GERMANS SPEAK

Scopes Case in Tennessee Draws
Attention of Scientists
To SituationBy FREDERICK KUH
United Press Correspondent

BERLIN, June 22.—Professor Albert

Einstein, world-known for his theory of relativity today broke his customary silence in an exclusive interview with the United Press on the Scopes case in Tennessee, involving evolution. He condemned muzzling of academic freedom.

Making it clear that he did not desire his remarks to be interpreted as interference in the "American family squabble," the professor declared emphatically: "Any restriction of academic liberty heaps coils of shame upon the community which tolerates such suppression."

He held that science was common to the whole world.

"The exact sciences," he declared, "may call the whole world their fatherland."

Other German scientists and theologians are eagerly following communications from the American "educational battlefield."

PROFESSOR ZEEBERG

Professor Zeeberg of the University of Berlin, one of Europe's leading theologians told the United Press that "Darwinism in its original form is a thoroughly stimulating scientific theory. Subsequent attempts to apply Darwinism to every field of thought and 'kultur' are in my opinion, mistaken and old-fashioned. Scientific theories can be contraverted only through hard facts and cold reason."

Then he concluded with the observation, manifestly aimed directly at the case of Professor Scopes in Tennessee.

"They cannot be disproved by removal of their exponent from office," Count Johann Von Bernstorff, once German Ambassador to Washington, heatedly condemned all suppression of free speech and thought.

"I am absolutely opposed to any restriction of academic freedom," he said, "and to all prosecution for the teaching of established facts."

"The theory is well supported by all our knowledge and to ignore it would be to show the intelligence of the ostrich. Yet it is only a theory, a rational theory, which has no connection with religion."

"In this connection, I want to repudiate the impression created in America by my friend Frank Harris, that I am a confirmed atheist. I am no such thing. I believe in religion and its inspiration."

Ontario Farmer
Mangled by Bear

NORTH BAY, June 22.—Eugene Genereaux, 38, an unarmed farmer, was mangled to death when he unwittingly entered the lair of a bear with two cubs in an old house a few miles from here yesterday, it was revealed here today.

Blood-spattered walls and the badly mangled body, one hand chewed off, were discovered when a search party started out today for Genereaux when he was found missing.

Other evidence told the story. Genereaux had gone to the neighborhood of the house to pick rhubarb and entered the house, laying the rhubarb on the porch. It is conjectured that the bear, a female, attacked Genereaux as he neared the cubs, for there is evidence that the bear had been using the old house as a lair, and had two cubs with her.

1,987,000 BUSHELS SHIPPED.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Canadian grain exported through United States ports last week amounted to 1,987,000 bushels, against 1,904,000 for the preceding week.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Miss T. Hunter, R.R. No. 8, London, Ont., writes:—"I wish to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to all women who are suffering from pimples or any other facial blemishes. About two years ago I was greatly troubled with pimples and sores breaking out on my face and could get no relief until, finally, a friend recommended me to take B.B.B. This I did, and I am now glad to say that your remedy has given me the desirable results, and I now have a nice smooth, clear skin, as it has eliminated all the impurities from my blood."

Get B.B.B. when you ask for it; it has been on the market for the past 46 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CUT COAL RATE OFF

MONTREAL, June 22.—Because freight rates have now fallen within the province of the Board of Railway Commissioners, the Canadian National Railways has withdrawn from the verbal agreement made with the Alberta government to move 25,000 tons of coal from Drumheller, Alberta, to Ontario points at an experimental figure of $7 per ton.

I. CHESTER BROWN
32-36 KING SQUARE
Next Imperial TheatreIt Signed the Parchment of Union

SPECIALLY printed on sheepskin parchment—that its great historical evidence might be preserved for the eyes of generations yet unborn—the Basis of Union by which the United Church of Canada came into being, was signed by three hundred and fifty delegates to the first vast Assembly.

And the writing instruments by which these three hundred and fifty delegates inscribed their names, chosen for the sterling service to be performed, were twelve Parker Duofold Pens. Parker Duofolds were chosen and purchased by the committee because the individualities of three hundred and fifty different handwritings had to be cared for; because the signing was done on parchment, requiring a pen point of super-smoothness; and that the writing instruments might be in keeping with the occasion.

Only the Parker Pen has these creations which abolish long-standing pen faults:

1. The Ink-Tight Duo-Sleeve Cap.
2. The Press-Button Filler concealed inside the barrel—out of sight—out of harm's way.
3. The Lucky Curve Feed providing an instant flow and a steady flow by capillary attraction.
4. The Duofold Point, so smooth and quiet-going that it makes your writing luxurious—a Point no pen can distort—guaranteed, if not mistreated, for 25 years' wear.
