NEWS OF NORFOLK

Charlton Unionist Candidate; H. P. Innes Withdrawn From Field

WALLACE NOMINATED
Anti-Conscriptionist Will Contest Riding With Mr. Charlton

(From our own Correspondent.)
Simcoe, Nov. 20.—The slate for Norfolk reads:
Hon. W. A. Charlton, Unionist.

The Letter.
To the Electors of the Riding of Norfolk: Ladies and Gentlemen.—Acting upon the advice and with the consent and approval of the executive committee of the Liberal Conservative Association of Norfolk, and with the desire to further the interests of the Borden Union Government, I have decided not to be a candidate at this election.

It is my intention to support the Union Candidate, and it is my desire that all my friends do the same.
Faithfully yours,
HUGH P. INNES.

It does not require the wisdom of Solomon to judge whether party politics or the country's real weights most in Conservative Norfolk. When later, Mr. Innes spoke in Mr. Charlton's behalf, he was received with the applause of unmitigated admiration.

With the candidates announced, and the above letter read, the Sheriff left the chair. On motion of Senator McCall and H. P. Innes, Mr. McGuire was appointed chairman. The candidates agreed upon 30 minutes to each side and 13 minutes for Mr. Charlton in rebuttal.

Mr. Charlton launched at once into the main issue, conscription. We have had it in crude form since pioneer days. In 1904, Sir Wilfrid Laurier revised the old Militia Act. That was a time of peace, there no need for haste. There was no demand for a referendum although the act was passed in the last session of that parliament, and by that act the government was empowered to conscript men, not by selection or consideration as to whether married or single, old or young. All between 20 and 60 were liable to be called out except judges, guardians of the peace, and treasury and registry officers, magistrates and clergymen. Farmers and idlers all together.

The present act discriminates as to the age and state of men, and as to their occupation, leaving at home all those whose occupations are essential to the nation's production. The Laurier act provided for sending men overseas as does the present one. The present act protects the farmer more than any other class, though in Norfolk, possibly because the facts are not known, farmers are the chief objectors. The farmers of Canada should be thankful that this act is in force.

The Present Call is for 100,000 men. The act does not allow of more being sent. Should there be more than that number drafted some of them must be dismissed.
Producers of food at home are as necessary as men in the trenches.
"Out of Politics."
I am not going back into the field of party politics. The world today is in such a condition that men must get together and work together. It is full time to quit playing politics, as one has said, "on the edge of Hell."

Need of Food
In peace, our European allies on the Western front produced only 60 per cent of their wheat requirements. To-day the farmers of these countries are in the trenches. It is up to us to produce food for the winter of 1918.
Strong Arm of Britain Needs Help.
Though Britain has heretofore all depended on her own right arm of strength, to-day she needs help. Our duty at once is (1) to fill up the blanks left by those who have bravely died that we might live.

(2) Send help and encouragement to men in the trenches and comforts to the wounded.
(3) To provide for the broken soldier on his return.
(4) Compensate the dependents who look upon a vacant chair.
He admitted General Hughes for standing up for the rights of Canadian officers to lead their men in France.

H. P. Innes completed Mr. Charlton's half hour in substance as follows:
Mr. Charlton has just informed me that he is an out and out supporter of the Borden Government, and there is no need for a second candidate in the field.
Shall We Stand by Empire's Cause?
The stake is too great for the consideration of individualism. We are a part of the British Empire, renowned for liberty in civil and religious life. The question of the moment is shall we stand by the Empire or shall we let Germany trample upon us and make us slaves. Let everyone present bury politics and support the cause of Empire.
The Military Service Act was passed for the sole purpose of relieving farmers and other essential industries and because one Province, Quebec, refused to enlist voluntarily. If you support Laurier, you allow Quebec to trample over the rest of Canada.

There is absolutely nothing else to do but support the Borden Cabinet.

Wealth must be and is being conscripted. The debts are being incurred by those who can't pay. The Anti-Conscriptionist, Independent Opposition, Farmers' and Labor Candidate Speaks.

Mr. Wallace announced himself as the independent win-the-war candidate, and opposed to the Union Government. He had omitted the word "opposition" which was a part of the child's baptismal name. He would support a vigorous prosecution of the war by stopping the operation of the Conscription Act and holding a referendum (a la mode Laurier).

Manhood has been conscripted while wealth is unattached. He claimed that the Act will not have moral support, but will breed anarchy.
A Class Man.
The middle classes are not represented in Parliament, he said. He put in no plea for the "lower class." The tendency of economic life is to make rich men richer and poor men poorer (and that in spite of Governments).

He passed over Laurier's Militia Act as a joke and claimed its enforcement was never contemplated. He said there was a statute against whistling on Sunday (we can't find it), which is not enforced, and thought the Conscription Act in the same class. Mr. Wallace made a very good platform appearance, spoke clearly and read deliberately. But he had nothing new to offer or suggest.

In Rebuttal.
Mr. Charlton observed that there were always in Parliament more of farmers than of any other class; that wealth has been already conscripted and that even poor peaking houses in future pay half of all profits over 7 per cent, up to 15 per cent, and all over 15 per cent. This threw the Wallace element into a sudden meditative mood. Would the hog men pay more for the hogs or change less to wonder. It was a vital question. Then when Mr. Charlton said income was to be conscripted some of the weather farmer element, who have laid by three or four thousands annually, later began to wonder if a considerable tax would reach out on the land.

None of them seemed to know that right here in Simcoe manufacturing concerns are paying a considerable surtax on profits. He took another dive at the Conscription Act and concluded by saying that he hoped to support the Government through reconstruction period after the war.

E. Blayney wanted to know why more and more soldiers were being called out. It was explained that the Germans now had control of about 90 millions more than when the war began.
"Who did they let Germany run over Koumaala?" called a back bench roarer. "Because you were not there to help," were the ready rejoinders from another quarter. Mr. Charlton left his cause with the people. The chairman called for three cheers for the Kings. They came, and so did the candidates and the chairman. They came.

A Way Out of Trouble.
There's a man about town who says, "Let them conscript my wealth (and he has some) when they conscript my man." His hired man enlisted voluntarily, and the local I.O.D.E. is able to take care of a volunteer check for a thousand or two any old time if all Buck up. Be as good as the hired man or shut up. Money given the way of "grat" or taxes. Go to it. Buck up.

Uniting Activity.
Lynnwood Headquarters of the day is as unrelentingly busy. Yesterday the following shipments were made to Sgt. McMaster, an Irishman and the first Norfolk man to volunteer for service—15 pairs, 50 to Lt. West, and Westgait, Pte. E. C. West, and Lance-Corporal J. H. Patters. For Overseas pairs 26 pairs. There is a splendid response to the appeal for stretcher caps both at the headquarters and at St. Paul's. Patters may be obtained from Mrs. J. B. Jackson or Mrs. W. O. Wregett.

Oliver De Cou and Wm. Waite. Only yesterday was the news reported to us of advice that Mr. Oliver De Cou has received gunshot wounds in the leg and eye, and that Mr. Wm. Waite has been reported wounded. Both enlisted here in the former 133rd.

Dr. Grassett, was called to Oakville yesterday to attend the funeral of his brother William Grassett there.

How the Farmers are Suffering. A glance through the following results of yesterday's deliberations at the tribunal fails to reveal any great injustice. The usual fifty appeals against service were handled and a few extras. The fact that practically all are appealing is proof enough that the day of voluntary enlistment is past.

BECOMING CLOTHES FOR MEN
Do men as a rule, I wonder, pick out their clothes with any definite effort to get something unbecoming? Or do they look upon clothes as something required by law and the climate and not worth spending any thought upon?
