Detroit Specialist Discovers Something Entirely New for the Cure of Men's Diseases in Their Own Homes.

You Pay Only if Cured

Expect No Money Unless He Cures You—Method and Full Particulars Sent Free—Write For This Very Day

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and boards, has perfected a starting method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes; so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he has

DR. S. GOLDBERG,
The Possessor of 14 Diplomas and Certificates Who Wants No Money That He Does Not Earn.

both the method and the ability to do as he says. Dr. Goldberg, the discoverer, will send the method entirely free to all men who send him their name and address. He wants to hear from men who have structure that they have been unable to get cured, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicocele, test manhood, blood poison, hydrocele, enlargement of parts, impotence, etc. His wonderful method not only cures the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, nervous debility, etc.

The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It would seem, therefore, that it is to the best interest of every man who suffers in this way to write the doctor confidentially and lay your case before him. He sends the method, as well as many booklets on the subject, including the one that contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address him simply:

Dr. S. Goldberg, 208 Woodward Ave., Room 208, Detroit, Mich., and it will all immediately be sent you free.

This is something entirely new and well worth knowing more about. Write at once.

A Sure Way of Saving.
An ingenious method of putting his savings beyond his own reach has been adopted by a German writer who found from dire experience that all his profits melted away as soon as earned. Having made $10,000 by a fortunate literary speculation, he placed the whole of the money, together with his will, in the Imperial Deposit Bank at Berlin and on receiving the receipt from the cashier deliberately tore it up. The cashier thought he was mad and told him angrily that it would take fully three years before he could expect to obtain a duplicate receipt. "That is just why I have torn up the original," calmly remarked the depositor, "and now the money is safe for that time."

The Marriage Knot.
Few of those who talk about the "marriage knot" realize that the knot was ever anything more than a mere figure of speech. Among the Babylonians tying the knot was part of the marriage ceremony. There the priest took a thread of the garment of the bride and another from that of the bridegroom and tied them into a knot, which he gave to the bride, thus symbolizing the binding nature of the union.

The man of letters naturally wants them to be considered letters of credit. Society is the mother of convention.

Father and Son
BOTH CURED OF
KIDNEY TROUBLE
BY
Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Benjamin Brooks, a well-known farmer of West Cape, P.E.I., tells of how his son was cured of Kidney Disease, and how he was cured of Backache.

The First Sign of Kidney Trouble.

He says: "Our little boy was troubled with kidney disease. We had tried many kinds of kidney pills but they only helped for a time. We got Doan's Kidney Pills and one box effected a perfect cure. About six weeks after this I caught a very bad cold that settled in my kidneys. My back was so sore I could hardly walk. I went to the drug store and got a box, took them according to directions and the result was that my back was completely cured. I believe they are the best kidney pill on the market to-day."

There is not a kidney trouble from Backache to Bright's Disease that Doan's Kidney Pills will not relieve or cure. The price is 50 cts. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.50 and may be procured at all dealers or from

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Always butter bread before attempting to cut it thin enough for sandwiches.

When making gravy add a little coffee. This not only adds to the flavor, but gives the gravy a richer brown tint.

Potatoes au gratin are simply potatoes cut, mixed in cream sauce, baked in the oven and served in the dish in which they are cooked.

If celery is called for in a stew or soup recipe and is not available use instead a small quantity of celery seed, which gives a very pleasant flavor.

When making beef tea never add the salt till the meat has been cooking for some time. Salt acts upon the fiber and prevents it giving out all its nourishing properties.

Never allow meats to boil when cooking them in water, but let the water simmer gently, keeping the kettle on the back of the stove. Hard boiling in salted water will toughen the tenderest piece of meat ever sold.

Peach, grape and other very juicy pies often give trouble by overflowing the crust and making it unpleasantly soggy. An old time remedy is to bind a strip of wet linen over the edge of the pie just before it goes into the oven.

Concerning Tables.
Taken all in all, the square table with solid center support and corner legs that are strong without being "lumpy" and graceful without ornament is the best for general use. As dining room and library furniture yields far less to the influence of fashion than does that for the drawing room it should be selected for rich woods, its fine construction, its solid character. All cheap vulgarities of ornament should be eschewed and especially that which is gilded. Rough carving is least objectionable, though a handsomely grained wood with no ornament save its own fine coloring is far richer. Two favorite woods for heavy dining room and library tables are oak and mahogany. The former is toned in golden, dark oak, Flemish brown or cathedral green and is seen either in a high shagreen or waxy finish. The favorite width for a library table is thirty-four inches; for the dining table from forty-five to fifty-four inches—Harper's Bazar.

Insurances.
Plenty of us do not realize that everything we do or say or believe has a certain influence on other folk. A young girl who admires some older woman will often make of herself a nice little carbon copy, talking and thinking according to her ideal. Little children are usually what their parents make them. As is the mother so is the child. A baby brought up in an atmosphere of stunted mentality is seldom bright. The child who hears sane conversation is building up in its wee infant brain the likes, dislikes, perceptions or blemishes of a whole life. All of us are influenced; all of us send out influences. The woman who walks down the street with her shirt waist spick and span, her hair done neatly, her shoes clean and polished and her belt all tidylike is an influence for good. There's no telling how many frumpy, untidy, shabby feminine mortals take the hint to themselves and start in on a little process of improvement.

A Delicate Dish.
Broiled beefsteak with oyster sauce is a gastronomic revelation to those who try it for the first time. Make the oyster sauce by scalding a dozen oysters in their own liquor, afterward removing the oysters and putting them aside. Beat two tablespoonsful of butter to a cream and add the yolks of three eggs, beating them into the butter with the juice of half a lemon. Season with onion juice, salt and pepper. Set the bowl containing the mixture into a basin of boiling water and stir carefully for a few minutes. Add a cupful of boiled and strained oyster liquor and boil until the sauce is quite smooth and like a custard. Draw back on the stove and add the oysters, whole if they are small, chopped if they are large. Serve the sauce separately, but pour a little around the beefsteak, which should be garnished with parsley.

Oven Dried Corn Bread.
Take two tencups of boiled hominy and while hot mix with it a very large spoonful of butter. Beat four eggs very light and stir them into the hominy. Add a pint of milk, gradually stirred in, and a half pint of white corn meal; salt. The batter should be of the consistency of boiled custard. Bake with a good deal of heat at the bottom of the oven and not too much at the top. The pan should be deep. This bread is often baked in a milk pan.

Convenient Hold All.
Where closet room is limited a hold all to hang inside a closet door is a great convenience. It may be made of denim or stout gingham, the width of the material and four feet deep. At the bottom are two deep pockets, above these a row of three pockets ten inches deep. The pockets should have a little fullness at the bottom set in a box plait. Edges of pockets and loops of the same serve to hang it up.

Water For the Complexion.
The woman with a muddy skin and dull eyes will find generous water drinking to be the cheapest and best beauty doctor of all. Two glasses of water every morning and night will brighten her eyes, clear her complexion and improve her digestion. Let the water be absolutely pure, and a few months of the simple treatment will gain many compliments for the woman whose greatest affliction is an unattractive skin.

Family cares and duties do not weigh down the well woman, and the children are never in her way. But when the womanly health fails, and there is a constant struggle with weakness and pain, household duties are a burden almost past bearing, and children are a ceaseless annoyance.

Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, drives discharges, drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I had been some time, troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines 'I had been some time, troubled with female weakness,' writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. 'Every month I would have to lie on my back. At the Chatham Grand:—
Real Widow Brown—Nov. 17.
Liquid Air and Wireless Telegraphy, Lecture—Nov. 30.
"The Burglar"—Nov. 27.
Lycum Course No. 2—Nov. 30.

REAL WIDOW BROWN.

The Real Widow Brown always was a funny play and always will be, and with Willie Dunlay masquerading as the Widow Brown the show couldn't help but be funny. Hiram Goodman, a respectable and wealthy widower, answers a matrimonial advertisement. Baron Von Holsstein does likewise and both get after the same widow. To save the widower, the lovers of the two daughters masquerade, one as the widow, the other as deacon Goodman. This leads to many funny situations and leads the Deacon into many unexpected and puzzling predicaments. The machinations of the lovers finally accomplish what is wanted. The Real Widow Brown marries the Widow Brown and saves the deacon. Willie Dunlay as the imitation widow was very clever and kept the house laughing all the time with his laughable masquerades of female wiles. The specialties of good and the dancing of the company is the real goods. Altogether the company is a good one and deserved the crowded house they played to last night. Miss Daisy played the part of Doty, a Detroit girl, and her father and a number of friends came up to see the production last night. The father was very much pleased with his daughter's skill. The party sang Miss Daisy a very handsome bouquet.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY LEAPS TO THE FRONT.

Most scientific inventions have to go through several slow stages of discovery, experimentation and development, before reaching the commercial field of success; steam and electricity now so very common, required many, many years to bring them to practical use. But Wireless Telegraphy bounded almost instantly into actual use. Marconi had scarcely announced to the world his discovery of the process of sending messages through space without the aid of wires, when the adoption of this invention was taken up and put to practical use. Yacht races were reported to the New York newspapers, and commercial messages were sent from the shore to steamers at sea. The warships of nations are promptly adopting this method of communication, and now there are nearly a dozen commercial companies of great capitalization, preparing to develop the new discovery. King Edward and President Roosevelt have exchanged greetings across the Atlantic, their words being sent three thousand miles through space without wires, a feat so startling that the world was yet but faintly comprehending its meaning.

A complete and elaborate Wireless Telegraphy apparatus will be shown and fully explained by Prof. Patty next Friday night, and many interesting experiments performed, in addition to the extensive program announced for Liquid Air. Not to improve this opportunity of seeing these two scientific marvels demonstrated will be to miss a chance that may not occur again for years. The sale of seats already indicates a very large attendance, and people who have not yet secured their seats will do well to make early reservations.

BEAUTY SPOTS.

A few waving locks about the forehead, temple and ears are becoming to a thin face.

If you will apply a little pure white vaseline to your eyelashes every night it will aid their growth and strengthen them.

Don't become too stout. Although plumpness of contour is by no means unbecoming, corpulence is a thing to be avoided.

Onion sandwiches are said to clarify the complexion. The onions must be sliced very fine and salted, then placed between thin slices of bread and butter.

The arrangement of a woman's hair will either enhance or mar her appearance. The wise woman will wear her hair in the style that proves becoming, whether it be fashionable or not.

Don't think that because you are forty and fair you also should be fat and that nature has laid down a law that women shall accumulate layers with years, like a magnolia or any other tree.

Don't wash your face in cold water if you have been weeping. It only makes a bad matter worse. Instead bathe with rosewater and then put a soft cloth saturated with rosewater over the eyes.

Before a Girl Promises.
Whole hearted affection is, in the majority of cases, absolutely essential to married happiness, but it must be accompanied by practical common sense. Girls nowadays are apt to think that a handsome, attractive and fascinating lover must necessarily make a good husband, whereas it frequently happens that he is totally unfit for the responsibilities of married life. Before a woman promises to be the wife of a man it is a duty which she owes to herself to learn everything about him. It is not inquisitive or mean, as many girls seem to imagine, to inquire into his private life and affairs. The time to find out if your fancy for a man's looks is indorsed by his life's history and whether his habits are good and his tastes congenial is during courtship days. Each girl should scrutinize her prospective husband's character as carefully as she would a new hat or gown, and then she should be able to decide fairly easily as to whether he is the right man for her to marry—American Queen.

To Avoid Nervousness.
Dr. H. T. Patrick says: "If you wish never to be nervous live with reason, have a purpose in life and work for it; play joyously, strive not for the unattainable, never regret the unalterable, be not annoyed at trifles, aim to attain neither great knowledge nor great riches, but unlimited common sense; be not self centered, but love the good and thy neighbor as thyself. The time to start such an ideal life is in the childhood. Two capital errors in the training of children are deplored by the author: (1) Leading children into pleasures and duties beyond their years, and (2) magnifying their importance in the family and in society. It is quite as dangerous to give to children the pleasures of adults as to require of them the labors of the mature."—Woman's Life.

The Linen Closet.
Every housewife takes or should take a lively interest in her household linen, and, unlike her sisters of old, she is not obliged to spin her bedclothes with her own fair hands. She may, of course, embroider or hemstitch by way of decoration, but that is all. The housewife of today takes as much pride in her store linen as did her grandmother in the work of her own hands. The closet may be either an old carved oak chest or a low box converted into an ottoman and draped with cretonne. Falling one of these, an old trunk may be utilized or there may be some recess at the landing of the stairs which could very well serve the purpose.—American Queen.

To Make Beds.
The greatest attention is given in hospitals to the proper making of beds. The nurses sometimes spend months chiefly in learning to make a bed. One of the hospital ideas may well be copied in every family where there are invalids or weak people. This is to stretch the under sheet as tight as possible and pin it firmly to the under side of the mattress with safety pins. Wrinkles in the under sheet are a fruitful source of discomfort to a sick and restless person. This system of pulling the under sheet taut and fastening it so it will stay in place will prevent such annoyance.

Women and Advertisers.
How important advertising has become is suggested by the observation of a smart man that there are but two great editors in the country—"one is the American woman and the other is the American advertiser," says the Philadelphia Record. The woman's taste has much to do with the character of the leading journals, and the advertiser's enterprise makes every thing possible to the newspapers. It is because women read the newspapers that most advertisers buy its space.

Room Lights.
The difference between gas and oil lamps in the matter of violating the laws of a room is significantly indicated in the fact that florists use lamps in their greenhouses, gas never. Too frequent emphasis can hardly be put upon the necessity of airing a room thoroughly that must be slept in after having been gas lighted throughout the evening, a precaution too often neglected.

Souvenir Range.

Without an abundance of pure fresh air in the oven whatever is cooked therein is distasteful and unhealthy.

Meats are specially susceptible to impurities while being roasted—their rich flavor is retained only when the oven is pure.

Aerated Ovens Breathe Fresh Air.

By an ingenious arrangement applied only to the Souvenir, fresh air is made to circulate freely and everything impure, including odors from cooking food is driven out of the oven and up the chimney—not into the room.

The Aerated principle is the only one that actually ventilates the oven.

THE WORD MELODRAMA.

It Has Drifted From Its Derivation and Original Significance.

Nowadays "melodrama" is in general use as denoting a purely sensational play, with an all but impossible hero, heroine and villain among the characters represented. Formerly the word meant more closely in its significance to actual derivation. "Melodrama" is compounded of the Greek words melos, a song, and drama, an action, a play, and was applied to two sorts of performances when it first came into use.

It signified a play, generally of the romantic school, in which the dialogue was frequently relieved by music, sometimes of an incidental and sometimes of a purely dramatic character. On the strength of his "Eugene Oniz" J. Rousseau is credited with the invention of this style. Some of the so called English operas of the older school, such as the once famous "Beggars' Opera" and the once popular "No Song, No Supper," are in reality true melodramas.

In the second place "melodrama" was applied to a peculiar kind of theatrical composition in which the actor recited; his part in an ordinary speaking voice, while the orchestra played a more or less elaborate accompaniment appropriate to the situation and calculated to bring its salient features into the highest possible relief. The merit of the invention of this description of melodrama belongs to George Benda, who used it with striking effect in his "Arladne auf Naxos," produced at Gotha in 1774.—London Globe.

Owners of property who desire to sell are quick to make a note of this. They are agents for The Monarch Fire Insurance Company; and they have houses to rent.
