SAYS GERMANY WANTS AMITY WITH ENGLAND

Inspired Article in Newspaper Says There
Can be No Possible Reason for War.

BERLIN, June 1.—A leading article in the Post, which is evidently inspired, draws attention to recent articles in a section of the London press calculated to sow dissension between Germany and England by statements to the effect that in Germany war between the two countries is regarded as inevitable. "The Post," which is by no means friendly to England, emphatically states that in Germany no responsible politician holds this view. On the contrary, in Germany, as in England, responsible men know no higher object than the maintenance of peace, and regard existing arguments as serving this purpose.

Between the two countries, it says, there does not exist any question to cause a conflict. There are no points of friction which could lead necessarily to war. Not only is this the opinion of the statesmen but of the vast majority of the people of both nations. It is only a dividing minority on both sides which thinks otherwise, a minority which has no influence on international politics. It is a direct perversion of the truth not to recognize this and to give as the public opinion of Germany the views which fill the heads of fools or criminals. The Post stigmatises this method of controversy as perilous, as a warfare against which the sharpest measures are necessary.

SIAMESE KING'S HOBBY ANXIETY TO SUBJECTS

Are Afraid Accident Will Happen to His Motor Car, and Recommend Sedan Chair.

ROME, June 1.—The king of Siam is sojourning at Turin, which city he has chosen for a visit because of his enthusiastic devotion to automobiles. When visiting a number of motor factories in company with the Duke of Genoa, his Majesty remarked that he wished to make that form of locomotion popular among the Siamese, but encountered tremendous setbacks. In fact, shortly before the king left for Europe his ministers presented a petition enumerating the inconveniences and dangers of motoring, and imploring him to relieve his people's anxiety by renouncing automobiles, or at least moderating considerably their speed. The petition naively reminded his Majesty that "there is always at your disposal the royal sedan chair, and in urgent cases carried with horses."

The Asiatic monarch has brought over an expert young Siamese chauffeur, whose skill in averting catastrophes by a hair's breadth keeps Italian pedestrians aghast with amazement.

MOROCCO SUBMITS TO FRENCH DEMANDS

Sultan Agrees to Give Full and Immediate Effect to Republic's Claims.

PARIS, June 1.—The sultan of Morocco seems at last to have made up his mind to accept the French demands. At a meeting of the cabinet today, M. Pichon, minister of foreign affairs, read to his colleagues a telegram he had just received from M. Reqaissi, the French minister at Tangier. This was to the effect that Ben Sliman, the Moroccan foreign minister, had handed the French representative a letter from the Maghzen, in which the latter undertakes to give full and immediate effect to the demands of the French government. This interesting document is being forwarded to Paris, and will be translated and published in extenso as soon as possible. Twice already the sultan's emissary has made proposals for a settlement, but upon a basis wholly inadequate to the claims put forward by M. Pichon.

A telegram from Tangier says that the German legation has at last ordered the German residents at Marakech to leave there. All the region between Marakech and Fez is in a complete state of anarchy. There being no European troops to cut for the moment, various tribes are busy fighting against each other.

CHILD CRUSHED BY LOGS.

HARTLAND, N. B., June 1.—Hazel, the fifteen year old daughter of Dell Boone, was badly injured here yesterday.

She was picking apricot gum on a brow of logs at Flemming's mill, when a log rolled over her, crushing her head. The skull was fractured and it is not expected that the girl will recover.

GOLD DISCOVERED IN BONNIE SCOTLAND

Quartz, Which Analysis Has Shown Highly Profitable, Found in Argyleshire.

EDINBURGH, June 1.—The remarkable discovery has been made that some old copper and lead workings in Argyleshire contain gold.

It is on the Stomachill estate, Loch Fyne, of which the proprietor is R. Graham Campbell, of Shilvan, that the find has been made. The estate has an area of about 400 acres, consisting of grouse moor, arable and wooded land, and is situated a few miles from Ardrishale.

The presence of minerals at this particular spot has long been known, and the presence of old copper and lead workings show that at one time an attempt was made to put this knowledge to profitable use, though little was done beyond proving the existence of various lodes.

It is forty or fifty years, however, since operations were carried on, and at that period the presence of gold was unknown.

More recently the workings were examined and it was seen that they offered more than metal of the baser sort, a sample of the quartz was taken and carefully analyzed. It was then proved that gold existed on this part of the estate, as well as copper and lead.

The quartz so far dealt with has been found almost on the surface, and the analysis has shown that it contains a very high value in gold, but there is still uncertainty as to how far it goes down, as no sinkings have yet been made. At present the whole project is still in the preliminary stage but it is understood arrangements are being made for finding out with tolerable certainty the extent to which the gold really exists.

A trial shipment of twenty tons of quartz was sent to London to test the value of the discovery from a commercial point of view, and the ore met with a ready sale.

MAN MARRIES A DOLL.

Superstition in East Indian Province Leads to Curious Ceremony.

LUCKNOW, June 1.—The universal superstition that it is unlucky for a girl to marry a man who has been married twice before led to a curious ceremony at Badoun, in the United Provinces, this week.

A merchant who wished to marry for the third time was persuaded by the parents of the bride-elect to first go through the ceremony of marrying a doll, which he carried in his arms. The doll, which was regarded as his third "wife," was then buried with great pomp, after which the real marriage ceremony took place.

TERRORISM IN RUSSIA.

Cossacks Brutally Shoot Down Many Innocent Factory Hands.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.—A band of terrorists attacked in the streets here this morning a mail-van escorted by Cossacks. The mail-van was shot at, dead, wounded another, and two post office officials, and escaped after robbing the van of $1,000.

A moment later a patrol of Cossacks arrived, dashed into Kuntner's spinning mills, which are close to the scene of the robbery, and began indiscriminately shooting down workmen and clerks, killing fifteen and wounding over thirty.

FOOLED THE CARPENTER.

A carpenter called at a flat to make some repairs and knocked on the door. "Who's there?" asked a voice.

"The carpenter," was the reply.

"Come in," was the response.

The carpenter tried the door, but it was locked.

"Open the door," said the carpenter. "Haw, haw, haw!" came the voice from the inside.

The carpenter was getting very mad. Then the woman who lives in the flat on the opposite side opened her door and said:

"There is no one at home there except the parrot."—New York Globe.

SAYS SCOTLAND WANTS A NATION'S FREEDOM

Gaels of London Hear Bitter Harangue
Against the Government of England.

LONDON, June 1.—The Gaels in London met last night in solemn convocation to discuss the future of "Gaeldom," which is Gaelic for Scotland.

There were two scores of them, of whom nearly half were "bonnie lasses," and they gathered in the fine old Scots Corporation Hall in Crane court, Fleet street, where, beneath the massive royal arms, such phrases were hurled about as "freedom of the Sassenach," and "hideous fabric of a foreign power."

Mr. Gilles, a Gael who has crossed the Tweed, read a paper in English on the Gaelic movement, in which, with a gravity worthy of Bernard Shaw, he said: "The Gaelic movement, which is the revival of the Gaelic language, the Gaelicization of Scotland and the throwing off of the English yoke."

He referred with dreadful scorn to a newspaper which had ventured to make fun of the Gaelic movement. But he was just as scornful of the Scottish newspapers—"or rather, the English papers published in Scotland," as he called them.

He lashed those "Anglicized Scotsmen," he said, take only a sentimental interest in the Gaelic movement, and would crush the Gaelic out, imprison or deport them, if they thought they were in earnest.

"The Gaelic language is, he said, the 'secret power' by which Gaelic would forge the weapons which would break into many fragments as a potter's vessel the hideous fabric of a foreign power."

"Scotsmen are sick of the union and wish to be free," he cried, and he looked forward to the time when they would achieve the national independence for which Bruce fought and Wallace died.

The English government, composed of Anglicized Scotsmen, were no use to the Gaels, and would crush the Gaelic out, imprison or deport them, if they thought they were in earnest.

"The Gaelic language is, he said, the 'secret power' by which Gaelic would forge the weapons which would break into many fragments as a potter's vessel the hideous fabric of a foreign power."

"Scotsmen are sick of the union and wish to be free," he cried, and he looked forward to the time when they would achieve the national independence for which Bruce fought and Wallace died.

ROYAL GODMOTHER OF 25 BABES

Crown Princess of Roumania Stands
Sponsor for Big Bath.

BUCHAREST, June 1.—The Crown Princess Marie, like Queen Elizabeth (Carmen Sylva), is taking a most active part in many charitable works.

"One of the associations of which her royal highness is honorary president is the Society of Godmothers, an organization which takes under its patronage a number of babies of very poor parents, especially seeing that they are christened and clothed."

The crown princess was yesterday the central figure at an interesting and touching ceremony connected with a fête organized by the society at the Athenaeum, when her royal highness stood as godmother for twenty-five of these children.

"It'd be ashamed to go around beggins," said the prosperous citizen.

"Takes all kinds o' people t' make a world," rejoined the hobo. "Here you is too proud t' beg, an' I'm too proud t' work."

TRADE UNIONISM BANNED.

French Government Decides That Officials Have No Right to Strike.

PARIS, June 1.—The French government has decided that state officials cannot join trade unions nor have the right to strike.

M. Briand, the minister of public works and education, made this announcement in the Chamber today, during the debate on trade unionism. The result is that postmen and schoolmasters who joined the Labor Federation committee must withdraw from the organization.

Since the removal of the Seamen's Institute from the old Chipman building the irrepressible bad boy has been at work and has done considerable damage to the building. A great many of the windows in the building have been smashed and the interior badly damaged, particularly an old mantle over the fire place in the drawing room.

OUTRAGE CONTINUES IN HAPLESS ARMENIA

Turkish Officials Grind the Peasantry and Create Another Reign of Terror.

GENEVA, June 1.—Droschak, the organ of the Armenian Federation in Geneva, asserts that there has been a recurrence of the Turkish cruelty in the neighborhood of Van.

A dispatch has been received via Tiflis from the Armenians in Van, (Turkish Armenia) stating that the governor, Ali Bey, is draining the province and adopting the most atrocious means to secure the payment of taxes, that are twenty-two years in arrears. The people who are already impoverished and famished, are in a state of despair.

The Turkish collectors, unable to get money, are taking possession of everything they can lay hands on, especially furniture and implements of labor. They even destroy houses, cut down trees and sell the furniture by auction.

Some of the measures adopted by the tax-gatherers are indescribable. They violate women, tear the moustaches from men and force them to drink five or six liters of water. An inhabitant of the village of Aratenz has died from ill-treatment, and a child has been killed in its mother's arms. At Hay-atazor, 2,300 men, women and children have passed six nights in the streets.
