Catholicity is making great progress on the Gilbert Islands, that Pacific group lately taken possession of by England.

Three ministers of the Established Church of England have joined the Catholic Church since the beginning of this month.

Rev. J. L. O'Neil, O.P., has been transferred from Memphis, Tenn., to New York City, to resume the editorial work of the Rosary Magazine, of which he was founder and first editor. Henry Adams, formerly rector of St.

Paul's Cathedral, in Buffalo, N.Y., and a recent convert to the Catholic Church, lectured in that city recently. In the addience were many of his former parishioners, who gave him a hearty welcome There are 108 Catholic churches in Chicago, 98 of which have resident pastors, and ten are attended from other parishes. The 98 are divided as follows Inglish 51, German 22, French 5, Polish 1, Bohemian 6, Italian 1, Arabian 1, Lithuanian 1. The Burman Catholic News publishes the statistics of conversions in the Apostolic Vicarate of Lower Burman, for the welve months ending July 31, 1893. They are as follows: Baptisms of con-Yerts from Paganism, 1041; converts from Protestantism, 22; total, 1063. The nocturnal exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, under the auspices of the League of the Sacred Heart, was introduced for the first time in New York last week, beginning at the Cathedral. The members of the League were divided into bands of 100 each, and releved each other every hour.

Brother Maxwell, superior general of the Irish Christian Brothers, celebrated he golden jubilee of his entrance into be order recently. His Grace the Arch-bishop of Dublin presided at High Mass, which was celebrated in the chapel of O'Brien Institute, Clontarf. The Holy Father sent his benediction to the jubijarian.

Brother John McElroy, S.J., died at Mary's Church, Boston, Mass., on Monday of last week. Paralysis of the brain was the cause of death. He was the cldest member of the brotherhood of the Jesuit order in the United States. He was born in Ireland, May 1, 1812, and spent the last forty-seven years of his life at St. Mary's.

An Indian found a worm-eaten leaf which showed a tracing of the Virgin Mary at the City of Mexico on Saturday last. He showed it to his master, who said any worm could do it as well, and enapped the leaf with a cane. In revenge the Indian that night burnt the haciende and 1,000 bales of cotton. general rising of the Indians is feared.

Caughanawaga Indians are holding services to celebrate the conversion of the wife of their chief to the Catholic faith. She is the wife of Big Medicine, known among the whites as Deer. He is a lacrosse blaver and rook part in the indeer Player, and took part in the indoor cames at Madison square gardens a few Sears ago. The convert is a handsome Young American woman.

The cause of death was rheumatism of the heart. An item recently appeared in the lice press announcing that the Catholic Order of Foresters in Illinois had made a proposition towards consolidating with the Independent Order of Foresters. This report has been promptly denied by the High Secretary. The Catholic Order of Foresters everywhere is happily have a speed of consolidating with any other society, and was never in a more flourishing condition.

Home Rule a Certainty.

In its retrospect of the past year the Liverpool Catholic Times points out that politically 1893 will remain noteworthy for the acceptance of Home Rule by the Commons and its rejection by the Lords. Never before, perhaps, did a constitutional struggle produce such fierce controversy, and the rejoicing of Conservatives and Liberal Unionists was propertionately great when the bill was thrown out by the Upper House. They have, however, had some time for reflection since then, and, at this moment, there are probably very few of them who are not convinced that the concession of Home Rule, though it may be delayed, is a certainty, and that the time is coming when the Upper Chamber will suffer retribution for its action.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Wife: "How is my hasband this morning? Doctor: "He has a very high fever."
Wife: "That's just like him. He always wants the best of everything."

Safe.-"So you are going to marry? Have you anything laid up?"
"Yes; I've got a rich uncle laid up with a paralytic stroke, an' I'm his only survivin' relative."

"Well, I'm not going to run any such risks, my dear."

"That's just like you John! Ever since you got your life insured you've been awfully afraid you'd get killed!"

First Twin-Well, what do you think of this world, any way? Second Twin—Pretty rocky.

Mrs. Lakeside-This financial panic is awful.

Mrs. Wabash—Yes; I am really afraid I shall not be able to afford a di-your mother five and your sister none, how much would you have? Dull Boy-Nothing like that ever happened to me.

'Just imagine it has happened. Can't you imagine?"

"Yes'm."
"Weil? Come! Seems to me you are a long time at it."

'Yes'm, I'm imagining I'm runnin' to a candy store so it will be easier."
"How will it?"

"'Cause then there won't be any left.'

Reginald—Miss Parker—Maud—will you marry me? Let me be your protector through life. Maud—Thanks, Mr. Jones, I must decline. I am not a protectionist. When I marry it will be on a revenue basis entirely.

Cathy cried the young girl; did you hotice that lovely strain?" "Yes," hoarsely remarked the old man, as he arrived while still in the ripeness of his back and forth, "but ef he makes ernuther strain like that he will break his back."

A Starving Man's Rights.

The position that a man who is starying, and who cannot obtain food by working or begging, has the right to take from his neighbor sufficient to relieve immediate necessities, is a position neither new nor novel. That the right of a starving man to his neighbor's bread was held by Cardinal Manning with these limitations, there can be no reasonable doubt. This was not his position merely; it is a maxim in all the works of the great Catholic writers on theology and morals. It is in extreme exceptional cases, such as sometimes occur, although but rarely in civilized communities, that these writers say "All things are common."

Catholic theologians lay it down as a fundamental principle that man owns nothing absolutely; that all things, even man himself, belong to God, and that lands and earthly possessions are God's bounties, for their use, of which men must give an account.

The sentiment expressed by Cardinal Manning is not peculiar to Catholic writers. It has been taught by philosophers for centuries, and it has been more or less recognized in ancient and mod-ern systems of legislation. Moses made a clear distinction between theft and taking from a neighbor sufficient of the earth's products to supply immediate necessities, although all the land was the later's consent even, when he cannot otherwise supply his absolute necessities, springs from the natural right to life, which certainly prevails over not only all positive laws of property, but over all positive laws for proceeding life. A man assailed under circumstances that since that since the contract of th circumstances that give these laws for the protection of life no opportunity to serve him, may strike down his assailant with impunity. "Self-preservation is the first law of nature." This is as true when life is in danger from starvation as when it is threatoned by the knife of tue assassin. The right of a man to food in his possession beyond what he requires ceases in the presence of a famished person's necessity. The State, recognizing the truth of this proposition, takes money enough from the pockets of its self-supporting citizens to save from starvation such as must have aid or die -aged poor, orphans, idiots, lunatics, etc. The State further takes money from its citizens to clothe paupers and make them comfortable while they live. The right, then, of any individual to his property is not so absolute that no condition of a starving brother is certainly sufficient to impair the right to so much of this property as may be necessary to prevent his death by starvation-B. W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pils' are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait yon; a the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve v.gor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,

H. F. Atwelle.
