Liberal receipts at primary markets, sharp decline in Minneapolis, cash prices and more tavorable reports from the northwest have been influences causing weakness.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close:

Wheat—The important sactors in wheat to-day were again bearish; primary receipts were liberal, weather in, all directions satisfactory, continental markets sharply lower, cash prices at southwestern centres about one cent lower, and a report covering important winter wheat ern centres about one cent lower, and a report covering important winter wheat states was very discouraging to speculative holders, in that it claimed that this year's harvest when finally announced would reveal a total much larger than recently estimated. The market thruout the session was heavy and reached a new low point, closing at only a fractional reaction from the bottom, and with nothing in sight to indicate more than a posing in sight to indicate more than a possible small speculative recovery in case shorts desired to secure profits.

Corn and oats ruled lower, but showed more resistance than wheat, and we think the factors governing the situation warrent a recovery.

Chapin & Co. to Melady & Co.:

Chopin & Co. to Melady & Co.:

Wheat—General liquidation in this mar-ket, with feeble support from outside buyers, caused a weak and lower session. Larger receipts than expected, fairly fav-orable weather conditions, weak outside cash markets, and a cash demand here of diminuitye proportions, were the factors cash markets, and a cash demand here of diminutive proportions, were the factors which were little to the liking of the bulls, who relinquished their holdings on a scale down. The pit crowd pounded the market feroclously all day, gunning for stop orders. The close showed but fair recovery from the 1%c decline. Acceptances were light, but the hedging sales were felt in the weakened state of the market. With the slight call for either old or new wheat the trade is fearthe market. With the sight can live either old or new wheat the trade is fearful of the effect of a moderate run of wheat here, and is inclined to back away from it. The world's available showed a marked decrease—2.600,000 bushels, compared to an increase last year of 900,000 bushels. bushels. Liverpool was relatively steady, unchanged to ¼d lower. Wheat should be on debatable ground again, with the short interest larger than for some time. While the outside interest is small and the trade narrow, the prospects are for a scalping market until after the government report at least. Cars expected to-

George Rowntree, who bought nine carloads for the Harris Abattoir Company, reported prices as follows: Best butchers, of which there were few, sold at $4.50 to $4.80; loads of medium, mixed, $3.75 to $4.10; cows at $2.65 to $3.65. Stockers and Feeders. Few stockers and feeders were on sale. Stockers, weighing from 500 to 700 lbs., were quoted at $2.75 to $3; light feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., at $3.25 to $3.75, and slow

The shorts were the best buyers. Cash prices one cent lower for old and two to three cents off for new. Acceptances moderate. Estimated cars for to-morow, 46: to-day's receipts, 124 cars.

Tuesday Evening, Aug. 6.

Trading dragged in the mining market to-day and fewer real transactions were recorded than for many months. The sentiment regarding values and the situation shows no change, and traders are nonplussed as to the next move. Notwithstanding the sharp decline on Wallstreet, Nipissing held its present position steady and to this perhaps was attributable the quietness of the local exchanges. The shipments from the camp this week were larger than it was thought that the labor situation would admit, but the small amount of shipping mines for the period was a detracting factor. period was a detracting factor. The posi-tion of the market promises exceedingly narrow trading until an outbreak from the current stagnation occurs.
