Thousands of People Hemmed in by Floods in Missouri.

Eight Feet of Water in One Street -Much Damage Done.

Kansas City, Mo., July 9.—Daybreal out the flood-stricken districts of Mir souri and Kansas. Thousands of peopt-along the Missouri Raver, the Gran River in Missouri and the Marais River in Kansas, who had been forced to take refuge in upper storeys from the rising waters, awoke after a night filled with terror lest the flood would wash away the foundations of their homes. Besides the foundations of their homes. Besides great damage to unharvested crops and the washing away of property, the flood is causing much suffering to many farm people, who are manooned in remote and inaccessible spots. Several relief trains sent out from Kansas City and other points were unable to reach their destination and boats loaded with food and other supplies, which had put out to go to the rescue, were forced back by the swirling current. A call for relief sent out from Pattonsburg says conditions there are hourly growing worse. Main street is eight feet deep in rushing water. Three-fourths of the people there have lost everything they owned.

The proposition to cut the size of the council down to twelve aldermen will likely be vigorously opposed in the council. Some of the aldermen have already expressed themselves against it.

The tiger made his first appearance on February 18 at the camp of Surveyor Gopal Singh, when it is said to have sprung upon the surveyor and one of his khalasis, who were seated alongside of each other while the evening meal was being cooked. For some reason not known the tiger did not touch either of the men and disappeared as suddenly as it had come, but the men were so alarmed that after spending a sleepless night they moved their camp to that of Surveyor Amar Singh, about four miles off. On February 21, however, the same tiger, presumably, attacked the campagain, seizing a ghalasi who was washing his cooking pots in a stream not twenty yards from the camp.
