Ship Wm. Wilcox, of Boston, from Havana for St. John, N. B., put into Doby Sound, Aug. 19th, with captain and mate both dead, and several of the crew sick with yellow fever.

Moulton's statement in regard to the Beecher-Tilton scandal is printed in the Graphic to day. It is to be recalled that the first preacher in America has been guilty of a foul and distasteful crime by his efforts to hide it.

The report that Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister, is to be recalled is not true. He has taken passage for the United States, and is expected in Washington about the 1st of October.

LONDON, Aug. 21.
PRESIDENT MONTAÑOSA
had a great reception at Brest to-day, and reviewed the troops in the afternoon. There was a magnificent display of fireworks to-night, and the city was illuminated.

SPANISH AFFAIRS.
President Serrano has signed the full credentials for representatives of Spain at the European capitals.

It is officially reported that Gen. M. Jones is at Laredo.

Gen. Trianon has summoned Purgator to surrender, and has begun to bombard the city.

The Carlist report attacks in progress on the frontier towns of Irati and Fontarabie.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.
YELLOW FEVER
prevails at Havana.

TILTON SUIT RESOLVED.
The preliminary papers in the Tilton-Beecher suit were served yesterday. The report of Plymouth Church Investigating Committee had not been presented to the church last evening, and will probably be further delayed, on account of Moulton's full statement, to take additional testimony.

TIMELY TOPICS.
The Princess Mathilde, who is main talking one of the former splendor of the Bonaparte family in France, recently went with the greater part of her household to sequester by the sea at Biarritz.

A memorial bust of the Earl of Aberdeen—and Mrs. Partington stopped to contemplate the horrible sight of an ear on a memorial bust. "Ears," said she, with inexpressible solemnity, "be careful and never have ears."

The Yellie Sultanah has presented her, the Sultan of Turkey, with 30 field pieces, gun carriages and all complete. The victory of Egypt recently gave the Sultan sovereign of an iron-clad.

Sir Charles Gavin Duffy, one of the Irish revolutionary leaders in '48, and editor of the Dublin Nation, has revisited Ireland after several years' absence in Victoria, Australia, where he has been Premier.

At the court of Louis XIV. there were two too volubrious—cousins. The king called one of them on his complacency, and added: "I suppose you take little or no exercise?" "Four majesties will pass me," replied the duke, "for I generally walk two or three times round my cousin every morning."

Fancy jewelry is in great vogue; but we can scarcely approve of some of the models sported by our elegantes. Miniature monkeys, beads and beads, milk-pans, pokers and tongs, a cage with a bird in it, and a hundred more such unpoetical articles are now introduced as ornaments to female ears.

"What is this for?" asked the colored porter at the Hotel Long Branch, the other day, holding out a twenty-five cent note given him by the gentleman addressed for carrying up his trunk.

"That," said the gentleman, taking the note and putting it back in his pocket, "was for your trouble and this is for your impudence," and he kicked him eleven feet nine inches and a half into the hallway.

Saratoga's social backbone or spinal column, whichever it may be, is palpably broken this year. The dullness is unprecedented. Nobody goes to the hops, balls are unheeded, and the people sit around on the balcony all day yawning and staring at vacancy. Nothing excites any interest, not even that familiar friend—the "educated pig."

The estimated annual butter product of the United States at the present time is 700,000,000 pounds. In 1880 the production of butter was a little over 315,000,000 pounds, increasing to 600,000,000 pounds in 1887. In 1890 it is estimated the country will require 600,000,000 pounds for home consumption alone.

The monopoly of life at Cozens' West Point Hotel was broken last week by a housemaid who fell 100 feet from the cliff, landed in a tree, and remained there twelve hours until some passer-by extricated her. At last accounts she was recovering, stimulated by the knowledge that a subscription was being taken up for her among the hotel guests.

The Register-General makes the following estimates of the population of the great towns of Great Britain in the middle of this year, 1874: London, 3,470,791; Liverpool, 510,670; Glasgow, 538,101; Manchester, 455,839; Salford, 138,065; Birmingham, 230,895; Dublin, 214,660; Leeds, 273,793; Sheffield, 251,019; Edinburgh, 211,091; Bristol, 162,889; Bradford, 173,056; Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 125,488; Hull, 130,990; Portsmouth, 120,466; Brighton (with suburbs), 109,219; Leicester, 106,202; Sunderland, 104,378.

The question of Public Works is the great question in India. According to Lord Salisbury, the Civil Engineer is a sort of guardian angel hovering over the Ganges and breathing peace, plenty and rain. As for military and financial authorities, he thinks the English position in India is impregnable, but without Public Works their rule is lost. The Hindoos want emigration, and they have not learned to accumulate, consequently if a paternal Government doesn't rush in with canals, railways, roads, and bridges, there is nothing for them but starvation.

Who makes the difference? In London the week ending July 11 was unusually hot, the thermometer marking 92° in the shade on several days. The death rate was higher than the average, being 20 per 1,000. In New York the death rate for the week ending July 23 was 41.18 per 1,000, and there was during the week no unusually hot weather.

A negro called "Uncle Jip" was fooling around the ferry dock, recently, when some one offered to bet him fifty cents that he couldn't let a coconut be broken against his head. "Jip" liver that money," replied the old man, laying a fifty-cent piece down, and as soon as it was done he sat down on a chair, uncovered his head and told them to knock away. A small coconut, with the husk peeled off, was thumped against his skull until it flew in pieces, and Uncle Jip raked in the currency, with the remark: "If anybody wants to liver any more money send him around."

The London correspondent of the New York Tribune has some entertaining political gossip. Henri Rochefort's work in London is going on at a good pace, and his hotel he may be found constantly surrounded by four or five secretaries, all as busy as himself.

The first instalment of his Review of French History since 1870 is out, and the next is fast approaching completion. Their style is said to be surprisingly moderate. The reason of his moderate, he says, "what France, after the crime of being wrong, none more severely visited than that of being right." It is to MacMahon's loyalty, he says that either the Marshal intends to preserve the Republic, in which case he is disloyal to his friends and his past career, or else he intends to destroy it, and then he is disloyal to the Government.

The Woman's Suffrage bill had to be withdrawn because Mr. Forsyth, who had charge of it in the House of Commons, being a new member and unacquainted with the ways of that body, failed to obtain a hearing for it. Mr. Albert Grant, M. P., who conferred the Emma Mine on the British public and assisted the transfer of a considerable sum of British money into American pockets, has been declared guilty of corrupt practices at Kidderminster, and so loses his seat. Mr. Grant is believed to have expended large sums of money in advertising the Emma Mine enterprise, and the name of Gen. Schenck to France and Directoire.

But he is still immensely wealthy.
