

ARCHBISHOP LAUD. A.D. 1645.

"I am coming, Lord. as quickly as I can. I know that I must pass through death before I can come to Thee; but it is only the mere shadow of death, a little darkness upon nature!"

LOUISA MATHER. A.D. 1903.

Raising herself up in the bed, she exclaimed: "The Lord wants me to go. I don't know where, but I'm going! Get my slippers, and put them on."

ANDREW FULLER. A.D. 1815.

"I have such a hope that with it I can plunge into eternity."

REV. JOHN ANTLE.

"The chariot has come, and I am ready to step in."
