YESTERDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Rev. J. H. Ritson, D. D., general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society of London, England, was the speaker at the morning service in Centenary Methodist church yesterday. In a strong address he dealt with conditions as he had found them in Europe during his recent trip and spoke of the crying need which existed there. Turning to the work of the Bible Society, he said that the Bible at present was printed in 225 languages, nine of which were added last year. He said it was to the glory of the English-speaking race that all through the war the British government had permitted the Bible Society to send $225 a month to maintain the supply of Bibles for the enemy as well as seeking the destruction of the British race.

The fifth anniversary of the merger of the Brussels street and Leinster street Baptist congregations was celebrated yesterday in the Central church. In the morning Rev. D. J. MacPherson of Sussex took as his text "The Love That Saved the World," and delivered a scholarly address.

Exmouth street Methodist church yesterday celebrated its sixty-fourth anniversary and re-entered an altered and re-decorated auditorium. Rev. W. C. Lane of Yarmouth, a former pastor, was the speaker at both services. At the evening service Dr. P. L. Bonnell sang the solo, "The Lord is My Light."

A memorial window and tablet in honor of the fifteen young men of St. James' church who gave their lives in the recent war were dedicated at the morning service yesterday. The service was conducted by the rector, Rev. H. A. Cody, and the window was unveiled by Captain Robert Murray and John C. Kee, both of whom lost sons in the war. The window was erected by relatives and the work of art is the product of the N. T. Lyon Glass Company of Toronto, installed in the church by two of the vestrymen, W. J. Nagie and Robert J. Dibble.

For perfect attendance at the morning services in St. David's church during the year, the pastor, Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, presented Bibles to seven children, who also received certificates from the superintendent of the Sunday school, for eighty per cent. perfect attendance at church. Other scholars received certificates and prizes for attendance at Sunday school.

The evening service at the Germain street Baptist church last night was largely choral and an exceptionally fine programme of classical and favorite numbers was given. T. C. Cochran was at the organ and directed the choir. He played as an opening voluntary, St. Quentin's "Ride on in Majesty," during the taking of the offertory, the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and as a postlude, Mahelberg's "March Magnific." The anthems sung were Hopkins' "Lift up Your Heads," Bowles' "One Sincerely Solemn Thought," which was sung unaccompanied, and Stainer's "Hallelujah." Palmer's "Wayside Cross" was sung as a quartet by J. S. Smith, T. C. Cochran, E. A. Titus and E. C. Field. Stainer's "Love Divine" was sung as a duet by Mrs. Blake Ferris and J. S. Smith and Mr. Smith sang as a solo Hamblen's "The Still Small Voice."

Rev. W. D. Wilson, of Fredericton, general secretary of the New Brunswick branch of the Dominion Temperance Alliance, was in the city yesterday and preached in two churches here, the Germain street Baptist in the morning and the Charlotte street Baptist in the evening.

Rev. C. E. Pineo of Tanook (N. S.), was the preacher in the Fairville Baptist church at both services yesterday and special music was a feature of the evening service. Mrs. F. Louise Tufts was the soloist. Rev. Mr. Clark is expected to take over his duties as pastor in a fortnight's time.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Yesterday's edition of the London Sunday Telegram, owned by Horatio Balfour, asserted that the existence of a third party in Ireland had been discovered. This third party is claimed to consist of itself with executive justice according to its own views on any persons who commit alleged crimes and escape punishment.

The Lenten pastoral letter of Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, delivered yesterday, dealt at length with the Irish situation. Among other things he protested vigorously against reprisals and the raiding of churches and convents, and continued: "It must not be inferred that I overlook or condone extremist crimes. The lying in wait and shooting of police and soldiers is not an act of warfare, but plain murder. No reason adduced nor any end, however noble, could justify it."

Arthur Jacques, 25 years old, of Montreal, was arrested and held as a material witness on Saturday in connection with the murder on Friday night of Miss Adeline Malherbe, aged 27. He was identified by several persons who were in the vicinity of the place where the killing took place, but denied all allegations and claimed he could prove an alibi.

The Newfoundland department of justice is investigating a case at Avondale in which a man named Nolan is reported to have caused the death of his nine-year-old daughter by cruelty. The little girl died on the road to the graveyard to visit the grave of her mother.

DIED TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM OF THE WORLD BEYOND?

That is Theory After Finding of Body of Detroit Professor—Would Like to Find Girl

Detroit, Feb. 7.—The body of Prof. Thomas Lynn Bradford was found in his room on Saturday with the gas turned on. Nearly evidently where they had been dropped from his hand, were found several typewritten pages on the subject.

"Can the dead communicate with the living?" It is believed he gave his life after entering into a pact in hope of solving the matter of existence after the grave. It is believed that somewhere in the city there is a girl who is waiting anxiously for Prof. Bradford to prove his theory.

Bradford, who was forty-eight years of age, was a graduate of Columbia College of oratory, Chicago. Recently he had taken a deep interest in the occult. He told his landlord that he had inserted an advertisement in a newspaper asking anyone who was interested in the subject whether the dead can communicate with the living to write to him. This "ad" was answered he told Margie, a Detroit girl. It is believed by the police that the fatal experiment followed.

ENGINEER IS BLINDED; OTHER TRAINMEN HURT

Teledo, Feb. 7.—G. C. Finney, twenty-four, engineer on the Pennsylvania railroad passenger train No. 411, was blinded and probably fatally injured by scalding, and his fireman, E. Ritter, was badly hurt when their locomotive jumped the track at Bloomville yesterday.

The locomotive, tender and baggage car turned over into the ditch, but two coaches laden with passengers, remained on the tracks. The passengers were unhurt.

New York Central express train No. 45, bound for Chicago, was also in a wreck at Swanton, fifteen miles west of here early yesterday. The engineer and fireman were badly injured.

Paris, Jan. 20.—(Associated Press by mail)—This city is soon to have its first mosque for the benefit of the Mohammedans in French possessions in northern Africa, Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco. The people of those colonies have subscribed to a fund for the erection of the building and Algeria has nominated a leader for the mosque.

The city of Paris will present the grounds on which the mosque is to be built and the French parliament has appropriated 500,000 francs for construction purposes. Attached to the mosque will be a Mussulman institute.

And so rich, pure and fresh—that its appetizing goodness helps you start the day right

YOU simply take Carnation Milk off your pantry shelf. For your cereals or fruit you use it as it comes from the container—its creamy richness and wonderful freshness gives added deliciousness. And you'll enjoy the fine, creamy flavor it gives to your cup of tea or coffee.

Carnation Milk, you see, serves as both milk and cream. For a beverage you add water—even double the amount makes a pleasing, nourishing drink. For milk of ordinary consistency and richness—milk for cooking—add an equal amount of water to Carnation Milk.

Isn't that a welcome convenience—to have milk always handy in the house for any need?

You will like Carnation Milk still more for its wonderful Purity—Freshness—Safety and uniform Quality.

From Canada's dairy farms the milk comes to our condenseries. Part of the water is first removed by evaporation.

Nothing, except some of the water, is taken away. This fresh, rich "whole" milk is now sealed in containers—air-tight and proof against contamination.

Then, it is sterilized for added safety.

And nothing is added—no sugar, no preservative, nothing whatsoever.

Carnation Milk "keeps" because it is so pure—because its freshness is sealed in, and because it is sterilized.

Buy this convenient, safe milk from your grocer. Buy a week's—or a month's—supply ahead. Ask for it by name—Carnation Milk—in the "tall" 16-oz. size, or by the case of 48 cans.
