LETTER BOX

A SPLENDID RECORD.

Editor Planet:—Dear Sir,—My attention was called a day or two ago an item in your interesting paper, that was considered an unusual piece of work in dredging, done by the dredge Ontario. I have something to tell you in this line that may also be interesting to Chatham people.

Dredge No. 8, formerly called the S. T. Martin, when owned by the Chatham Dredging Co., now owned by Rogers & O'Brien, and employed by Phil & Co., on their Welland Canal contract, dug, on Wednesday, last, Aug. 27, sixteen scow loads of clay, containing by actual measurement upwards of seventy hundred yards. Eight of these scows were loaded inside of four hours and the total number within ten hours and thirty minutes. There was a face of between two and three feet only, and making over eighteen feet of water. No. 8 carries a 2-1/4 yard dipper.

This is a record breaker in Welland Canal dredging, and surpasses anything that has ever been done in dredging work in this section. We cannot speak for the outside world. The crew that runs No. 8, and did this work are:—Captain and engineer, Robert W. Johnston, engineer, Thos. C. Dalton, fireman, Alfred J. Crow, with John G. Johnston and John J. Duffy on Deck. A majority of them are Chatham boys, they are no discredit to their native city, and they certainly know how to sling mud.

Government Inspector,

The Unhappy Burden-Bearer Must Make Choice.

Paine's Celery Compound

Takes Away The Load of Disease and Leads to
New Life, Health and Happiness.

The unhappy victim of disease who has just dragged, through the summer, who who is now racked with suffering and almost a physical wreck must make immediate choice of two paths. One leads to increased misery and certain death, the other to new life, health and happiness.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound is a necessity for all who seek the path of health and long years. Victims of rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness and blood diseases, quickly and surely find new life, vigor and strength in Dr. Phelps' medical prescription—Paine's Celery Compound. It builds up the system, purifies the blood, braces the nerves and regulates digestion as no other medicine can do. Mrs. Chas. Charette, Chambly, P. Q., wonderfully rescued by Paine's Celery Compound, writes as follows:
"I can honestly say that I would not be living to-day if it had not been for your wonderful medicine. For a long time I suffered terribly from ordinary medical treatment. I heard of your Paine's Celery Compound, and I have good reason to thank God that I used it. I can now eat well and sleep soundly, and my nervousness is a thing of the past. I now feel perfectly rescued after a night's sleep, which was never the case before using the Compound. My neighbors are surprised at the grand cure made by your medicine, and some are using it now. I thank you sincerely for the honest results given by Paine's Celery Compound."

Common sense is the genius of our age.

SLEEPLESSNESS.

You can't sleep in the calmest and stillest night, if your stomach is weak, circulation poor, and digestion bad. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the stomach, improves the circulation, perfects digestion, and brings about that condition in which sleep is regular and refreshing.

It does not do this in a day, but it does it—has done it in thousands of cases.

The Girl and Her Play.

Once upon a time there were a young lady and a young gentleman playing a two handed game of euchre.
"I offer you a solitaire diamond," said the young man as he played the ace of that suit.
"The best I can do is to give you my heart," the young woman answered as she played.
"Then your whole hand goes with it," he said.
"Yes, Charles, dear," she replied.
Moral.—There is such a thing as playing into the other player's hand.

Roman Gormands.

The ancient Greeks and Romans drank wine freely at their feasts. Wine was their beverage. Indeed Bacchus held high carnival among them, and the Romans would gorge himself with food and then empty his stomach by artificial means and resume his seat at table and eat and drink to his fill again.

Got It.

"Fact is," said the one man, "I married because I was lonely as much as for any other reason. To put it tersely, married for sympathy."
"Well," said the other man, "you have mine."
