ALL ABOUT SILOS

and other things that help make farming profitable.

CONCRETE makes the ideal silo, because it has air-tight, water-tight walls, with no joint—the walls being non-absorbent and round in shape. Besides that air-tightness and water-tightness which are so essential to the proper preservation of the silage, the concrete silo has such other important qualities as fire-proofness and permanence.

A permanent silo of concrete is the safest and best investment a farmer can make. It means larger herds, less work, more profit.

Our book, "What the Farmer can do with Concrete," explains how all things of Concrete on a farm are built, including Silos. Write us for the names of concrete silo-builders in your neighborhood, or follow the very complete instructions in the book, which is free to any farmer who writes for a copy.
