

Our corps of Lecturers on Business embraces some of the leading Business men. A knowledge of how business is done, is of live-long satisfaction and value, even though the student does not contemplate an active business life himself.

We have separate Halls for Ladies. A lawyer has charge of our Business Law Department. Board can be had very low. In short, we have every element essential for a first-class School of Business; and those wishing a first-class Business Education in a leading city, at a first-class School, having only the best facilities, are respectfully requested to call and examine.

LADIES.

We offer special inducements to ladies who may wish to enter upon any of the commercial branches of book-keeping, writing, &c.

EVENING SCHOOL.

The Evening School begins the second week in October and continues throughout the winter. Although this session is designed more particularly for young men and boys who are engaged during the day, all students holding scholarships are entitled to attend without extra charge.

Terms for the evening sessions may be had by calling at the College Rooms, or addressing the proprietors. Hours from 7 to 9 p.m.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

We would respectfully intimate to the business men of Canada, who may require thoroughly competent young men to act as book-keepers, or short-hand writers, that they will find it to their advantage to make application to us. Having a great number of young men attending our Institution from which to select, we are in a position to judge, from their attendance and attention to their studies, the proper persons to recommend, from their moral behaviour as well as commercial ability, to any of the above positions.

We have supplied a great many first-class business houses with accountants, and their employers have uniformly expressed great satisfaction, and in many cases the highest praise. We have elsewhere warned young men not to expect recommendations except we are fully satisfied of their competency. And now we say to business men applying to us for assistants, that they may rest assured that any young man recommended by us will be found thoroughly capable of performing the duties of any post to which we may nominate him.

LECTURER

This gentleman has long positions in Canadian banks which is one of the most successful its stock now being double of the bank is mainly over general manager, whose studies to speak of such matters fit

ROBERT

LECTURER ON BUSINESS CO.

In our last annual circular career as a successful merchant most wealthy and intelligent representative in the House of Commons past session with credit to

RICHARD

TEACHER OF

We have been successful gentleman upon our list. Experience, not only as a teacher of the English branches. Elocutionist," has already press, and has been very fit

H.

LECTURER

Is an Englishman from spent about fifteen years perseverance, Mr. Caston has already met with considerable success make him a prominent member