

MAY BE CLOSE RUN FOR JOB.

Think Perhaps Marshall May Not Get It So Easily.

Part of That Property for Park Site
Has Been Sold

For a Quarry, But the City Can Get
It Reasonably.

Although Harry Marshall was unanimously picked in civic circles as the only man who had a chance for the position of Parks Superintendent, it was stated to-day on good authority that the contest might be a little closer than expected when the Parks Commissioners meet this afternoon to deal with the matter. There are ten applications and Mayor Stewart said to-day he felt sure these would all be carefully considered and the qualifications of each applicant inquired into.

Members of the Parks Board and Board of Works yesterday afternoon inspected the piece of property in the southwest end of W. D. Platt was offered the city as a site for a park. They discovered that a piece of the property, about five acres, had been sold to Contractor Stuart for a quarry. Chairman Sweeney thinks that if the city built the road as requested by Mr. Platt, as one of the conditions in connection with the offer, it would simply be giving Mr. Stuart a road to haul stone from the quarry. He considers this part of the ravine one of the prettiest spots in that section. Mr. Platt explained that in selling this land to Mr. Stuart he did so on the understanding that the latter would make a reasonable bargain with the city at any time. There is about 23 acres of the property Mr. Platt has offered the city and Chairman Sweeney thinks it is a very valuable piece of land. The Board will deal definitely with the offer at its next meeting.

Although it was announced yesterday by officials of the Waterworks Department that the sanducker would be boached by last night for repairs, City Engineer Barrow explained to-day that the sucker was still in the water. The water has been raised several inches over the middle road and he intends keeping it this way so that the sucker can be beached and floated as may be found necessary. Some of the machinery has already been taken out for repairs and since this has been done Mr. Barrow says the dredge does not leak. Ald. Jutten, he says, explains that there would be less strain on the sucker in the water than on dry land.

Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer, said to-day that he expected to raise the quarantine on the Birch avenue house where a smallpox patient is confined, in the course of a day or so. The woman has completely recovered. The other smallpox case, which is being treated in the isolation hospital, in the west end, is doing nicely.

The Board of Hospital Governors yesterday afternoon decided to ask the City Council to close up Copeland avenue which runs easterly from Wellington street and becomes a dead end, the hospital owning the ground on each side. It is not expected that there will be any objection to the request.

The Hospital Board decided yesterday to pay an account of $133.33 to A. M. McKenzie for glass installed in the new wing. In the original specifications double diamond glass was called for, but this was later amended to plate. Mr. McKenzie tendered before the change was made, and was fully entitled to be paid.

John Storton was granted a permit this morning for two brick houses on Wilson street, between Sanford avenue and Storton avenue, to cost $4,000.

The amount knocked off on appeals in Ward 1 this year was $4,015 less than last year, when the total number of appeals allowed in that ward amounted to $12,350.

City Engineer Jones, of Brantford, is here to-day in connection with the application being made by the Brantford & Hamilton Company before the railway Board.

G. T. R. CHANGES.

Mr. W. D. Kennedy, who is at present master mechanic of the middle division of the G. T. R., will shortly take the appointment as superintendent of motive power on the Vermont Central Railway, with offices at Albany. Mr. James Markey, master mechanic at Allandale, will probably be promoted to fill the vacancy, and the latter's successor is likely to be Mr. J. Donnelly, master mechanic of the Canada Atlantic division.

OTHERS WILL GO.

Rome, Oct. 30.—The virtual excommunication of the Rev. Father Tyrrell, the English Jesuit, who severely criticized the Pope's recent encyclical on modernism, will, it is said, probably be followed by the adoption of similar measures against German, Italian and French modernists.

STEAMER BURNED.

Tobermory, Ont., Oct. 30.—The steamer City of Grand Rapids was totally destroyed by fire at the dock here last night. The cause of the fire is not known. The crew are safe. There was only a small insurance on the boat.

DECLARED OFF.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 30.—The strike of the local telegraphers, which began on Aug. 14, was declared off to-day.

A Good Trait.

Admiral Dewey praised a certain successful business man. "Part of his success," said Dewey, "comes from his neat way of getting people to do what he wants them to." "They say that when, as a young fellow of 22, he first opened a little trimming store, he showed this trait." "Thus, if you went in his tiny emporium and asked him if he would change a quarter or a half-dollar for you, he would reply: 'Certainly, madam; and how will you have it? Buttons, ribbon, lace or insertion?'"

Fair-haired people are rapidly diminishing in number in this country. Out of 440 women counted in a London street there were 227 dark to 213 fair or red-haired.

EL REY CHILDREN.

This week's strong attraction at the Alexandra Rink.

EL REY CHILDREN

Made Another Great Hit at Alexandra Rink.

The El Rey children got a great reception at the Alexandra Rink again last night. They are one of the best attractions ever shown here, and the Alexandra Rink management has received many words of praise from their patrons for the little girl skaters, they having created a sensation at both performances given already and established themselves as great favorites in the hearts of all who have seen them. The audience at last night's exhibition demanded four encores, and without a doubt when the public learn of the high character of the performance the rink will do a capacity business. They give three exhibitions on Thanksgiving Day, morning, afternoon and evening, and a special morning performance at 11 o'clock Saturday for the school children, with band in attendance, at regular admission.

CENTRAL LADIES.

Successful Sale of Work Yesterday and Last Night.

The sale of work and afternoon tea given by Central Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society yesterday, was a great success, of course. There is no word failure in their dictionary. The attendance was very large, the number of outsiders proving the popularity of the work of these ladies. Mrs. Lyle and Mrs. Henderson, President of the society, received. The platform was banked with grain, fruit and vegetables, for a Thanksgiving Harvest Home effect, and numerous small tables with artistic covers and dainty bouquets added to the beauty. The sale tables were arranged in a large circle, with a table in the center decorated with mums. A table loaded with home-made candies was presided over by Mrs. W. R. Davis and Miss Alice Davis, and the contents looked so delicious they quickly melted away.

The fancy work table, presided over by Mrs. W. A. Wood and Mrs. Will Henderson, was laden with pretty things. The pictures, dolls, and baby clothes were in charge of Mrs. William Marshall, and included a generous donation of twelve original water colors, in artistic frames, from Mr. Wm. Marshall.

A table of knitted and crocheted articles, shawls, scarfs, slippers, etc., was presided over by Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. Sedgewick, and Mrs. James Dickson. Mrs. Fenwick and Mrs. J. L. Lewis had a table of aprons, towels, etc. All the prices were so reasonable nearly everything was sold.

Mrs. George Rutherford and Mrs. Frank L. Davis presided over the tea, assisted by Misses Katharine Brown, Leila Kirkbride, Marguerite Evel, Elsie Sutherland, and Marguerite Fenwick. Mrs. John G. Gauld served the ice cream. An informal programme added to the pleasure of the afternoon. Solos were sung by Mrs. H. V. Cann, Misses Eugenia Gibson and Gladys Marshall. Mrs. Cann and Miss Gladys played piano solos, and Misses Beatrice and Gladys Marshall played a piano duet.

Mrs. George Lowe, the Secretary, was a general helper.

The receipts were about $125, with more to come in. The next work of these energetic ladies will be the annual Scotch luncheon on Dec. 5 and 6.

CANADIAN CLUB.

Will Discuss Method of Electing Aldermen Next.

At the next Canadian Club meeting the question of whether Hamilton aldermen should be elected from the city at large or from wards, will be discussed. The meeting will be held in the lecture hall of the Conservatory of Music on Monday evening, Nov. 11th, and representatives of various city organizations, as well as some of the aldermen, will be on hand to declare themselves. Club members can bring friends, if they wish, as the fortnightly talks are open. Considerable interest is being taken in this subject just now, in view of the approaching civic elections, and this is really the first opportunity the people of Hamilton have had for expressing their views. The meeting will take the form of a debate, and promises to be quite important. The several young men's clubs about the city have some particularly good speakers among them, and are doing a good work.

WANTED TO DIE.

Said Good-bye, But Cup Was Knocked From Her Hand.

Buffalo, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary Jacobs, 23 years old, living at 120 Mortie avenue, attempted to take her life by swallowing Paris green last night.

It was reported to the police that she believed a woman unknown to her was alienating her husband's affections, and denials of this by friends and reassurance from Jacobs did not relieve her mind.

She mixed a quantity of Paris green early last night, and said good-bye to her family.

The cup was knocked from her hand, and Patrolman Louis Bloom, of the Seneca street police station, was called. He arrested the woman on a charge of attempting suicide.

London has over 1,000 post offices, and the mail delivery amounts to 727,000,000 pieces per year.

EVIDENCE WAS NOT STRONG.

But a Bad Gang Seems to be Broken Up.

No Evidence Against Fred Anderson
Accused of Arson.

Other Cases Before the Police
Magistrate To-day.

Arthur Hudson, vag., one year in Central; William G. Tomlinson, vagrancy and stealing brass, remanded for examination for physical defects, and committed for trial, respectively; William Doyle, vag., remanded for evidence; John Nevills, receiving stolen hides, dismissed.

The above was the disposition of the quartette which the police rounded up last week, all suspected of stealing hides from a T. H. & B. car. Hard work was experienced in getting this gang rounded up, and then not enough evidence of their guilt could be gathered to make it worth while charging them with the theft. Hudson and Tomlinson were called off first and pleaded not guilty to vagrancy. The detectives and several policemen stated that they were hangers around the market and were constant companions of a gang of thieves and were out on deferred sentence themselves for theft.

Hudson did not wish to be sworn, he said, and the Magistrate told him he had and would have to go to jail for one year.

Tomlinson, being sworn, stated that while working some time ago he had his back strained, and was unable to work now. The Magistrate remanded him to the jail for a few days, till the Medical Health Officer examines his back.

Doyle was then accused of being a vag and associating with thieves and never working. He pleaded not guilty through M. J. O'Reilly. The police and detectives gave similar evidence against him to that of the other two.

Doyle took the stand and declared that he had worked at three places lately. He was remanded till Friday to give him a chance to get evidence as to character and to show by his employers where he had been working of late. He was allowed out on his own recognizance, as the Magistrate did not wish him to get skilful on Thanksgiving Day.

Nevills was called next, and the Crown Attorney announced that there was no evidence. He was acquitted and allowed to go.

Tomlinson was then arraigned on a charge of stealing brass in April last from the G. T. R. He pleaded not guilty and elected to go to a higher court. He stated before the case was gone on with that he was arraigned on that charge in the Police Court in August, when he was judged as a vag and that he was acquitted. The Crown Attorney was positive he had not, however, and the case went on. It was shown that Tomlinson and a man named James Marshall went to Weinberg's second hand store on James street south and sold 186 pounds of brass. Some of it had G. T. R. marks on it, and a lot of it had the marks chiselled off. Tomlinson had nothing to state in rebuttal and was committed for trial.

Fred Anderson, remanded till to-day on a charge of having set fire to White day, was up this morning, and acquitted, as the evidence against him was very tottery. A. M. Lewis pleaded not guilty for him. Joe Gribbin said that he was passing White's and saw the defendant in front of the place in a rig. He stopped and spoke to him about the fire at the co-operative store in the morning, and had stood there a few minutes when he saw the fire in White's, at the back of the building. He told Anderson, who hurried out of the rig and, opening the door, told the witness to call the department, while he went back and shut the cellar door to keep the flames down. He said Anderson called the firemen into the building and saw him helping to put out the fire. Chief DonEvoy, first Assistant Chief James and Captain Gilbert all gave evidence, but could not explain how the fire started, nor could they connect the defendant with it in any way. The manager of White & Co's head office in Toronto, W. H. Descourt, by request, he said it was customary to go to the store on Sunday and take a look around, and Anderson, being the local manager, had a perfect right to be there.

The Magistrate said that he could see no evidence on which to send the defendant to trial, and accordingly acquitted him.

William Thornton, Barton, charged with being a vag, was told that he would be sent down if he applied for lodgings at the station house four nights a week. This is what he has been doing.

Thomas Landers, 88 Ashley street, was given the decision in a case of wages brought against him by Ed. Near. The amount was $2.

William Davis, 228 John street north, was fined $2 for being drunk.
