

To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses.
Daniel ix. 9.

MR. BLAKE'S BIBLE CLASS.

Friends will please bear in mind that this class meets at 4.30 instead of 4.50 p.m. each Saturday.

LECTURES.

 R. Lewis's lecture on "Vocal Culture," delivered in our Rooms on the opening evening of the Elocution Class, was an occasion of much interest and profit. The attendance was large, and one result has been, the organization of a very encouraging class.

On Tuesday last (18th.) Ald. J. T. Moore delivered the second lecture of our "Members Course," the subject being "From the Lakes to the Rockies." The lecturer was greeted by an audience of such proportions as to occupy every seat in the room. For over one hour and a half, Mr. Moore held the undivided attention of the audience, and the frequent plaudits gave evidence of the interest he was imparting to the subject in hand. The chair was occupied by Mr. L. C. Peake, Chairman of the Lecture Committee.

TRUTH AND FALSEHOOD.

I once asked a deaf and dumb boy, "What is truth?" He replied by thrusting his finger forward in a straight line. I then asked him, "What is falsehood?" when he made a zigzag with his finger.

YOUNG MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Every Monday Evening,

AT 8 O'CLOCK.

ALL INVITED.

OUR CRAFT IS SMALL.

When the hardy Norwegian puts out to sea,
With his sails well trimmed, and the rocks a-lee,
Ere upon his sight the land grows dim,
He chants for protection this well-worn hymn,
"God help us all, whatever befall!
For the ocean is vast, and our craft is small."

So ever as dashes the ocean's wave,
With a tried, true soul, and a heart as brave,
He looks aloft through the rack of the storm,
And pierces the void for a formless form;
For he knows and feels, whatever befall,
That God is great, though his craft is small.

God help us all in this voyage of life!
God keep us pure from its stain and strife,
And wherever may dash the angry wave,
Teach us to say, with a spirit brave,
God help us all, whatever befall,
For Thou art so vast, and we so small.
GUNNISON.

"That disciple whom Jesus loved did outrun Peter." If we would be quick runners in "the race that is set before us," it must be by "looking off unto Jesus," not by boasting of our love for Jesus, or even thinking of it. — Selected.
