THE TRUST PROBLEM.

Mayor Brand Whitlock, of Toledo, gives the following as his estimate of the significance of the imprisonment of the bridge and lumber trust men:

I always feel sorry for anyone who is sent to prison, no matter who he is; prisons never did anybody any good or made any man better; furthermore, the problem of the trusts with all their iniquities will never be solved by putting rich men in jail, for that problem is but part of the great economic problem, and the economic problem cannot be solved by the pains and penalties of prisons. Nevertheless, in the larger, impersonal view, this event is significant and hopeful for these reasons:

1. It shows that an earnest, sincere effort is being made to solve the problem created by the trusts and this effort will ultimately succeed, and we will find a way out.

2. It shows that the laws are not much longer to be made by and administered for those who have too much property and want more.

3. It shows that there is already a higher conception of public duty as exemplified in the conduct of such brave men as Judge Morris, Judge Kinkadee and Prosecuting Attorney Wachenheimer.

4. It shows a growing determination on the part of the people to hold all men, high and low, rich and poor, respectable and disreputable, equal before the law.

5. It shows a deeper and more delicate moral sense, which at last recognizes the respectable and facie crimes of cunning to be quite as odious as the vulgar and clumsy crimes of force and violence; and a finer conscience which holds it to be just as bad to assault many helpless men with a statute in order to take away their property, as to tell one man with a slung-shot for the same purpose.

6. It shows that one of the best ways to correct evils is to give them publicity through a press that is free, non-partisan, and not amenable to corporation control.

7. It shows that in the rise of a freer and more perfect democracy, special privilege is to be done away with, and, more significant and more hopeful than all else, and indeed, including all else.

8. It shows that the low ideal of the age, which has held all success to consist in material wealth, and taught men to get all they can and to keep all they get, is giving way to a better, higher and nobler ideal which holds that success consists in moral worth.

LITERARY

JULY CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

The Canadian Magazine for July marks the fortieth anniversary of Confederation with the publication of a number of articles in keeping with the significance of the occasion. Mr. John Lewis, Editor-in-Chief of the Toronto Star, contributes an excellently-written article entitled "The Fathers of Confederation," and there are several other articles along the same line; for instance, "The Viceroy of Canada," by H. V. Ross; "Journalism at Confederation," by J. E. B. McCready; and "Canada's Possibilities and Perils," by John Maclean. The number contains ten articles, some of them well illustrated, and four short stories, besides the usual departments of comment.

THREAD TO BE DEARER.

Price of Cotton Thread to Be Raised to 10 Cents a Spool.

New York, July 20.—Cotton thread, until a short time ago the most stable in price of all the staples, selling the country over for five cents a spool, is to be advanced again so that the retail price will be ten cents. On May 29 there was an advance which brought the retail price to 6 and 7 cents.

Increased cost of raw material and an advance in wages are the reasons given for the contemplated increase in price.

Independent manufacturers declare that neither of these reasons is a good one, for when cotton was selling much higher than it is now thread retailed for 5 cents.

That Blacked Scheme.

London, Eng., July 20.—Sir Thos. Trowbridge and the other promoters of the Black Sea-Halifax scheme, having this week carried through Parliament their bill for harbor and railway connections in County Mayo, are making definite proposals to Lloyd George and Winston Churchill next week.

They guarantee to place three 25-knot steamers on the route reaching Halifax under four days for a total subsidy of one and one-half million dollars from the British and Canadian Governments together. They express confidence in the success of their project, especially in view of the warm Irish support.

The Tenth Victim.

Boston, July 20.—Midshipman J. F. Cruise of the battleship Georgia died at the naval hospital in Chelsea yesterday. He is the tenth victim.

JUMPING WITH NERVE PAIN.

That's how you feel with neuralgia. But why do you feel at night, grumble or complain—get busy with a bottle of Nerviline. It does act like magic, seeks out the pain and destroys it. Harmless and certain, instant in effect, nothing is so popular as Nerviline for aches and pains of all kinds. Try it for lumbago, test it in rheumatism, prove it in neuralgia, pleurisy or colds. You'll soon acknowledge that Polson's Nerviline beats them all. Sold everywhere in large 25c. bottles.

A GOOD COMPLEXION.

Never Wash the Face With Cold Water.

Here are certain plain, simple hints for the securing or maintenance of a good complexion which can be carried in mind and practiced by the woman who can afford neither the fees of beauty doctors nor several hours a day for grooming. Wash the face carefully, never with very cold water. At night it should have a warm soap bath to clean it, rinsing the soap off thoroughly and drying with an upward movement. Learn always to rub up and never down, to counteract drooping lines and sagging muscles. Take at least one bath a day, rubbing the body vigorously. Remember that hot water is necessary to cleanse and cold water to invigorate. Rosewater and elder flower water are beneficial in softening the skin. Any good cold cream, sold by a reputable house, is excellent for the face. It should be rubbed in thoroughly after a warm bath. A little on the tips of the fingers is sufficient. It softens and freshens the skin. Remember that all rich foods are enemies of a fine, delicate skin. The rose best skin of the body comes from its simple diet. Avoid pastry, pickles and pie. Eat fruit and simple food and drink plenty of water at any time except mealtime, especially on getting up in the morning, when it rinses the system of the mucus that has accumulated on the coating of the stomach and other organs during the night. A good complexion comes from the same sources as health—fresh air, exercise, correct food, bathing, sufficient sleep and proper activity of the internal organs.

QUEBEC'S RECEPTION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Officially Welcomed Home.

Quebec, July 20.—The grand demonstration in honor of Sir Wilfrid's homecoming took place last evening at 8 o'clock.

Sir Wilfrid was escorted in triumph through the city to St. Peter's market place in St. Sauveur.

The procession left the Chateau Frontenac headed by a cavalry escort and the carriages containing members of the following Liberal clubs: Jacques Cartier, Laurier, and Quebec Centre and a band.

The Premier was accompanied by the Hon. Mr. Gouin, Provincial Premier; Dr. Cote, president of the reception committee, and His Worship Mayor J. G. Gagnon.

The other members of the reception committee, the press and citizens followed in some sixty carriages.

Four bands were in the procession: Needless to say the streets through which the procession passed were crowded. The route of march was profusely and appropriately decorated the display of bunting being very profuse and the electric light motes numerous and very gorgeous.

At St. Peter's market place, in St. Sauveur, an address of welcome was presented to Sir Wilfrid by Dr. Cote, M.P.P., general president of the reception committee. To this Sir Wilfrid replied in his usual very eloquent manner. Other speeches were made by Hon. Messrs. Paterson, Aylesworth, Lemieux, Bureau, Gouin and Turgeon.

The demonstration was not considered as political. It was considered as a civic or national character.

Sir Wilfrid leaves to-morrow morning for Three Rivers, Sorel and Montreal on board the steamer Lady Grey.

WAS READY TO SHOOT.

So Says Galt Burglar Sent Down for Twenty-Three Months.

Galt, July 20.—"I stood out on the lawn with a good and loaded gun in my hands, while my partner went into the houses and got the stuff."

"And if some one had come along?"

"They would have got the gun's contents if they monkeyed with me."

This was part of the dialogue which took place at the Police Court yesterday morning, the charges against Malcolm McDonald, self-confessed thief and abettor of the burglar who operated at the East Main street residences on the 23rd of May last, and Chief Gorman, who, at the trial of the prisoner, acted as prosecutor and cross-examiner.

He pleaded guilty to the three charges of burglary. He was arrested at Guelph a while ago, where he said that he had set fire to the grand stand at the Exhibition grounds at Toronto. Later he was arrested in Kingston for stealing a bike.

Police Magistrate Blake sentenced McDonald to 23 months in the Central Prison.

SOCIALIST WINS.

Liberal Seat in Yorkshire Is Lost at Bye-Election.

London, July 20.—The Socialists have gained a notable political victory in the bye-election for a member of Parliament from the Colne Valley division, Yorkshire. Victor Grayson, the Socialist candidate, was returned at the head of the poll. Colne Valley has been Liberal for many years.

The votes of all the candidates this time were very close; the Liberal aspirant was only 153 behind the winner, while the Unionist candidate was a good third.

Mr. Grayson, who is a Manchester journalist and lecturer at Owens College, Manchester, was largely supported by the Laborites.

REVOLUTION IN QUAYQUILL.

Four Military Barracks and President's House Attacked.

Quayquill, Ecuador, July 20.—The four military barracks in this city were attacked simultaneously just before daybreak yesterday morning by groups of armed revolutionaries, who call themselves independents.

The fighting lasted for one hour. The independents were finally defeated, several of their number being killed or wounded.

The local residence of President Rifo also was attacked. The revolutionaries purposed to kill the president, but he succeeded in coming out of the conflict uninjured.

Quayquill has been placed under martial law.

Railway Fined $30,000.

Raleigh, N.C., July 20.—The Southern Railway Co. was fined $30,000 yesterday, and Thomas J. Green, ticket agent of the company, was fined $5 in the State Court here for selling railroad tickets at a rate in excess of that provided by the recent state law for a uniform of 31-4 cents a mile in North Carolina.

The court required Green to promise not to sell tickets at the illegal rate. Green made the promise and paid the fine.

Had Stroke in Water.

Kincardine, July 20.—Roderick McLeod, a resident of Kincardine from his youth, was drowned while bathing in the river at the rear of his property.

It is supposed that he had a stroke of some kind after entering the water. He was upwards of 60 years of age and unmarried.

Toronto Brakeman Hurt.

Winnipeg, Man., July 20.—Hamilton Roady, C.P.R. brakeman, whose home is in Toronto, while assisting in coupling at Holland, fell between the cars and had his leg terribly crushed. He was brought to the General Hospital here on a special train.

Wanted For Murder.

Winnipeg, July 20.—J. A. Smith, arrested on suspicion of being implicated in a murder case at Toledo, Ohio, admits to the police that he is the man wanted, but not to the murder charge.

PITFALLS FOR MINISTERS.

Warnings Against Dangers in Connection With Religious Life.

The young New York clergyman who has recently been deposed from the ministry as a result of his arrest in a Seventh avenue disorderly house while engaged in what he described as "a slumming expedition," might have been saved from the disgrace that has overwhelmed him if he had taken to heart an injunction which appears in a late issue of The Homiletic Review:

"Don't go slumming alone. There are a good many kinds of wickedness which even a minister does not need to know very intimately; but if you ever have occasion to go to a bad house go with your wife, or with one of your deacons, and for some other reason than curiosity."

This injunction appears as part of an article on "The Minister and Women," in which another metropolitan clergyman (a well-known preacher who conceals his identity under a pseudonym) puts a fellow-clergyman on their guard against certain dangers in connection with the religious life which have come within his own experience, and against which, as he now regrets, his seminary professors failed to give him warning.

He begins the article with a story about a woman, perhaps 35, dressed in black, and with a genteel and thoroughly respectable appearance, who approached his assistant minister at the close of an evening service. Her credentials were apparently flawless, and she wormed herself into his confidence by telling an affecting story of an unhappy marriage, and of her determination to devote her life and money to the Church. She turned out to be a forger and blackmailer, and was arrested by the police.

The writer goes on to speak of other experiences of a similar character:

"I learned how one city minister received a note from a woman professing to be in trouble, and asking for an appointment with him alone; how he wrote her making such an appointment, and the next day, leaving his study, met a man who thrust the letter in his face, saying: 'Here is your letter addressed to a woman whose name is known to everyone in this city as the worst character on the street; how much will you give for it?' I learned of a minister who admitted to his study a woman with a sad story, who drew near and nearer to him in her appeal for sympathy, till at length she flung herself in his lap, with her arms about his neck, and at that moment the door opened, and two men asked how much he would give to keep this little matter quiet. I learned of another who had repeatedly admitted a woman who came with a tale of trouble, and whose demeanor throughout was above reproach; but how in time the minister was offered a photograph of himself sitting in his own study chair with this woman in his lap. He was cool enough to examine it carefully, and found it a clever bit of photographic patchwork, but access had been obtained to his study in his absence, a photograph had been made, and a new photograph made of the combination."

Canadian Meat in Britain.

While agreeing with the view that the exclusion of Canadian cattle from Britain is unjustifiable for the reason officially assigned, there has been no inclination to regard the regulation as altogether adverse to the true interest of the Dominion. To encourage the shipping of cattle in a raw and undried condition in order that they may be finished in Britain is to discourage not only an important branch of stock raising, but also a number of dependent and allied businesses which ought to find a natural home in Canada. The proper policy is to finish cattle here and to develop the cold storage trade. In that way the by-products, such as hides, horns, etc., etc., will become the raw material of other home manufactures and thus assist the development of Canada as an industrial community.

At a recent session of the C. P. R. commission in Macleod, Alberta, the chief witness was Dr. Duncan McEbrach, late manager of the Walfron ranch, who has also been dean of the veterinary faculty of McGill University, chief veterinary inspector of stock for the Dominion, and vice-president of the noted Cochrane ranch. He strongly advised the feeding of all Canadian cattle, because it would pay directly, and stockmen must do it if they are to establish a demand for Canadian meat in the old country market and cope with that from other countries. From his experience here in Canada and in England Dr. McEbrach expressed the opinion that Canadian cattle were put on the market before they were "ripe." There has been general agreement among the other witnesses examined before the commission that the only sound and satisfactory solution of the cattle question in Western Canada is for the Government to undertake the shipment of meat by cold storage.—Toronto World.

Norse Anchor Story Correct.

The finding of a Norse anchor at Crookston is now so well established fact, though how it came to be there cannot be satisfactorily explained. It was lying in clay, which apparently had not been disturbed for centuries, and the discovery will be carefully followed up with the hope that other relics may be unearthed. The anchor will be sent to the Smithsonian Institution. It is thought the anchor may be a relic of a little band of Norsemen when they first came to the coast of North America centuries ago, the presumption being that at that time the Red River Valley was a portion of the Western Canadian coastline, from the Atlantic to Dakota possible.

Good Advice.

First, be temperate. Second, stay out of debt as much as you can. If the American business man, young or old, will only do these two things and keep the business of his life, says Trainer Murphy in The Saturday Evening Post, he will soon get on and will stay fit to the end.

These "Trans-Canada Limited" trains will leave Montreal every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 12:30 noon during the months of July and August. HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

A painted kitchen wall becomes greasy from the steam caused by cooking and the dust by sweeping, which together it is almost impossible to remove. To a painful of warm soaps add a little ammonia and three or four tablespoonsful of kerosene, which, when applied with a sponge or soft cloth, will remove all greasy and dusty substances.

Those who like sausages, but with whom the grease does not agree, should try parbelling them a few minutes before frying. The result is most satisfactory. Pierce sausages with a fork before boiling.

For a pool floor covering an old Brussels rug worn and faded may be thoroughly cleaned, turned upside down and given two coats of floor stain, with varnish added. This also is a good way to treat old strips of Brussels carpet for porch use.

Asparagus With Brown Butter. Cut the asparagus all of one length, tie in bundles of five or six stalks and place in an upright position in a saucepan of boiling salted water which reaches not more than halfway up the stalks, cover closely and cook until tender. This is the best way to cook asparagus and keep it appetizing in its wholeness. To lay it flat in the water allows the tips to cook to a pulp before the lower ends of the stalks are tender. Drain the asparagus and serve on a rack, if possible in a heated dish.

To Keep Cream Sweet. If cream curdles in your coffee, especially for breakfast, merely add a pinch of baking soda to the cream, and it will not turn sour in the coffee.
