SIR WILFRID AT GUELPH.

Repeats His Offer of an Increased Preference to the Mother Country.

How the Markets of Canada Have Been Extended Under Liberal Rule.

AN APPEAL TO THE YOUNG MEN.

Speaking at Guelph, Ont., last week. Premier Laurier recalled Joseph Ry-mal's saying, that a she-bear deprived of her cubs is not so ferocious as the Tory party deprived of power. These words had been uttered apropos of the attacks upon Alexander Mackenzie in connection with the steel rail con-tract. The father of lies would not dare to bring any charge of self-seek-ing against that great patriot and statesman, but what the father of lies would not do the Tory party did not hesitate to do at that time.

The Finding of New Markets.

The Finding of New Markets. The Finding of New Markets, of the state of the same is the s A Fugitive Policy. What was the policy of the Opposi-tion? the premier went on to ask. It was fugitive, evanescent, varying with time and circumstances, with latitude and longitude. When it came to the point of affirming or condemning the preference in the House, nothing was heard from that side. In Ontario there was only one Conservative who opposed the preference, Mr. Kendry, the late member for West Peterbor-ough. In Quebec Mr. Casgrain was head saying that the greatest mistake made by the Liberal party was in granting the preference. The Liberal party was not a sectional one, and he would appeal to the young men he saw before him not to listen to men who told a different story in the sev-eral provinces. No Sectionalism. "Ganada cannot build up antion," a preference to British goods. Antici-pations as to the result of that policy had been more than realized, and the exports of Canadian goods to Great Britain, which had been $80,00,000 in 180, rose to $134,000,000 in 1807 Imports rose from $22,000,000 in 180, rose to $134,000,000 in 1807 is $61,000,000. As to the future development of the preference. "The Government of Canada is ready and has declared its intention and had beel seed. Cheers.] We are not all canada first, Canada last, and Canada forever. (Cheers.) My country and your country is the country on the soil of America which is coverd by the shalow of the British flag, and of my out disk that you discard these sec-tional questions. "Be proved of your origin-I am proud of mine-but do not look to the past; but look to the future.

is the case on most ships, single men and single women are quartered in dif-crent parts of the Westernland, and as the young woman wanted to travel with her relatives it was agreed among hem at Liverpool that the young womau was to represent herself as the who also had engaged passage on the steamship. During the trip Mrs. Fay and her nice occupied one cabin and Santon and Fay another. When the vessel reached here, the immigration officials heard of the mat-ter and theatened to deport the couple unless they agreed to be married at once. As the young woman is engag-ed to marry a young man who has arranged to join her in America; and as Stanton is also engaged to another girl, the suggestion of marriage was rejected by both of them. The immi-gration officials would not relent, and fixed Saturday as the day for their de-portation. Mr. Fay immediately en-gaged counsel and an appeal has been taken to Washingto.

sociation Sees Visions. -WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 W. P. Wood, President of the London Corn Trade Association, wa a passenger on the eastbound train yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wood made the trip to the coast and returned with new ideas regard-ing the amount of grain which can be expected from the prairies of north-western Canada. "It is merely a matter of getting the settlers on the land," said Mr. Wood, as the train pulled out, "and it will not be sixty million bushels of wheat you will be raising, but six hun-dred millions. The fertile plains of western Canada will grow the wheat of the world and will enrich you all. All the nations of the earth will seud their products to you in exchange for your wheat and flour. The wheat which can be grown in Canada is the finest in the world, and will always be in demand,"

The matter is no three from difficult, but it seems to me that with the good of ether side in view, and with a determination to find a common ground we can have the boon of mutual preferential trade be-tween Canada and Great Britain. These words may seem strange used in a colony as applied to the present state. But these words, which apply only to an independent state, have been accept-ed in England. P. R. workmen, proceeded, to tear away the bulkhead on Mr. Connell's mill property. This after-noon word came from St. John for Mr. Connell's men to resist the effort to destroy his property and the men promptly turned the hose on the C. P.
