MARY'S LAMB

Mrs. Laura B. Downey Bartlett, local author and pioneer of the northwest, has a piece of wool from the most famous lamb that ever lived—the lamb responsible for the childhood rhyme about Mary and her little lamb.

The small bunch of wool from Mary's lamb was handed down to Mrs. Bartlett, who has a tiny book that tells the full history of the episode and explains how the celebrated bovine happened to take such a prominent place in juvenile literature. The book contains pictures of the original Mary and of the barn in which the lamb was born.

Mary's lamb, according to the narrative, was one of a pair of twins. Its mother kicked it aside and refused to have anything to do with it. Mary found it, stiff with cold and well-nigh starved, and begged to have it brought into the house. There she wrapped it in a blanket and nourished it on warm milk and catnip until it grew into a great pet and an inseparable companion.

Then one morning, the book recites, when Mary and her brother, Nat, were on the way to school, they found the lamb following them. Mary desired to send it back, but Nat thought it would be rare sport to see a lamb in the school room, so the children encouraged it to come. School had not yet opened, and the lamb was secreted in the huge, box-like affair that provided a desk for Mary before the teacher appeared.

School was proceeding with its usual decorum when the lamb, cramped for room, began to strike its hoofs on the side of the desk, and thereby made known its presence to the teacher, who, with some difficulty, persuaded it to go outside.

As it happened, John Roulstone, Jr., a freshman at Harvard, came to visit the school that day and the episode struck him with such force that he wrote the famous jingle on the subject and presented it to Mary. The verses soon became nationally known.

Mrs. Bartlett, who owns the book and the bit of wool from the lamb, is one of the best known historical research workers in the northwest. She has recently completed a history of the State of Washington, which has been adopted as a textbook in the State public schools.—The San Bernardino Daily Star.

BE WARNED IN TIME

A man who would not take his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a hive of bees, and in ten minutes he looked like a warty squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and failing to note a barb-wire fence, ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of pants. The cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, and got into the corn. Hearing the racket his wife ran, upsetting a four-gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens and drowning them. In her hurry she lost a $30 set of teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the cream and into the parlor, ruining a brand new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, and the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four night-shirts. The man could have got a paper of his own for $2.00 a year, and saved all the trouble and expense.

BUSINESS AND RELIGION.

More religion in business. More business in religion. These are the demands of an age that tends to place practical utility above most other virtues.

Interesting to church people in Vancouver, where the demand for practical religion is heard just as loudly as anywhere else, is the work of Rev. Dr. Stephen S. Estey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Topeka, Kansas.

Close and beneficial relations exist between this church and the business life of the community. The pastor has made his church attractive and helpful to business men while the latter have responded with a generous interest in the church's welfare.

One particular feature of Dr. Estey's success in this regard is the fact that he uses biblical teachings not only to point the way towards morality in business but towards SUCCESS in business.

From the book of Proverbs alone he has constructed a set of business axioms which would accurately sum up the latest business theories taught by the most advanced business school.

The day is passed when business success could be considered synonymous with deadly sin. Christianity has been shown by Dr. Estey to fit men for life on this earth as well as for life in the next.

A religion that will keep step with practical progress, without sacrificing the fundamental truths of its substance, is the great need of the world today.

Dr. Estey's work has removed the libel on Christianity that it could not keep step with modern thought.

The apologists who have been working overtime in an effort to excuse the old-fashionedness of Christianity, are commencing to realize with surprise that the creed of the Nazarene has all the time been a little ahead of civilization and not, as they had supposed, dragging feebly behind it.

A serious and genuine effort in every Canadian church to line up the Christian religion with the every-day life and aspirations of healthy, ambitious Canadians, will reveal a civilizing and tremendous force for clean prosperity that even the apostles did not know their religion contained.

The wonderful thing about Christianity is not only its history of salvation but its promise of eternal moral strength for every generation that shall come after this one. It cannot be exhausted.—Vancouver Sun.

SOMEBODY.

"Somebody did a golden deed; Somebody proved a friend in need; Somebody sang a beautiful song; Som body smiled the whole day long; Somebody thought, "'Tis sweet to live"; Somebody said, "I'm glad to give"; Somebody fought a valiant fight; Somebody lived to shield the right. Was that "Somebody" you?"

Don't forfeit the sweetness of life by keeping your nose forever on the grindstone of toil.

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces."

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

Writes Mrs. J. of Montreal

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 10-122

A COLLECTION OF

Musical Instruments

WORTH YOUR INSPECTION

ALMOST every article in our very large stock has arrived within thirty days. These Instruments have been most carefully selected from the best available in Canada, and we are proud to show them to our friends.

PIANOS

In our Kentville and Wolfville stores we are now showing some really splendid samples of Heintzman and Co. and Sherlock Manning Pianos, in Walnut and Mahogany art finish, also polished and satin finish. In tone quality as well as in appearance, these instruments are unsurpassed.

Special:

We have a real bargain this week in a small Heintzman and Co. Grand. This fine instrument was used at the Opera House, Wolfville, on Monday night in the Provandie Recital.

Player Pianos

We are in a position to offer some particularly fine bargains this month in Player Pianos. No finer instrument is made for home use than a really good Player Piano. If the piano you now have is not being used as it should be, consult us about an exchange.

Included in our stock today are the following Player Pianos: One Heintzman and Co., new, slightly used. One Sherlock Manning, new, slightly used. One Martin Orme, fumed oak case. One Karn, Mahogany, slightly used in demonstration only.

RADIO

There has been a great deal of interest in Radio this week, as the concerts have been more than usually good.

If you have a boy who is interested, let him gratify his ambition by building his own set. We can supply all parts at a small cost, and our supply of Blue Prints give complete details for construction.

There will be a tremendous rush this fall for standard sets, and there will be, no doubt, many delays. Just now we can install quickly, and can give better service than later.

Phonographs

With the new instruments now arriving, we are about ready to show our complete fall line:

EDISON BRUNSWICK COLUMBIA

Including the Period and Console models. Our record stock includes the new selections and a good variety of the standard and opera. It is always a pleasure to have you drop in and hear them.

We are now living in our new quarters in Wolfville and appreciate having visitors. If your call is not on business we shall be glad to have you come in just the same. You are invited to use our store as a rest room or a place to meet your friends.
