

pointed out that the estimable author of the work under notice teaches that Martin Pring, in 1608, obtained a bark canoe at Martha's Vineyard. In this he follows the story set afloat in 1897 by Belknap. In 1608 Martin Pring did not go around by south of Cape Cod; and therefore did not obtain any bark canoe or build any "barricado" at Martha's Vineyard.