A Home Recipe for Removing Wrinkles

(From Woman's National Journal.)

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage by the numerous ways by which wrinkles, if she can avoid these, hateful marks of advancing age?

Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or saginess. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory, and most of them are very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

By an ounce of powdered suet, at any drug store. Dissolve the whole in a half pint of witch hazel and use it as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noted immediately after the very first application. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and smug-like.

Railroad Drinks.

No parent would hesitate to warn a child not to eat or drink from a dish or cup that had been used by a consumptive. And yet thousands of parents allow children—and themselves—to drink water from the public cups in railroad cars or at public drinking fountains. The gravest dangers lie in these cups. Physicians agree that some of the most loathsome diseases are contracted through the public cups. Most conspicuous is the drop in the prices obtained for vegetable marrow. "We could get ninety cents a basket for these a while ago," said D. Spence a wholesaler yesterday. "Now we are glad to make a sale at 25 cents or better."

California fruit is high and scarce. It is supplemented, however, by the shipments from Georgia. Plums are especially high, bringing $2.50 a crate on yesterday's market. Raspberries were not scarce, and the price of this season's vegetable sales is the shortage of cabbage which was a drug on the market at this time last year. Cabbages sold yesterday at $2 to $2.50, and $1.25 was obtained for 24's and 27's.

LIKE OTHELLO, HIS OCCUPATION GONE

Octogenarian Marrying Pastor of Tennessee Complains of Competition.

BRISTOL, Tenn., July 28.—(Special.)—"The Shylocks seem bent on taking the last pound of flesh," says the Rev. Alfred Harrison Burroughs, pastor of the Baptist church here, in Gretna Green. By Shylocks he means the other ministers.

"It is my sole dependence," he says, "that I shall live to the age of 80, and there is nothing I can do for my livelihood except to marry young people."

Dr. Burroughs has married nearly 500 couples in 40 years.

"The local agent of the Norfolk and Western Railway has forbidden communications from me, and it now looks as if the will find it necessary to appeal to the higher officials of the railway for protection from individuals who go upon the premises of the company here to steal away young couples who are headed for me."

Dr. Burroughs alleges that other persons soliciting for marrying parties are also on the premises of the railway company, and he thinks he is either entitled to the same privilege or that the company is in honor bound to make all other persons in this business stay at the same distance as he.

Burroughs would have been independent by this time had he invested his earnings in real estate property at home, but he invests it in western mining stocks. He says he will now be forced to seek shelter in the Confederate soldiers' home if his "enemies do not let up."

PALESTINE IN NEED OF TREES

American Forestry Methods Invoked For Reclamation of Sandy Wastes.

An agricultural colony in Palestine has just applied to the United States forest service for help in reclaiming the drifting sands of the Mediterranean. The colony is near Jaffa, or Yafa, the maritime port of 300,000, and is being developed in connection with a seaside resort, with hotel, villas, bath houses and other buildings.

The experts of the service point out that the reclamation of sand dunes is not a new thing. In the eastern United States, because the prevailing winds are from the land and the sand is blown into the sea. On the west coast, the situation is more serious. The most notable example of reclaimed sand areas there is furnished by Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, where grasses, acacias, and other trees have been planted to convert sand wastes into pleasure grounds of great beauty.

The attention of the Palestine colony is called to the wonderful reclamation of the Landes, France, where a wealthy Frenchman, the Marquis de la Roche, has been growing to take the place of shifting sands. The American foresters also give the address of the French seedsmen who furnished this colony with the maritime pine seed which has been used in planting experiments on the Florida national forest, near the Gulf coast.

Fancy astrachans on the Toronto fruit market sell at 25 cents a basket, the average price for little apples being forty cents. Most conspicuous is the drop in the prices obtained for vegetable marrow.

7901 Fancy Cutaway Coat.
34 to 42 bust.
WITH THREE-QUARTER OR LONG SLEEVES.

The cutaway coat is the undoubted favorite of the hour. This one is unusually smart for it has a vestee that is most attractive made of contrasting material. Since coats of the kind are difficult to match and with different ones, it is a very useful, practical little garment. As shown here, it is made from charmeuse satin in old blue with a vest of the same material in black but it would be just as effective made from any seasonable material. Light weight serge is one of the standbys for the useful suit and it would be pretty made of that material with a waistcoat of silk or fancy material. It would be extremely handsome made of one of the cotton broadcloth epouses with a skirt of the same material in plain. It would make up attractively in linen and, if something cooler is wanted, the vestee could be omitted. College girls who are thinking ahead to the autumn outfit could find nothing better for the tailored suit. For the summer, the three-quarter sleeves are to be preferred but, if the coat is being planned in advance, the long sleeves will be desirable. There are front, back and under-arm pieces but the band that finishes the lower edge is attached to the front and under-arm pieces and to the sides of the back.

For the medium size, the coat will require 4 yards of material 27, 3 yards 36 or 2 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, with 3 1/2 yards wide for the vest.

The pattern of the coat 7901 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 15 cents.

PRIESTS WILL HOLD RETREAT IN NEW CATHOLIC SEMINARY

Princely Gift of Eugene O'Keefe Will Be Ready for Occupancy by Three Hundred Students in September, Tho Date of Formal Opening Has Not Been Announced.

The first body of ecclesiastics who will occupy the new Seminary of St. Augustine will be the priests of the archdiocese of Toronto, who on the evening of Monday, Aug. 18, will begin their annual retreat in this institution. The retreat will close at the end of the week, and the preparations for the students who will take possession about the middle of September will be continued. The grand official opening will take place about the same time, but the date and the details of the ceremony are not yet decided upon.

As a representative of The World went out in search of information regarding the great college which will introduce a new and important feature in the life of many of the student body of the continent, the beautiful building rose fair and finely proportioned above the gentle slope on which it is situated. The bronze dome, headed by the mighty cross, which when lighted will serve as a beacon to those far out upon the lake, came first into view, and then the outlines of the beautifully-proportioned building revealed themselves.

Workmen were still busy within and without, but things are pretty fairly in shape to receive those for whom the building is intended. The main entrance, the principal entrance, with its eight graceful granite columns, the beauty of the structure became an established fact, and the more one wandered thru the long and wide corridors into the immense dining-room, up broad flights into the different suites and apartments, the greater grew the impression of the wholesomeness and completeness of arrangement everywhere visible.

There are few dark corners in the Seminary of St. Augustine. Sunshine bathes and floods the building, and germs and microbes will find no abiding place within the walls.

The building will have accommodation for 300 students. The main building, which faces west, is a total frontage of 240 feet, with wings at each end extending 190 feet eastward. There are four stories in all, and from the roof the grandest view of the surrounding country is obtained. The lake and country houses about stretch out in panoramic view, and one is almost tempted to envy the students who will spend four years, hard-working ones they will be, in the delightful air and surroundings of St. Augustine's.

The chapel is the artistic climax of the institution. At present it is altogether white, relieved only by the fine stained-glass windows from Munich and the velvet marbles of the sanctuary and around the base. The main altar and side altars, four in number, are also of marble, and the stations of the cross which line the walls are from the hands of Italian sculptors.

The building is fireproof, and claim is made for it that it is the most complete and up-to-date seminary on the continent.

Rev. Dr. Kidd, principal of St. Augustine's, was found in his quarters on the ground floor, the other story being finished for some time. He was busy with things to be done were all about.

Army bayonets now form part of the emergency telephone outfit of forest rangers, used chiefly in fighting fires. This emergency line consists of small instruments, and a coil of fine copper wire. The wire is attached to the nearest telephone line, the bayonet is thrust into moist ground at the other end, and the circuit thus completed the ranger can talk with headquarters, report his position and summon fire fighters if necessary.
