ordered under arrest, and was asked, if he did not know that, by the articles of war, he was liable to be shot for disobedience of orders? He replied with great composure, that he was very sensible that he was, but added, "The man who is afraid to risk his life in any way when the good of his country requires it, is unworthy of a command in her majesty's service."

(From a Druggist of 18 years' standing)

During my experience of eighteen years I have not seen nor known of any preparation which has given such universal satisfaction as "Puttner's Emulsion," and I shall continue to recommend it as a safe and valuable medicine.

C. F. COCHRAN,

Chemist and Druggist, Kentville.

PRIZE OF IMMORTALITY.—On its being once remarked to Zeuxis, that he was very long in finishing his works, he replied, "I am, indeed, a long time in finishing my works; but what I paint is for eternity."