DEATHS.

SPIDLE—At New Germany, July 15th Mrs. Ephraim Spidle, aged 85.

SONNEY—At Greenfield, Queens Co., N. S., July 15th, after a long and tedious illness, Annie, widow of the late Abraham Sonney, aged 85 years. A large circle of relatives and friends are left to mourn their loss.

BEELER—At Clementsvalle, N. S., July 24, of consumption, Herbert O. Beeler, aged 36, leaving a wife, father, two brothers and four sisters with many friends to mourn their loss. Our brother was an earnest, upright and beloved member of the Clements church and leaves us an example worthy of emulation. The large congregation, upon whom the occasion seemed to make a deep impression, was a witness to the high esteem in which he was held.

RAFUSE—At Black Point, Halifax Co., N. S., Sunday, July 5th, after a brief illness of 10 days, Jason A., aged 18 years, second son of Bro. Asaph Rafuse. This sudden death of a young man who was just budding into manhood with all the prospects of a useful life before him, has cast a deep shadow over our community, which will break, we trust, into great spiritual quickening. In the absence of Pastor Warren the service was conducted by Rev. R. O. Morse, of Chester. To brother and sister Rafuse and family we extend our heartfelt sympathy, praying that God will comfort their hearts in their hour of bereavement.

HAYDEN—At Jordan River, Shelburne Co., N. S., on May 24th, Byron Hayden entered peacefully into rest at the ripe old age of 86 years. Brother Hayden was one of the standard-bearers of the Baptist church for over sixty years. When a young man he was baptized into the fellowship of the church at Ragged Islands, and through all the years remained faithful, steadfast and devoted to the work of the Lord. For fifty years he has shared in the trials and the triumphs of the church at Jordan River and was universally esteemed for his conscientious Christian life. He leaves several children, all of whom have followed in his footsteps and are valued members of the church. He leaves also an aged partner who, strong in faith, is waiting to join him on the other side.

tional subjects, in addition to the usual illustrated features, which distinguish the monthly Magazine Numbers. Among the articles having special relation to educational topics may be mentioned: An editorial survey of the educational history of the year, "School-Houses and Beauty," by President Ira Remsen of Johns Hopkins University; "Sanitary Schools," by Mrs. Ellen H. Richards; "The Practical Religion of the College Girl," by Alice K. Fellows, with typical photographs of college girls drawn by John Russell; "The Educated Women of To-morrow," by Heloise E. Hersey; and "Recent American College Architecture," by Professor A. D. E. Hamlin of Columbia University, illustrated by many original drawings of specially picturesque and important architectural achievements of recent date in American colleges.

Especially attractive for midsummer reading is the number of The Living Age for August 1. Opening with an article from the Edinburgh Review on "The Supernatural in Nineteenth Century Fiction," and following that with the instalment of "The Oberlies" in which M. Bazin's fascinating story draws towards its climax, it contains also some delightful letters of Charles Dickens, just published in Chamber's Journal, and a clever short story from the Cornhill Magazine, called "His Excellency's Aigrette."
