OFFICERS OF THE ACTIVE MILITIA.

We beg to offer our thanks for the orders we have been favored with during the past year. With our increased facilities for filling orders, we hope to be more prompt than ever in attending to the wants of our patrons; as the coming drill season is likely to be a very busy one for us, owing to the reported large number of corps to be drilled, we would ask all intending purchasers to favor us with their orders at an early date, so that we may do justice to them.

HOTCHKISS 2-PDR. FIELD GUN.

Every Regiment of Militia should have an auxiliary weapon capable of Artillery Work Give them a light piece of Artillery that does not require horses or trained artillerymen to use it, and they will be capable of any work required.

"There were used in the campaign eleven guns. Reports were received from fourteen officers who had an opportunity to see the work of the gun, and, without an exception, they highly recommend it."—[Extract from official report of Capt. J. C. Ayres, U. S. Ordnance Department.

"Was used in my presence, and under my command, at two engagements with hostile Indians in South Dakota. The fire was effective, and the gun is all that is claimed for it."—[Extract from official report of Capt. Allyn Capron, 1st U. S. Artillery.

HOTCHKISS REVOLVING CANNON. A gun for Militia Batteries should have less range than high-powered rifled guns, but should be more destructive at shorter ranges; while horses may be used for hauling it, they should not be essential to manoeuvring it; and if possible it should combine the uses of bullet-firing machine guns with the power of artillery. The Hotchkiss Revolving Cannon meets all of the requirements named, and is the ideal gun for Militia Batteries.

"As an artillery arm for our national militia organizations it has at present no superior."—[Extract from annual report of Chief of Ordnance, United States Army.

"They are the most destructive guns against troops of any that have yet been used in the service of our government."—[Extract from official report of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. Army.
