UNDECIDED AS TO BUSINESS PROFITS TAX

OTTAWA GOVERNMENT SEES NO SOLUTION OF PROBLEM—PRESENT REVENUE FROM IT $35,000,000.

(Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The problem of what to do with the business profits tax in Canada is causing the attention of the government with no solution for it immediately in sight. It is admittedly a handicap on industry besides being the source of tremendous work for government departments in determining the exact part of a firm's profits which shall be assessed. But it brings in about $35,000,000 a year to Canadian revenue and such an amount cannot conveniently be added to the income tax on private incomes.

Sir Henry Drayton said yesterday that the government had not decided what its policy would be on the debated point of business profits taxes.

FOREIGN TRADE

(Bank of Commerce Circular.)

Canadian foreign trade at the end of November equalled in volume that of the corresponding period a year ago and this was due largely to the increase in imports. The total of the latter for the month of November being $80,000,000 as compared with $75,000,000 for the same month in 1918. For the eight months' period ending November last, there was a substantial increase in the exports of foreign merchandise. The domestic exports which show large increases are those derived from agriculture and those of wood products and paper. Manufactured wood products and paper to the value of $19,118,000 were exported in November, and for the first eight months of the current fiscal year the value was $187,677,000 as compared with $166,000,000 for the same period in the previous year. The exports of pulp and paper alone for the eight months ending November were valued at $61,300,000 as compared with $58,000,000 and $42,000,000 for the corresponding periods in 1918 and 1917. Additions involving large capital outlay are continually being made to pulp and paper plants and plant securities amounting to $22,000,000 were issued for this purpose; the larger proportion of these were absorbed by Canadian investors. As the market for paper and pulp is steadily widening both on this continent and abroad, there is no doubt that still larger additions to the volume of our exports will be derived from this source.

When Bobby Burns shaved

ON a bright May morn—with a "wee, wimpling birnie" between them and their hands clasped over a Bible, Robert Burns, most beloved of poets, and blue-eyed Mary Campbell plighted their solemn troth. Poverty-stricken though he be, who would not come to such a tryst clean-shaven? We may be sure that Robert Burns wielded his flashing blade on that bright morning with more than ordinary care, as would you, for your own Highland Mary. And the razor that Burns used on that happy day was just as free from affectations as the simple-hearted poet himself—an instrument stripped by ancient usage of everything but real shaving essentials. To these essentials, late years have added the only points that Burns' razor ever lacked to make it perfect—the Safety, the Extra-convenience and the detachable blade of the guarded, double-edged DURHAM-DUPLEX.

A Real Razor—made Safe

A bigger shaving mileage than you get from any other razor—because its blade is double-edged and because it's the longest and best-tempered blade on earth. Guarded so that it's safe for the closest shave on the tenderest skin. Detachable so that you can have the luxury of a fresh edge or a fresh-stropped edge at a moment's notice. Just one shave with this cool, long, keen blade with the natural shaving angle on your cheek will show you why eight million men have changed over to this real razor made safe. Make your own trial at your dealer's to-day.
