TAKE UP COMPANY FARMING PROJECT?

The forthcoming issue of the Ontario Public Service Bulletin contains a report on company farming projects un der successful operation in various cities throughout Ontario. The report states that these cities have been very successful with this undertaking. All companies are planning to increase their quantity of land for the coming year and even greater success is being planned.

Is it not possible for groups of people in this city to undertake some form of company farming, the bulletin asks.

Reports received from all parts of the province show that the appeals for an increased food production have met with a splendid .esponse this year. Besides better and larger and more backryard gardens, there has been a great increase in community gardening. More groups of people in offices, stores, banks, clubs, factories, lodges, schools, colleges, churches, Sunday schools have co-operated this year than last. Much is being done, too, in pork, poultry and rabbit production.

It is to be hoped it may be continued, increased and improved. Such work yields large returns in the spirit of team play, as well as in needed foodstuffs.
