MORE GERMANS FREE.

Lethbridge, July 11.—Generals Von Schack and Von Kruska were acquitted Saturday by the German supreme court, which is trying persons accused by the Allies of war crimes. They were charged with having caused, either deliberately, or through negligence, an epidemic of typhus among war prisoners in the camp at Melsbrunn, near Cassel.

Three thousand French prisoners are said to have died from the disease or from the effects of ill-treatment and brutality.

HICCUP EPIDEMIC PREVALENT

Don't get the habit of hiccups—stop the slightest attack at the beginning. Nothing brings such magical relief as slowly sipping a few drops of Nervine in sweetened water. For stomach pains, bloating, cramps, diarrhoea, nothing will prove more useful in every home than a 35 cent bottle of good old Nervine.

Unique Wedding Held At Moosejaw*Bride Suffering from Scarlet Fever Ceremony Was Performed in Isolation Hospital

Moose Jaw, July 12.—A unique wedding ceremony was performed here recently when Miss O'Brien, of Philadelphia, was united in marriage with Charles Barker, of Vancouver, by Rev. Father Egan, of Boston, at the local Isolation Hospital, where the bride is a scarlet fever patient. The ceremony, performed through a window of the hospital, was behind a germ-proof sheet of glass, the groom and Father Egan took their stand in the hospital grounds, while Miss O'Brien, charmingly gown, made her responses from the interior of the building. Following the ceremony, the bride

Single Young Men Are In Majority*Large Number of Prisoners in Canadian Penitentiaries Are Between 20 and 30.

Ottawa, July 12.—Single men between the ages of 20 and 30 years formed the majority of prisoners in Canadian penitentiaries in the year ending March 31, 1920, according to the report for that period of superintendent of penitentiaries Brigadier General W. S. Hughes. Of the 1,931 prisoners in detention on that date, 775 were between the ages of 20 and 30 years.

The table showing the social habits of the prisoners furnishes somewhat of a surprise in as much as the abstainers and temperate prisoners outnumbered the intemperate. Those rated as abstainers totaled 548, temperate 976, and intemperate 406. Single persons led the list of prisoners with a total of 2,212 against 333 married, and 75 widowed. Of the number under detention the statistics show 1,285 of British birth against 646 from other countries. United States with 209, led the "other countries" group, with Austria-Hungary second with 108.

returned to her ward to await expiration of her six weeks' exile, while the groom left Moose Jaw for his home in Vancouver. Miss O'Brien was stricken with scarlet fever while travelling to Vancouver with Father Egan, where she was to have been married. She was taken from the train here, and removed to the Isolation Hospital.

Most Upright Will Lie About Booze*This is Comment of Judge Landis After Hearing Negro Porter's Plea.

Chicago, July 12.—"The most truthful men in the world will lie, misrepresent, deceive, cheat and steal in matters where booze is involved." From the observations of Judge Keneaw M. Landis.

Henry Wonder, the eighth of his sort in the world, was arraigned before Judge Landis to explain the howcome of twenty-four quarts of liquor found in his possession. He is a Pullman porter.

"It came about this way, Judge," he said. "I was standing by my car in Pittsburgh and a kind gentleman came up to me and he asks me, 'Boy, has you got rheumatism?' I told him the truth, Judge, I said, 'Yes.' And he says, 'Here's something that's going to help you a whole lot.' And he gives me the 24 quarts. Didn't ask a cent, just gave it to me—externally and internally."

"Do you mean to say," inquired Judge Landis, "that anybody in his right mind in 1921 would rub booze on his skin?"

"That's just it, Judge. It's the rubbing what does it."

Thereupon the Judge pronounced his sentence upon the truthfulness of humanity, adding, "I'll have to fine you $500."

Henry was led from the room and the next case called. He halted at the doorway to grin back at the Judge.

"Yes, sub Judge," he insisted, "but I've still got the rheumatiz."

BOASTING WAS FATAL TO HOPE OF N. Y. THIEVES*Three Bandits Trapped After Taunting Police—Ambush Prepared.*TRAILED BURGLARS INTO JEWEL LOFT*Detective Saw Man Taking Impression of Lock and Force Waited Three Days.

New York, July 12.—Burglars went through the loft building at 388 Canal street last January, gathering $20,000 worth of jewellery and precious stones from the manufacturers who occupy the place and got away for weeks the underworld haunts resound with the boasts of the nest job they had done.

Then they made a mistake. Their boasts changed to taunts. They were experts. They could blow a safe under the very eyes of the police, get rid of the loot and snap their fingers at pursuit. They were coming back and do it all over again in the very same place.

Acting Captain John J. Stapleton, head of the loft and safe squad, heard of the taunts from a stoolpigeon. That made the captain angry. For nearly three months after that an inconspicuous person in civilian clothes was loitering about the loft building. There never was an hour when some stranger was not near, though not often was it the same person.

Three days ago, just after the heavy outer doors of the building had been locked for the day, a furtive individual pushed against them, then stood in a decisive attitude, a suggestion of depression at having arrived too late, conveyed by his manner. Dozens of persons were passing, and not one paid any attention to the man, who presently decided, apparently, that there was no use aiming with a pair of locked doors and went away.

Impression of Lock.

But across the street an idler had stiffened to alertness, and knew as he watched the man sink away that things were getting warm. Just as well as if he had seen it, that watcher knew that when the man dropped a hand for just a second into a side pocket, he had deposited there a wax impression of the safe's lock.

They closed the building early yesterday. With the Saturday afternoon half-holiday the street soon became deserted, except for a few apparently purposeless men, who wandered about or sheltered themselves from the heat in doorways and who very obviously did not know each other.

It was after 3 o'clock when three men, one carrying a black bag, walked up to the entrance of 388. One of them was recognized as he who had been there three days earlier. It was he who thrust a key into the lock. The doors swung open. The three walked in and disappeared up the stairs.

The door of the loft of S. Steinberg, manufacturing jeweler in the fourth floor, is fastened with a powerful patent lock that drops into place automatically when the door is closed. It is called burglar proof. The three men worked steadily, unhurriedly and without the least fear of failure. In fifteen minutes they had cut a big hole through the door. An arm was thrust inside. They saw a big safe, which had yielded plunder worth $7,000 on the occasion of the first raid. Behind its steel doors yesterday was an augmented stock that inventories $700,000 or more.

Became Suspicious.

Steinberg conducts his business so that all the world—or at least that part of it on the other side of Canal street—may see. Big, shadeless windows are a great convenience to daylight burglars. It may be that the trio caught a glimpse of hidden figures in a loft across the way, figures of men who peered cautiously, but intently across the street, as they merely decided that having made the way ready it would be the part of wisdom to retreat and come back in darkness.

They walked downstairs and thought they had stumbled into an armed regiment. Captain Stapleton and Detectives Holman, Morrissey, Reilly, Foray, Lowe and others of his squad pointed pistols at them. It is the tradition of their kind that they must not surrender without struggle. So they fought, a little. A clout here and there with the butt of an automatic fulfilled the demands of their pride and they surrendered.

The black bag yielded a collection of most business-like paraphernalia. There were three sticks of dynamite, a set of drills of nicely tempered steel a brace to hold them, a sectional jimmy that was a work of art, and three pairs of shabby gloves.

The captives were taken to Police Headquarters. The importance of their arrest grew in the eyes of the rogues' gallery in the light of the physical characteristics of the prisoners. Two of them, they said, had records. The third was almost a stranger.

Then came an explosion. A two-pound bass came to the surface on his back. Phillip went out and got the fish.

Bicycles for Everyone

ANY BOY OR GIRL in the Maritime Provinces can secure a sixty-five dollar "Pathfinder" bicycle, complete with mud-guards, air pump, parcel carrier and stand, with coaster brake, reinforced frame, spring saddle, and in fact everything that goes to make a bicycle complete, and at the same time earn fifteen dollars pocket money, payable in cash.

If there is a boy or girl who does not want a bicycle, any of them may earn a watch or any other prize they desire by the most generous proposition that has ever been made to the young people of the Maritime Provinces.

Pictorial Review is desirous of securing one million additional readers and in order to do so offers the Pathfinder bicycle mentioned above to any boy or girl who will, before October 15th, sell three hundred copies of this popular woman's magazine. Pictorial Review retails at twenty-five cents per copy. Any one who wishes to enter this competition pays only twenty cents per copy for the magazine and thus makes five cents on every copy sold. To win the bicycle it is necessary that you shall send your money and your order for whatever number of copies of the July issue you may require, to H. V. Mackinnon & Son, P. O. Box 1109, St. John. These magazines will be delivered to you free of charge by Dominion Express. Sell them as quickly as you can and order more. A strict account is kept of all you buy and as soon as you have sold three hundred copies the bicycle will be shipped to you; all charges prepaid. In case you do not desire a bicycle write for particulars about the number you have to sell to secure one or other of the various watches which will be given as prizes. Already boys and girls in different places have sold more than one hundred copies of the June issue of Pictorial Review, and at the rate they are going will have earned their bicycles by the middle of July. Any one can do it!

The generosity of this magnificent offer will be realized when it is remembered that three hundred copies of the magazine costs the competitor only sixty dollars and that the bicycle is worth more than the entire sum paid for these magazines. No such offer was ever made to the boys and girls of these provinces. Do not lose time. You can secure scores of customers this month who will take the magazine from you every month, and in a very short time you will have finished your three hundred sales and be in possession of an up to the minute bicycle. Let us hear from you at once.
